"RESPECTABLE" DRINKING PLACES

Of course every drug store should be allowed a license to sell liquor-beg pardon, every drug store whose proprietors will not abuse the privilege The use of liquor is often necessary in cases of illness, and it is quite proper that the right to sell it should be granted to those who sell other drugs and medicines, -laudanum arsenic, vitrol, etc.; but we doubt if it is right for any of these establishments to be turned into genteel saloons. That, however, is exactly what some of them are, if current reports can be believed. There are drug stores in some cities into which respectable ladies hesitate to enter, because of the reputation the establishments bear as places for tippling. There rare some which become a rendezous for young men, bright, able young men, who would not frequent a saloon, but who form at the drug store the tippling habit that clings to them and often causes their ruin. A place for social drinking the drug store should not be.

MR DANIEL ROSS, of 9 Sullivan Street

Cured of Lung and Throat Trouble by Dr. Freeman, of 105 Franklin St. A Positive Guarantee.

The symptoms of Bronchial Catarrh and Conumption are sometimes almost identical. There s loss of flesh and appetite, extreme weakness, pains in the chest and a severe cough, but a phyician, a thorough specialist in the treatment of catarrh, can easily perceive the distinctive teatures and apply such appropriate remedies as will insure a most rapid recovery. Many cases of Catarrhl Bronchitis eventually terminate in consumption if neglected or improperly treated by incompetent physicians. Doctors engaged in general practice invariably fail in the treatment of these cases from the fact that they have neither the time nor the inclination to thoroughly master the sub-ect. The case of Mr. Daniel Ross, whose portrait appears above, clearly emphasizes this fact. He took the advertised nostrums and prescriptions of ordinary physicians, but none gave any relief The result of his visit to Dr. Freeman's Medica Institute, 105 Franklin St., 18 told as follows "Fo several years I noticed that I was taking cold very

I could scarcely swallow and the tickling in the throat made me cough almost incessantly. Pains in the chest were so severe I could not take a long breath. I became very weak and was unable to work. In this condition I con-sulted Dr. Freeman, and it was astonishing how rapidly I improved under his treatment. His sys-tem is mild, painless, and relief is given imme-diately. I heartily recommend it to those simi-larly affected. I live at 9 Sullivan St., and will be pleased to see any one desiring to know more my case.

Dr. Freeman has so much confidence in his system, and has met with such wonderful success in curing Catarrh that he un-hesitatingly answers "I will." He, however, recognizes the fact that there are some cases so far advanced toward consumption that his treat-ment will not cure. This he will not accept. If your case is curable he will take it—if incurable he will refuse to accept you for treatment. If he accepts you and by any possibility fails to cure you he will refund all money paid him.
