

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A GLIMPSE OF THE GREAT WHITE CITY.

Many New Buildings and Exhibits Opened to Public View—Interesting Notes on Things and Persons Connected With the World's Columbian Exposition From Day to Day.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, June 22.—President Palmer and President Higginbotham have joined in a telegram to President Cleveland asking him to instruct the captains of the fleet of caravels, now en route to Chicago, to stop at Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit and Milwaukee in order that citizens of those places who will not be able to visit the exposition will have an opportunity to see them. The caravels are due in Buffalo today.

Strangers are pouring into the city by thousands from every direction and so great is the rush to the World's fair that while in some cases the baggage department forces have been increased threefold and the baggage room in proportion, it is as much as the roads can do to handle the enormous traffic. A distinct feature is the tremendous rush of European travel.

So great is the traffic already that at the Park street, Grand Central, Illinois Central, Union and other big depots, trains are starting in sections of nine to 11 coaches each, as large or larger than the average passenger trains, the sections numbering from two to five. The heaviest rush seems to be from the east and the incoming and the outgoing trains carry about an equal number of people argues that it is a steady World's fair crowd that is being handled.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, June 23.—Members of the council of administration are discussing the advisability of having a 25-cent admission day at the fair and the chances are that the half-rate will be tried a week from next Sunday.

The Eastern trunk lines are now setting an example for the Western roads to follow in the matter of bringing their excursion rates down to a single fare for the round trip, but the Western lines stubbornly refuse to make any concessions to the public.

Newport near Baden near Brighton Beach nor any other famous summer resort was ever more delightfully pleasant than the White City in Jackson park yesterday. There was not a cloud in the sky and the weather was cool and invigorating.

The superintendent of admission last night gave it out as a conservative estimate that the total admission for the day would run above the 150,000 mark. The total attendance for Wednesday was 132,368.

Governor McKinley, Jr., of Ohio, arrived in Chicago and followed the crowd to the fair. It was his first visit to the exposition and he was honored by an informal reception tendered to him by the Ohio commissioners at the state building.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, June 24.—The features of the World's fair at present are the weather and the crowd. It was delightfully cool and bright yesterday and the visitors marched through the gates of the White City like an invading army. In through every gate of the fair they kept coming in solid columns till it almost seemed there must be an exodus from all over the country to Jackson Park. And as soon as the scores of thousands of visitors got inside the gates they began to invade the great white palaces and take in the endless number of interesting sights.

The steady increase in the attendance of visitors at the fair is so rapid and marked that the bureau of admissions is confident the daily average will soon reach the 200,000 mark.

The most conspicuous naval exhibit in the Transportation building is a model of the ill-fated warship Victoria, whose wrecking has been chronicled at the ground. It occupies a commanding position in the main aisle, close to the elevator shaft, and for the special convenience of visitors a double stairway with brass railings has been erected in front of the model. Everything is shown in perfect design and material even to the great torpedo net from stem to stern.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, June 25.—The ceremony of dedicating the New Hampshire State building today was witnessed by an immense crowd.

The proceedings were of a simple nature, and were similar in character to those observed in the dedication of other state buildings.

Many prominent persons, not alone from the Granite state, but distinguished persons from all sections were present and took part in the proceedings.

After appropriate speeches had been made and the key to the building accepted, amid many words of praise for the fine workmanship and exquisite taste displayed in the magnificent edifice, the building was formally thrown open to the public.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, June 26.—The Columbian Excursion company, which holds a leasehold on three World's fair hotels, has made an assignment in favor of Melville C. Eames. The hotels are the Everett, 200 rooms; the Costello, 232 rooms and the Boston, 200. The company was incorporated two years ago with a capital stock of $10,000. The hotels are remodeled apartment houses fitted up for World's fair accommodation. The assets of the company will probably exceed the liabilities, the latter being figured at $30,000. The failure was caused by a lack of patronage. The attorney for the assignee stated that the hotels will continue in business.

The first national convention of Building and Loan Association Managers was called to order at the Art Palace. Twelve states were represented. An address was delivered by President Seymour Dexter of Elmira, N. Y.

The Anthropological building has been opened. It is the last department of the fair to be opened.

Yesterday was Brooklyn's day at the fair, and present celebrating the event. Chief among them were Mayor Boody, Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, W. C. Bryant of the Brooklyn Times and St. Clair McKelway of The Eagle. Then there were societies swelling the numbers, and they had a parade. There was music and speeches, and in the evening the enterprising citizens from staid old Brooklyn wound up their day's celebration with a banquet.

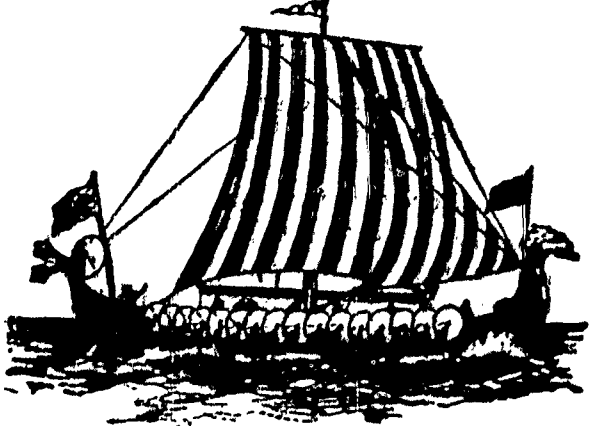

The first of the cowboy races, John Berry on the chestnut Poison, reached the World's fair entrance at 9:30 a. m. He made the last 150 miles of the race in 24 hours. Berry was far ahead of his associates.

Emmet Albright came in second, arriving at 11:15. Albright made the last 150 miles in 34 hours.

OFF FOR THE FAIR.

The Viking Ship Leaves New York For Chicago.

New York, June 27.—The Viking ship left her anchorage at the foot of West Thirty-fourth street last evening and started on her trip to Chicago. She hoisted her red and white square canvas and went sailing up the Hudson without any assistance from a navy yard or any other tug. There was little demonstration beyond a salute from the Mianotomoh and considerable tooting of whistles and dipping of flags from the craft in the river. A party of college boys left on the boat who will help Captain Andersen and his crew to row the vessel in case the big oars are found to come in handy. They came from Yale, Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

DISBANDED FOREVER.

General Weisert Says Farnham Post Can Never Be Reinstated.

New York, June 27.—General Weisert, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who is stopping in this city, said regarding the report that the disbanded Farnham post would seek readmission into the Grand Army of the Republic through the national encampment: "The National Grand Army of the Republic authorities will hear no appeal from the decision of the New York state authorities, by whose order Farnham post was declared to be disbanded. It is not within our jurisdiction. Besides there is no such organization now in existence as Farnham post, so an appeal from them as an organization is out of the question. Even the state authorities could not recognize them as such. There will, I think, be no objection to readmitting them individually, but not as an organization, nor would the same number be allowed to form a new post if they wished to. This Farnham post is disbanded forever."

THE VICTORIA DISASTER.

President Cleveland's Letter of Sympathy and the Queen's Reply.

LONDON, June 27.—The letter of Ambassador Bayard to the queen expressing President Cleveland's sympathy said:

"The secretary of state instructs me to convey to your majesty an expression of the heartfelt sorrow of the president and people of the United States caused by the appalling catastrophe to the warship Victoria.

The queen's letter in reply was as follows:

"I thank you most sincerely for the kind message you conveyed from President Cleveland on the occasion of the terrible catastrophe in the Mediterranean—the loss of the Victoria and so many brave officers and men including a distinguished admiral. Assure the president that I am much touched and most grateful for his kind sympathy on this sad occasion.

Changes at Union College.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 28.—Professor Arthur S. Wright has resigned from the chair of modern languages of Union college and will join the faculty of the Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland. Alfred C. Pepper of Rutgers has been elected assistant professor of modern languages at Union college. Rev. Dr. Raymond presided at the Union Alumni dinner yesterday. Speeches were made by President Webster, Pliny T. Sexton of Palmyra, Professor Robinson of Albany, Cesther Holcomb and William H. McIlroy of New York and Rev. Swallow of Schenectady.

State Press Association.

HERKIMER, N. Y., June 27.—The State Press association will hold its annual meeting at Saranac Lake today. Many members have already arrived here. The party will number 250. They leave here tomorrow by special train on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence railroad, stopping at Trenton Falls for dinner and reaching Saranac Lake at 6:30 p. m. The party will remain there until Saturday. Upon their return they will be entertained at dinner by the business men of Herkimer.

The Campanian's Great Run.

New York, June 26.—Over a course longer by 88 miles than the record track the big Cunarder Campanian, which is now in this port, ploughed through 2,864 miles of water at an average speed of 21.12 knots an hour, the fastest ever maintained on an ocean voyage. The sea was rough for three days, but on four of the five full days at sea the Campanian made more than 500 miles between noon and noon, and on two of them she ran faster and further than any other ship has yet done.

Two Men Crushed to Death.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 28.—George W. Ritter and William Andersen of this city were killed at Roaring Brook, near Crocks Falls. The men were members of a wrecking crew at work on the Chicago express on the Ontario and Western railroad, which was derailed Saturday afternoon. The day coaches and Pullman had fallen over on their sides and the men were working to right them when the jacking gave way crushing Ritter and Andersen to death.

Silver Away Down.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Silver was lower yesterday than ever before, according to official advice received by Acting Mint Director Preston from London. The London price regulates the prices of silver throughout the world and the price there yesterday was 36 pence per ounce or about 78 1/2 cents per ounce United States money, counting in the exchange prices.

Bankers Adopt Resolutions.

CINCINNATI, June 28.—At a conference of the bankers and the board of trade and transportation on the silver question resolutions were adopted favoring an early session of congress, the immediate repeal of the Sherman bill, and the putting of 100 cents of silver in a silver dollar. A majority of the leading bankers of the city were present.

Republican Clubs Meet.

New York, June 27.—The convention of the State League of Republican clubs at Saratoga opened at noon today and will last for two days.

Colored Men in Session.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The Colored Men's National Protective association is now in session here.

HAT WEARING IN CHURCH.

Puritans Unjustly Accused of Beginning This Custom.

On November 7, 1661, Mr. Samuel Pepys went to church and duly noted the fact in his diary, adding, with reference to the sermon that he heard "a simple fellow upon the praise of church musique, and exclaiming against men wearing their hats in the church."

Throughout the seventeenth century this wearing of head-gear by men in church was a much-vexed question. The evidence on the subject is rather conflicting, but it would seem to have been largely the practice for men to remain uncovered throughout the church service, but to put their hats on during the sermon.

The Puritans have often been charged with the introduction of this custom, but there is little doubt that it was in vogue before the name "Puritan" was heard of. Early in the seventeenth century many of the clergy began to attack the custom and to plead for a more reverent and becoming behavior in church.

Dr. Donne, dean of St. Paul's, when preaching at St. Dunstan's spoke very strongly on the subject and hinted that if the offenders would not listen to his admonitions other measures might be resorted to.

"I presume," he said, "that no man will misinterpret this that I say here now; nor, if this may not prevail, misinterpret the service of our officers, if their continuing in this unbecoming manner give our officers occasion to warn them of that personally in the place, whensoever they see them stray into the unbecoming negligence."

INSECT WAYS.

Some of the Enemies That Attack the Dreaded Tarantula.

Interesting anecdotes are given of the dangerous little creature called the tarantula. Formidable as it is, it has enemies fully able to hold their own against it.

One of them is the centiped, which, armed with its deadly sting, can make vigorous combat with the tarantula. A fight between them, which is of frequent occurrence, nearly always ends in favor of the tarantula. Before the centiped can reach it, it makes its spring, and kills instantly with the poison of its fangs—for fangs the tarantula may be said to have. The ends of its two long forelegs are armed with fangs very much like a serpent's. But the tarantula has one enemy, which, as the boys express it, is "too much for him." This is a giant wasp, known as the tarantula hawk, which is as much larger than the ordinary wasp as the tarantula is larger than the ordinary spider.

Like the common wasp, the tarantula hawk finds in the tarantula the food it wishes to lay up for its unhatched young. This food must be alive always, not dead, else the young will not eat it. Still, while it retains life, it must be incapable of motion.

So the tarantula hawk watches its opportunity, and with a sudden dart is down upon its unsuspecting enemy. The poison from its sting instantly paralyzes, not kills, the tarantula, and in this helpless condition it is borne away and packed into the cell where the wasp's eggs are deposited.

About the Chrysoprase.

The chrysoprase, which has been spoken of as a fashionable gem, is a species of agate which is semi-transparent. It is found in a natural state chiefly in Silesia. It is not a new stone, but has been known for centuries. There is a chapel in Prague where the entire walls are inlaid with it. The color of chrysoprase is a pale, yellow green. It has been quite successfully imitated in ordinary agate, so that the price of the stone is comparatively low. It is the apostolic stone of St. Paul and according to superstition it confers upon the wearer the gifts of eloquence, argument and logic. If the stone becomes a fad of the hour, it will hardly be because of its symbolic meaning, for the gifts of argument have never been a popular attraction of womankind.

Stoves a Source of Danger.

The hard coal stoves, while in one way very comfortable, keeping a room at an even temperature all the time are, in ignorant hands, a source of serious danger. If the drafts are not properly turned, the carbonic acid and sulphurous fumes may pour into the room, and in a sleeping room may smother the sleepers before they are aware of their danger. Three per cent of carbonic acid gas in the air of a room is fatal to animal life, and a large-sized base-burner will not take long to supply this percentage in a close room. Such stoves should always be carefully watched and never handled save by experienced persons.

Flowers Artificially Scented.

The last trick with flowers is quite as revolting to the lover of nature as was the barbarous custom of producing artificial tints by chemical processes, an innovation which produced the celebrated green carnation of last season, but which was condemned at once, and has now fallen into disrepute. This year flowers are to be artificially scented. A scientist has discovered a method of impregnating the petals of a scentless blossom with a perfume of any kind that may be desired. The discovery may result in the adoption of artificial scenting, but the fashion is not likely to last long.

Fish Flour.

A remarkable article—namely, fish flour—has been brought forward in the last few years. It is not as yet manufactured in any great quantity, as the article is still new in the market, and consequently there is no great demand for it. The flour is prepared from dried fish of the quantity, thoroughly desiccated, and then ground in a mill.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

DOBSY FREY, N. Y.
PITTSBURGH, PA.
GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right, and although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor and morphine. I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly, HELEN MORRISON, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for ten years, and have been cured by the use of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.

WHIFFS AND WHIMS.

Quiggs—How does Bertha M. Mudde rank as a novelist? Publisher—About as rank as any of them.

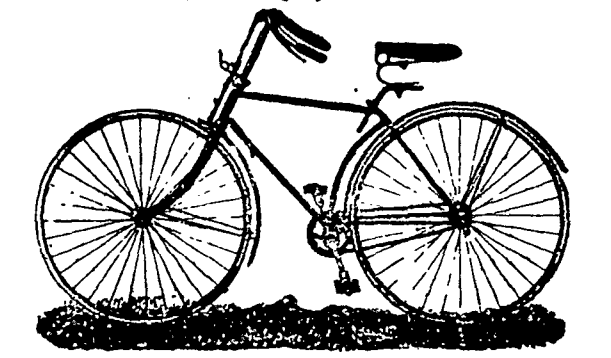

"I never destroy a receipted bill, do you?" said Bunting to Gilley. "I don't think I ever saw one," replied Gilley. Mamma (reviewing Ethel's composition)—Why, child, this is no way to spell "rhinoceros." Ethel—But if it does not spell it, how did you know what it was?

First Little Girl—I heard you was workin' in a candy store. Second Little Girl—I was, but I stopped. "Why?" "I found I was losin' my appetite for candy."

"They say that horrid man next door compels his wife to put his shoes on every morning. I'd just like to see you trying such a trick. I'd—" "No danger, my dear. They're too small for you."

"I am glad to see you willing and ready to reform," said the temperance worker. "I suppose you were led astray?" "Led? Bless your heart, no! Everybody else had to hump to keep up with me in the procession!"

"Brakes and couplings! Rats!" exclaimed Mrs. Hogan, as she threw down her paper in disgust. "Pwim I read that head ahn the ar-r-ticle, sure I t'ought it was divorces an' marriages, an' it's nought but a lot of stuff about the railroads."
