ST. BONIFACE FAIR

The old school building connected with the parish house of St. Boniface's church presented an animated appearance each evening. The school grounds also presented an attractive appearance. Several tents were erected which were utilized as booths, and these were all tastefully decorated with bunting, lanterns and the national colors. A stage had been erected which was prettily decorated and contained many sets of scenery. The interior of the building was also handsomely trimmed. Long streamers of bunting were hung from different parts of the rooms. The different rooms were filled with useful and pretty articles, and all of them were liberally patronized.

The summer-nights festival opened Monday night with a good crowd in attendance and the building has been well filled each evening. The interior of the school looks very pretty. In the first room near the entrance are the young ladies tables; next to this the married ladies have theirs. The third room is given up to the school exhibit and the fourth has been turned into a refreshment room.

Up stairs the dancers hold full sway, the room being kept cool by the ingenious electrical devices arranged by Mr. Burns. The voting contest between Miss Allen and Miss McCall has been very exciting and will close this evening. All should avail themselves of the opportunity to see the fair to-night as it will close.

Cathedral Choir Entertained.

On Tuesday evening the choir of St. Patrick's Cathedral was entertained at supper by the Right Rev. Bishop McQuaid. It was complimentary to the two fine renditions of Missa Brevis, by Palestrina as well as other incidental music beautifully rendered at the dedication of St. Bernard's seminary. At their departure the members were more than delighted at seeing also all the great buildings illuminated from the outside—a sight by the way well worth going many miles to see.

REMARKABLE GOOD NEWS.

GRATIFYING IN THE EXTREME

Far in advance of anything yet introduced to the public at large is the Scogog Cure for Consumption and Bronchitis. Its success is beyond the expectation of all interested. The wonderful cures being made and the favorable reports that are received daily at the office of the Sanitarium Company certainly cannot but enlist the confidence of every one who is in any way affected.

We noticed the recording of the deed of the valuable property, worth $25,000, which this company have purchased, and their card of the opening of the new sanitarium on Rowe street in this city. We cannot but see the great confidence of those behind the project, that this cure is not only a permanent thing, but will prove to the world that the cure for the dread disease has at last been found and none need despair. In the most severe cases many years can be added to a life time, if not a permanent cure made.

Dr. Oliver, the medical director, is competent to fill the position to which he has been called, and he is at the office to consult free all who wish to know anything about the remedy.

If you wish to enter the sanitarium you will have to file your application with the secretary, as only a few more can be accommodated. All persons out of town can be treated at their homes, if the disease is not too far advanced. All information freely given on application. Call or address, Scogog Sanitarium Company, No. 607 Ellwanger & Barry building, Rochester, N. Y.

A ride on the Grand View Beach Electric Railroad from Charlotte to Manitou Beach is the most enjoyable in Western New York. Sixteen miles of lake scenery, beautiful shore and healthful lake breezes for the small sum of 25 cents. Trains every fifteen minutes, connecting with electric cars from Rochester. Give the children a holiday at Manitou Beach.

MUSEE THEATRE
The regular season of 1893-4 will open at the Musee Theatre next Monday, August 28th. Since the closing of last season, the house has been thoroughly overhauled, re-decorated, and furnished in a most elaborate manner. A large force of workmen, carpenters, painters, electricians, and artists have been at work repairing and beautifying the house.

A magnificent plush drop curtain has been added to the stage which is unequalled by any theater curtain in this city. Four shows a day will be given during the coming season. The prices will be, general admission ten cents, reserved seats ten and fifteen cents extra. For the opening week a brilliant company of Vaudeville is announced. Miss Lottie Gilson, the great New York favorite, will be the star feature. Other people are: The Quinns and their dog comedian "Baby" in their original and unique sketch entitled "A Dog's Judgment." Sapier and Marzello, the celebrated European grotesques; Englehardt and Raymond, the celebrated lady fencers; Helen Englehardt, Switzerland's greatest rifle expert and the champion lady fencer of the world. She will be assisted by Miss May Raymond in fancy shooting and fencing. The Olympia City Quartette, late of the "Carnival of Venice," will make their first appearance. The popular comedians the Stewart Sisters, two of the most charming soubrettes, will also appear. Prince Tiny—the smallest man on earth, will be the big attraction in the Musee Hall. He is less than 30 inches high, weighs 20 pounds, and is not much bigger than a six months old baby. The Duerstmueller German Orchestra will furnish the musical entertainment in the Musee Hall. At the grand opening, beginning Monday matinee, each lady patron will be presented with a handsome silver souvenir pin tray engraved with a beautiful illustration of the Musee Theatre. Every little girl will receive a dainty silver souvenir spoon, finely engraved.

ACADEMY.

Beginning Monday eve, Aug. 28, for six days and matinees Tues., Thurs. and Sat., will appear Dan McCarthy and his own company in the "Rambler from Clare." The play tells an interesting tale of life in the Emerald Isle, abounding in thrilling situations, interesting incidents and startling climaxes. The plot is sensational and humorous, as the scenes and characters are realistic, and Dan McCarthy as the hero is the center of the piece. His part of an Irish lad is an artistic piece of work. The supporting company which is composed of clever vocalists and dancers will introduce a number of specialties throughout the piece.

COOK OPERA HOUSE.

Walter Sanford's grand scenic production, "The Struggle of Life," will be the attraction at the Cook Opera House all of next week with matinees Mon, Wed. and Sat. In this era of trashy melodramas it is refreshing to meet with a novelty in this particular branch of dramatic construction; this is what is claimed for Walter Sanford's grand scenic production. "The Struggle of Life" which is something akin to a revelation in this line. From the rising of the curtain to the falling of the same the interest never flags, and the entire piece goes rippling merrily onward to an uproarious termination. The situations throughout are of a cyclonic mirthful nature. The company engaged to illustrate "The Struggle of Life" is, by long odds, the best combination of the kind ever formed.

THE COLD SPELL.

Be Prepared for the Advent of Cold Weather.

The cold spell has not reached Rochester, but it will not be long ere winter blizzards will shriek around us. It is well to be prepared for them. The man whose coal fire is full of good hard coal does not fear the coming of zero weather. Speaking of coal, it should be remembered that Louis Langie keeps a superior article. His office is at the corner of East Main street and East avenue and his yards on So. Clinton street near Alexander; also on North street near N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R.

A Western Girl's Idea.

A very clever young Western girl, who came to New York with the desire to work and make money, and who has heretofore failed in that attempt, has sent out cards to wealthy housekeepers to the effect that she will make contracts to sweep, dust and clean their apartments so many times a week for so much. In the advent of a sudden loss of servants she believes she will be able to take up a great many orders. "It is a genuine fact," says she, "that the general run of servants in New York are too saucy, ignorant and slovenly to know how to set a room to rights neatly and artistically as well. They are always breaking precious bric-a-brac, tearing exquisite silken picture scarfs and tidies, or scrubbing the dust and grime into elegant portieres. I believe some women ought to make a profession of housecleaning."
