WAS JEALOUSY THE CAUSE?

Mrs. Fitzgerald Kills Mrs. Parnall and Gives Herself Up.
New York, Oct. 3.—Jealousy, it is alleged, prompted Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald, whose home is at 510 Eighth avenue, to kill Mrs. C. Parnall, the very thoroughbred of the latter's home at East Eighty-sixth street, by shooting her in the neck.
The circumstances of the case are as follows in much mystery.
Mrs. Fitzgerald, the murderer, is the wife of John J. Fitzgerald, an examiner, and Mrs. Parnall was the wife of John W. Parnall, a patrolman attached to the East Eighty-sixth street squad.
After the shooting Mrs. Fitzgerald calmly made her way to the police station at Eighty-eighth street and First avenue. She walked into the building, and when in front of the second floor, she said: "I have shot a woman on Eighty-sixth street and this is what I shot her with." At the same time she laid on the desk a 32-calibre revolver with four of its five chambers empty. What she said to the police beyond the bare statement, and what the police discovered from their prisoner, both Captain Pickett and his men refused to divulge.
