EMIN PASHA.

Little Remains of the Great African Explorer Dead.

BURKINA, May 27.—Letter received from Rasid Ben Mohamed, the governor of Stanley Falls, leaves little doubt that Emin Pasha, the noted explorer is dead.

The letter says that an Arab chief, named Said Ben A bed, in journeying towards Uganda and Wadela, met Emin Pasha and his expedition in a hostile manner.

A severe battle ensued, and the fighting lasted for three days. The troops of Emin Pasha made a determined stand, but were outnumbered and finally forced to give way.

Emin Pasha and his followers were defeated and took to flight. Said Ben A bed and his victorious followers overtook Emin and captured and killed him together with all his people. The story is generally credited here.

IMMIGRATION MATTERS.

Condition of Foreign Seaports as Reported by Dr. Wheeler.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Dr. William A. Wheeler, head of the Marine hospital service on Ellis island, who was recently sent abroad to inspect the seaports from whence large shipments of immigrants are likely to be made, has written a letter to Immigration Commissioner Senner.

Dr. Wheeler says he has visited Bremen and found it free of any contagious disease. The condition of Hamburg seems to occasion him some uneasiness for he writes that there are large numbers of immigrants housed there in barracks, who come from Russia, Austria, Hungary and Southern Europe, en route to America and many of whom are extremely filthy.

The barracks in which these people are confined, pending medical examination, contain accommodation for 1,000 people, and are never empty. So far there is no disease epidemic in Hamburg, but Dr. Wheeler states that the people are very uneasy, fearing a repetition of the sad time of a year ago. There has not been a case of cholera in Hamburg since March last.

RAUM'S ORDER REPEALED.

One of the Most Important Pension Decisions Ever Made.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A pension decision has been filed which is said to be the most important ever sent from the office of the secretary of the interior to the commissioner of pensions. It is believed by those high in authority in the pension bureau that it will reduce the payment of pension under the act of June 27, 1890, between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. It involves the repeal of an order made by General Raum and approved by Assistant Secretary Bussey, and a return to the language of the statute requiring the disability not of service origin to be such as to prevent the applicant from earning a support by manual labor.

PRESUMABLY FOR DISSECTION.

Four Bodies of Children Found on a Roof.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The police were notified that there was a dead child on the roof of the house at 48 West Thirty-sixth street.

The matter was investigated and on the roof four bodies of children from 1½ to 12 years of age were found. The bodies were badly mutilated. The children had evidently been dead some time.

Dr. Elliott lives in the house and to the police he said that the bodies had been put there by his son, who had the bodies for the purpose of dissection.

The police are now investigating the case.

Methodists Favor a Boycott.

BOSTON, May 30.—The Methodist clergy, representing this city and the suburbs, at a meeting here unanimously adopted the following:

Whereas, The directors of the World's fair at Chicago have opened the gates of the exposition on the Lord's day, thereby repudiating their agreement with the national government, disobeying the laws of congress and desecrating the Lord's day; therefore, Resolved, First, that we respectfully request all our societies and agents to promptly withdraw their exhibits from the fair; second, that we request all our people to keep away from the fair. The church of God must have no connection with dishonesty, anarchy and Godlessness.

Tragic End of a Quarrel.

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 25.—Mrs. Mettie Mario, living near Fort Howard, was killed by her husband, John Mario. The couple had quarreled and Mrs. Mario applied for a divorce. This so enraged her husband that he killed her, almost covering the head from the body with a butcher's cleaver. A posse started out in pursuit of him as soon as the murder was discovered and about noon found his body hanging to a tree, shot through the head. He had committed suicide.

Dr. Graves Liberated.

DENVER, May 30.—Dr. T. Thatcher Graves, convicted last year of the murder of Mrs. Josephine Barnaby of Providence, R. I., is a free man for the first time in two years. Yesterday he appeared before Judge Burns on a motion for a new trial. The court set the new trial for June 14 and fixed the doctor's bail at $50,000. Judge Macon, the doctor's attorney, signed the bond, and the prisoner walked from the courtroom a free man. There is no expectation that the second trial will ever be held.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—People evidently do not tire of the Briggs case, notwithstanding the technical and often wearisome features of the argument.

The third day of the famous trial attracted an audience that left no spare room in the church, and the 800 odd commissioners in whose hands the fate of the defendant rests, sat through the eight and a quarter hours that the assembly was in session with unflagging interest and attention. Professor Briggs concluded his argument, having occupied all but 20 minutes of the seven hours allotted to him by the judicial committee.

His voice gave way under the great and sustained strain to which he had been subjected, despite the assistance given by Professor Brown in reading portions of the record and extracts from his work, and towards the close he spoke with evident effort and husky voice. The prosecution, also concluded its case, with a credit of 20 minutes time. The evening session was given over to the members of the New York Presbytery, and a vote on the appeal was taken at 10 o'clock.

The Jesuit fathers connected with St. Francis Xavier's church, New York, give a record of 125 conversions to the Catholic faith during the past year.

The committee on bills and overtures reported a form of deliverance in explanation of the deliverance of the Portland assembly on the inspiration of the Bible as a substitute for the one submitted last Saturday. It was clearer and more condensed than the former document and affirmed the declaration of the assembly of 1892.

Upon the introduction of a resolution by Rev. Royal Y. Graham of Philadelphia of loyalty and honor to the memory of the soldier dead, Elder Spencer of St. Louis raised the point of order that it was not warranted by the authority under which the assembly sat and could not therefore be entertained.

Moderator Craig overruled the point and Mr. Spencer endeavored to appeal but could not find a single second and the resolution was adopted.

A Briggs Story From Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—It is learned from authentic sources that Professor Briggs now on trial at Washington on the charge of heresy, has been corresponding with E. D. Morris of Lane seminary concerning the best method of forming a new church. Dr. Briggs wants to raise the banner of a new theology.

Professor Morris has replied to the letter attempting to discourage the scheme. He told Briggs that very few Presbyterian ministers would desert to a new standard.

The movement has not been squelched, however, as it is known that four well known liberal Presbyterians in Cincinnati have gone to Washington with the avowed intention of assisting Dr. Briggs' new church project.

Professor Briggs Denies It.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—When shown the statement telegraphed from Cincinnati, that he had been in correspondence with E. D. Morris of Lane Seminary, concerning the formation of a new church, Dr. Briggs said: "There is nothing in it," and declined to discuss the subject.

CIRCUS TRAIN WRECKED.

Five Men Killed Outright and Several Others Badly Hurt.

TYRONNE, Pa., May 30.—A special train on the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad, composed of Walter Main's circus cars, got beyond the control of the trainmen yesterday morning, and rushed down the mountain. At the station the train was wrecked and animals, men and broken cars were piled up together.

Several tigers and lions escaped and only after the greatest exertion were they recaptured and then not until one of the tigers had killed several domestic animals in the neighborhood.

Five men were killed outright and 12 or 14 others badly wounded. Some fatally. The circus is a complete wreck and it will take several days to get the property together.

SENSATIONAL CHURCH INCIDENT.

Deafening and Continued Applause Greeted Pastor's Announcement.

CLEVELAND, May 30.—A sensational incident occurred at the Euclid Avenue Presbyterian church here. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Spicer, was defining his position in regard to the errors of the Bible. He declared that he would not be a slave and say that the Scriptures are without error. As this last sentence fell from the speaker's lips the congregation, who had been hanging upon every word with rapt attention, burst out in a mighty storm of handclapping. When it started, no one knew. It came at once from no one quarter in particular and was carried to the remotest corners of the church. It continued unceasingly for nearly a minute.

Martello and Osmond Must Die.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Governor Flower, who has had the cases of Martello and Osmond, the murderers, under consideration for some time, has decided to let the law take its course. Martello is now in the Dannemoor prison and will be killed the first week in June; Osmond is in Sing Sing prison and will be electrocuted the second week in June.

BY LAKE CHAMPLAIN.

BEAUTIFUL SITE OF THE CATHOLIC
SUMMER SCHOOL.

Famous For Historical Incidents and the Grandeur of Its Natural Scenery—Charming Views and Shady Nooks Make an Ideal Spot For Intellectual Culture.

The Catholic summer school of America has found a permanent home, a beautiful home, in a spot as remarkable for its grandeur of natural scenery as it is famous for its historic incidents. After this session the school will cease to be an itinerant and will settle down to restful, studios life on the west shore of Lake Champlain, New York, where it will, with God's help, endeavor to carry out the aims of its projectors.

Lake Champlain will have a new interest for the Catholics of America now that the first summer school has been established on its shores. To the student of American history this region has always inspired the most profound interest, and to the lover of nature in her visible charms the region is one to inspire genuine delight. On the shores of this lake, on its waters and in the adjacent territory, events have transpired the consequence of which was to have lasting effect on the civilization of our country. Here the two most powerful nations of their time—France and England—contended for supremacy, and to the cruelty of civilized warfare was added the horrible atrocities of their savage allies, the native Indians.

Although the military glory of France was dimmed by this conquest and she lost empire in territorial possessions, her missionaries won a conquest more enduring than that of her victorious enemies in the salvation of countless souls by their zeal for the glory of God and his church.

All this region is sacred ground, sanctified by the martyrdom of the heroic band of Jesuits who converted the Hurons and Algonquians and the still more fierce and savage Iroquois.

The amount of land acquired by the institution is 450 acres, at least 60 acres of which are bluff of the high bluff. At one point the bluff rises almost perpendicular from the lake, and again it slopes to the water's edge to the north and forms a beautiful bay, on which is a sand beach equal if not superior to the "singing sand beach" on the hotel shore. This bay is so well sheltered that it makes an excellent harbor for small boats, and the beach affords every advantage for safe and enjoyable bathing. The property contains three-fourths of a mile on the lake front and extends back from the lake about twice that distance. There are fine groves on the land—the bluff particularly being thickly wooded—and many charming views and delightful nooks unknown to the public.

The position of the land is admirably adapted for the uses of the school and can be developed with ease. To form a picture of what may be done in landscape improvement one has only to look at the grounds of Hotel Champlain. Here is ample room and charming sites for lecture hall, class buildings, chapel, hotels, cottages, pavilions; also for parks, courts for games, lawns, drives and walks; retreats for study, reading and reflection and quiet conversation. Here, in short, is an ideal spot to foster intellectual culture in harmony with true Christian faith, while at the same time combining healthful recreation and profitable entertainment.

Here, then, in this modern classic school we may picture representative Catholic gatherings assembled to hear the teachings of truth in all branches of higher education by teachers whose position and reputation will be a guarantee of sound Catholic and philosophical instruction. Here we may meet men and women distinguished in every walk of life; men of high ecclesiastical dignity; men eminent in professional and business life. Here we may meet the priest, the lawyer, the doctor, the scientist, the student, the journalist, the author, the philosopher, the teacher in public and parochial schools, the merchant, the industrious of every avocation, seeking rest and relaxation for overtaxed powers of mind and body or a greater proficiency to fit them for more intelligent action in their different callings, living in cordial fellowship, fostering and strengthening bonds of union and sympathy to intelligently and harmoniously cope with error and calumny.

Here may be held conferences to devise plans for improving auxiliary church work, in reading circles and all literary movements, for charitable aid societies and homes. Here also may be held reunions and the enjoyment of friendly intercourse among the different associations. And may we not see here the realization of Right Rev. Bishop Messmer's suggestion that the uncluttered teaching orders of sisters shall partake of the advantages of the school and keep informed of the latest and most approved methods in educational work? Would not such a delightful retreat for health and recreation prove a boon for our overworked sisters? And may not thousands of the tens of thousands of tourists who pass over this world renowned route be attracted to linger among the classic shades of the summer school and listen to the eminent Catholic scholars who will lecture on the various important questions in the different departments of knowledge that engage public attention?—Catholic Educational Review.

Archbishop Ryan to Deliver the Oration.

Sept. 2 has been named as Catholic educational day at the World's fair, and special ceremonies are to be held at Chicago that day in which Archbishops Feehan and Ryan and Bishops Spalding and Ryan of Alton will participate. Archbishop Ryan is to be the orator of the occasion, as he always is called upon whenever an eloquent presentation of the Catholic position is to be made, and it is needless to add that his address will be well worth hearing.—Exchange.
