LAST WEEK'S PASTORAL

The pastoral issued by our Rt.
Rev. Bishop, part of which was published in last Saturday's JOUR-NAL, is in one respect different from the many which the head of this diocese has written since the commencement of his labors here, a quarter of a century ago.

Within these twenty-five years he has as becomes a Bishop of God's Church responsible for the spiritual interests committed to his care—addressed words of warning, advice and instruction to his friends and people. We believe this is the first occasion on which he has introduced a reference to his own personality. In this last pastoral the people learn something of the feelings entertained toward them by their Bishop of his deep love for them; his wishes for their welfare; his appreciation of kindness and fidelity on their part. They learn also what are his own desires and how they can best please and delight him.

Beautiful St. Bernard's, wherein will be educated the future priests of the diocese, is the joy of our Bishop's declining years.
For that he makes an appeal.
We are confident that his words will be heeded by the many, now grown to manhood and womanhood, who have received the Holy Sacrament of Confirmation at his hands, and heeded too, by the older generations who have witnessed his labors since the day he came among us.

It will be a glorious tribute to the generosity of the Catholics of this diocese if on the 20th day of August next St. Bernard's Seminary, including furniture and all, is entirely paid for.

THE BEAUTIFUL.

Teach your children to love and appreciate the beautiful—the truly beautiful. It will be a powerful aid in leading them towards God. God himself is more beautiful than all His works.
Him we can never hope to see until the brightness of eternal morning dawns for us after a well spent life here below, but there is beauty all around us if we will but open our eyes to look upon it. There is a something heavenly in these June mornings, the rosy dawn, the flower-scented air, the emerald hue of lawn and vegetable and foliage. Teach your children to appreciate all these things. There is a sermon in every rose that unfolds its petals to the warm June-day sun, as well as in the star-studded firmament at night. Cause your little ones to hearken to their eloquence. Cultivate in your boys and girls the love of a fine view, of grand scenery. By so doing you place them in the school of Nature—the grand teacher. You furnish them a source of delight which will endure though in after life they become penniless. They will learn to despise the low, the base. Teach them above all to Look through Nature

Up to Nature's God.

THIS IN ROCHESTER.

We often hear of the heartlessness of employers, and are ready to believe distressing accounts of the fraud and cruelty practiced upon helpless men, women and children obliged to labor for their daily bread, but generally these things happen in localities far distant from us. Nevertheless, similar cases occur within our own city probably oftener than we imagine. The fact that only in rare instances is publicly given to them renders them all the more harmful. If the light could be turned upon employers who deceive and misuse their employees, the latter would sooner obtain justice.

An instance of the kind referred to came under the notice of the writer recently, and in the hope that its publication will do some good we briefly narrate the circumstances.

A young girl who has only her own exertions to depend upon, in the hopes of bettering herself accepted a position with a manufacturer whose business is quite extensive, and left the position which she had occupied for some time.

Her new employer said nothing in regard to keeping back her honestly earned wages when she applied for the position, but she had been in his employ only a very short time when she was obliged to walk home on Saturday evening without a cent of the money she had earned and calculated on. This took place not for one week only, but for at least three consecutive weeks, the only satisfaction given her being the promise of better treatment in the future.

As we have said the young lady has only herself to depend upon.
She must pay her board and other expenses or trust to the kindness of her friends. The man whom she works for does a good business. In all justice, do not his employees have the first claim upon such money as he may realize from his business?

And this distressing incident takes place right here in Rochester.

THE RELIGIOUS PRESS

A convention of the religious press, embracing representatives of religious papers from the different denominations, was held in Chicago recently. There was one Catholic essay, that written by Katherine E. Conway, of the Boston Pilot, and read by a Protestant clergyman. Miss Conway writes:

The ideal religious journal is a family journal, too; and the Christian household needs some medium of religious information other than that which sets before us the details of some great church function, still minute details of every contemporary scandal, murder and suicide in high life and low.

The ideal religious journal does not restrict itself to purely religious topics. As commentator and counselor for the Christian household, every subject of legitimate human interest is within its province.

The ideal American religious journal shows forth on its every page the Christianity of true democracy.

CONDUCT AT FUNERALS.

A practice, wholly unworthy of Catholics, is becoming noticeable among those who attend the funerals of co-religionists. It is that of coming to church without prayer book, and, consequently, failing to show that respect and attention which the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass should always command. A reverend friend informs us that pall bearers are usually among the offenders. The practice is not only morally injurious to the negligent Catholics, but also gives a bad impression to non-Catholics who usually are present in considerable numbers at funerals, if at no other time.

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

A reduction of one full fare and a third to the Catholic Summer School can be obtained of nearly all railroads, including those which enter this city. A circular just received gives these directions:

SUMMARY.

Make your preparations to attend the Catholic Summer School.

Call on the railroad ticket agent of your city or town who represents the line over which you intend to travel and inquire whether he has the necessary instructions and certificates to ticket you through to Plattsburgh. Call several days in advance, so that the agent may have time to procure certificates, etc., if he should not be supplied.

On the day of your departure present yourself at the ticket office at least thirty minutes before the departure of the train in order to give the agent time to fill out certificate, which you will sign and keep.

Pay full fare going.

Upon arrival at Plattsburgh hand your certificate to the Secretary of the Summer School, whose office will be found in the Plattsburgh Opera House. Hand in your certificate as soon after your arrival as you can conveniently do so. The Secretary will issue it properly signed and returned to you.

When ready to take your departure from Plattsburgh, present your certificate at the station of the same railroad by which you arrived and you will receive a return ticket at one-third the amount you paid on going, if you have certificates of Trunk Line or Boston Passenger Committee; and at three-fifths the amount on Central Traffic certificates.

Headquarters are established to supply information concerning the Catholic Summer School in three places. Write to Warren E. Most-er, Youngstown, Ohio, for lecture tickets and railroad rates. Ticket for full course, 42 lectures, $5; ticket for ten lectures, $2.

On matters relating to Board of Studies, write to Rev. Thomas Mc-Millan, 415 West 59th Street, New York City.

For Boarding Arrangements, write to William J. Burleigh, Secretary of Local Committee, Plattsburgh, N. Y.

Board, $5 a week and upwards.
Any other arrangements than contained in this circular must be made independent of the Catholic Summer School Association. Therefore, several or more persons desiring to travel together to the Summer School from any point, and who desire other rates than herein advertised, will be obliged to make their own arrangements.

SOCIETIES MEET NEXT WEEK.

Mon.—Br. 58, 81. Tues.—Br. 12, 82, 139 Wed.—117, 131.

For the past few weeks Brother Martin Tobin has been wearing one of those smiles which proceed from the consciousness of a good deed well done. One of the members of Branch 93 had been suspended for non-payment of assessments. While under suspension a member of Branch 93 was taken ill and on the regular meeting night his relatives sent to the Branch a sum covering all back dues and assessments. This the financial secretary refused to accept, on the ground that the assessment which had just been issued but on which the time had not expired must be paid before the suspended member could be reinstated. Bro.
Tobin paid this assessment for the suspended member and the latter was reinstated. Next day he died. Through Bro. Tobin's thoughtfulness the surviving relatives are $2,000 richer. Grand President Kinney has ruled that a suspended member cannot be reinstated until all assessments are paid including the one which has been issued but on which the time has not expired. Members should remember this as it is an important point.

C. R. & B. A.

The Catholic Relief and Beneficiary Association has been spreading very rapidly of late in this city as well as elsewhere. Many new Councils are being organized, several with a very large list of charter members. The Relief branch is attracting many and is proving itself a very valuable feature. Persons desiring information can receive the same from Wm.
Boyle, 432 North St. Paul street, city.
A large meeting of members is expected Tuesday, June 13, at Council 18, when a number of candidates are to be initiated.

A Card.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 2, 1893.

To BRANCH 104, L. C. B. A.

Dear Friends—Please accept our thanks for the very prompt payment of the policy of our dear daughter, Margaret M. Doran. We trust that your noble organization may long live and prosper and continue the good work it is now doing. Again accept our sincere thanks, and best wishes. Very truly yours, MR. and MRS. WM. DORAN, 22 Ward St., Rochester, N. Y.

Farewell Reception.

A pleasant reception was held on Wednesday evening at 66 Hudson avenue, the home of Mr. Henry La-Casse, who sails from New York today on a business trip which will include England, Ireland, France and Belgium, and will last two months.
Many friends attended the reception and wished Mr. LaCasse a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

Parliamentary Pointer.

The above is a neat little volume designed for the vest pocket, containing all the rules of ordinary parliamentary practice, so arranged as to admit of ready reference while a question is before a meeting and requiring an immediate solution. This can not be said of any other book on parliamentary law. All others seem to have been designed more for study than for use in assembly work.

The different phases of this subject (of which every man thinks he knows considerable, and yet very few know more than enough to lead them into blunders), are carefully classified, and in many cases the same point is repeated under different headings, thus furnishing immediately the desired information. By a unique system of easily learned abbreviations the whole subject is brought into a space that can be readily concealed in an ordinary sized hand. To any member of any society, open or secret, the "Parliamentary Pointer" is worth its weight in gold. It is published by Thos. J. Crowe, Detroit, Mich. Price by mail in flexible cloth cover, only ten cents.—Fraternal Tidings.

It is an error to suppose that Drunkness, Morphine and Tobacco Habit cannot be cured. The Double Chloride of Gold is known to be a positive antidote for these habits, or rather diseases, and the wonderful cures effected through its agency have given the remedy a national reputation. Until recently, the "Gold Treatment" was only given at expensive sanitariums, but at the present time it can be had of any first-class druggist. Hill's Chloride of Gold Tablets are guaranteed to cure any case of Drunkness, Morphine or Tobacco Habit, and no effort whatever is required from the person taking them. The use of Tobacco, Liquor or the Drug is permitted until such time as they are voluntarily given up. These Tablets may also be given without the knowledge of the patient, and a permanent cure is sure to follow their use. The price of the Tablets—$1.00—certainly places them within the reach of all.
If your druggist does not keep them write for full particulars to the Ohio Chemical Co., Lima, Ohio.

Everybody Pleased.

On all sides are heard expressions of approval of the Nickel Plate Road's new train service which went into effect on Sunday, May 28th.
Three fast trains are now running in each direction daily, and "daily" in this case means seven days a week. Superb dining cars and through sleepers to and from New York, Chicago and Boston form part of the new equipment of the Nickel Plate road.

Four Cardinals in Ireland.

Four cardinals were present at the consecration of St. Mel's cathedral Longford, Ireland, on May 23. Cardinal Logue presided, Cardinal Moran of Australia preached the sermon, Cardinal Vaughan of Westminster pronounced the benediction, and Cardinal De Rude of Benevento sat in the sanctuary.

to take a—little roast beef (aside); but,
God knows, I ast fer fish.—Truth.

Italians in New York.

The Italians have two very large parishes in New York. The Church of the Most Precious Blood was founded only a few years ago, but it has a membership of 25,000, making probably the largest congregation in this country. Another parish, that of St. Joachim, has 15,000.

Catholic Notes.

The Most Rev. Sebastian Wyart, the new superior general of the Trappists, presented to the holy father a few days ago a special offering from General Char-ette and the ex-Pontifical zones. Father Wyart himself was formerly a member of the papal army.

To Mgr. Bannard, rector of the Catholic university of Lille, France, has been entrusted the writing of the life of Cardinal Lavergne.

The Manning memorial fund of England has reached the handsome proportions of $32,000.

A grand nephew of Leo XIII, Mgr.
Coletti, D. D., is a priest of the Australian diocese of Melbourne.

The appointment Mgr. Agliardi to be nuncio to Austria and Mgr. Alfani to be nuncio to Bavaria is announced.

RIGHT REV. BISHOP KAIN.

Coadjutor to the Archbishop of St. Louis, with Right of Succession.

It has been officially announced that the pope has approved the decision of the sacred college of the propaganda appointing Right Rev. John J. Kain, D. D., Bishop of Wheeling, coadjutor, with the right of succession, to the archbishop of St.
Louis.

Bishop Kain
was born of Irish parents at Martinsburg, Berkeley county, W.
Va., May 31, 1841, and is therefore almost 52 years old. He received his primary education at home and pursued his advanced studies at the preparatory seminary of St. Charles, Elicot county, Md. He studied theology and was prepared for the priesthood at St.
Mary's college, Baltimore, July 2, 1866, by Archbishop John M. Spalding. Father Kain was dispatched to a mission in West Virginia while the people were yet in the throes of the despair which followed the war. He served in West Virginia until he was consecrated Bishop of Wheeling May 23, 1875.

Bishop Kain is a man of strong, determined character, not to be imposed upon. Despite his pioneer career he has found time for study and is a man of ripe learning. His devotion to episcopal duty has kept him so busily employed that comparatively little of that public notoriety or newspaper fame which clusters about other episcopal names is his.
However, when he has been given public notoriety it has been in connection with live topics of the times, and his treatment of them has been pointed, patriotic and of course Catholic.

She Was Presented to the Countess.

Apocryph of Lady Aberdeen, or rather of her husband, a good story is told of a ludicrous mistake made by an old lady, a guest at the reception which signaled the opening of the Irish village at the World's fair. The Countess of Aberdeen had sent out cards bidding a number of people to the reception. They were most of them society people, the creme de la creme. But this old lady was not. In fact, she would scarcely have laid claim to the title of lady. She was not creme de la creme—at all, but plain, honest milk.
The society people came; so did the old lady. The assemblage was rather mixed.
The afternoon was taken up with music, jigs, reels, a solo from the piper, etc.
The old lady was interested, but not satisfied. In the course of the afternoon the crowd in one of the cottages became so great that the passageway was blocked.
The Earl of Aberdeen, who was passing, saw the difficulty and hurried in to remedy matters.

"Please stand aside—please make a passageway here," said his lordship. He looked at the old lady. She looked at him.

"Faith, thin, I won't," said she. Lord Aberdeen, discomfited, turned to the crowd. They all gave way—all but the one old woman, who stood her ground.
She would not budge. Seeing that she blocked the whole passageway, Lord Aberdeen turned to her again, and in his most gracious (and Lord Aberdeen can be very gracious) manner said, "Really, I must ask you to step aside."

At that the old lady flared up, and in a perfect torrent came the words: "Faith, thin, I'll not step aside, not for you nor for nobody. I came out at Lady Aberdeen's express invitation to meet herself, and I've not seen her. And if you're the manager you can take me to her and present me. An if you don't I'll not stir wan foot."

And the Earl of Aberdeen immediately held out his arm. "Certainly, madam, certainly; it will give me great pleasure," said he, and the two sailed off together—the earl with the air of a courtier doing the honors to a princess; the old lady with the air of a woman who had reached the moment of triumph—to the amusement of the crowd.—Boston Pilot.

but roast beef.
McGinnis—Well, I suppose I'll have to take a—little roast beef (aside); but,
God knows, I ast fer fish.—Truth.

Italians in New York.

The Italians have two very large parishes in New York. The Church of the
congregation in this country. Another parish, that of St. Joachim, has 15,000.

Catholic Notes.

new superior general of the Trappists,
ago a special offering from General Char-
ber of the papal army.

entrusted the writing of the life of Cardinal Lavergne.
