

OUR CITY PARISHES.

NOTES JOTTED DOWN BY THE JOURNAL'S REPORTERS.

ST. BRIDGET'S.

Miss Fannie Doyle, daughter of John Doyle, was married at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Father Hendrick to William F. Nolan, of Baltimore, Md., in St. Bridget's Church. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan left that evening for a visit to Washington and other Southern points. They will reside in Baltimore.

ST. MARY'S.

Last Thursday was an extraordinary holiday at St. Mary's parochial residence. On that day Father Stewart reached the twenty-seventh anniversary of his ordination; but his was not the only anniversary. Rev. Felix O'Hanlon, assistant pastor of St. Mary's, was ordained just eight years ago that day; and to make the coincidence more remarkable Father Schmolz celebrated his twenty-seventh birthday. May the revered Fathers live long to enjoy their common anniversary.

ST. PETER AND PAUL'S.

The Alert Bowling Club of the Y. M. C. C. defeated the Young Standards of Reisky's on the former's alley, last Friday evening. The score: 88 to 10, 17-0. Another game will be played next Friday night at Reisky's.

The entertainment and social given by the Y. M. C. C. last Monday evening was a grand success in spite of the bad weather. The entertainment lasted two hours, and the scores which were given each performer was the evidence of appreciation by the large audience. After the entertainment the floor was quickly cleared and dancing followed. The arrangement committee is much pleased over the success of the affair.

On Thursday afternoon a dinner was served to the members at the Y. M. C. C. rooms.

The nomination of officers took place at the last meeting of Branch 39, O. M. B. A., and the election will be held on the second Tuesday of December.

CATHEDRAL.

Thursday at the Cathedral Miss Anna Coffey, of this city, a sister of Mrs. John Malone and Mrs. J. W. Braat, was married to John Bowmaster, of Clyde, N. Y., Rev. Father Van Ness performing the ceremony. The groomsmen were John Wade, of Batavia, and Miss Kittie Bannan attended the bride. A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Braat, No. 33 Dengler street, followed the ceremony.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

The Columbian Literary Circle held a regular meeting Monday evening, Nov. 27th, at the Immaculate Conception school. There was a very good attendance. The following excellent programme was rendered to an appreciative audience, every member having received an encore:

Scanlan Solo, "Dear Heart," Miss Nellie Maloney.
Sketch of the Life of Columbus, Miss Josie Quinn.
Recitation, "Tim, the Wolf Rat," Mr. Crouch.
Piano Solo, Miss Claffey.
Recitation, "Brushwood," Miss Anna M. Flanagan.
Recitation, "Shamus O'Brien," Mr. T. Stanton.
A String Trio, Messrs. Houlihan, Waterhouse and West.

After the programme, all were invited to take part in the spelling match, for which Miss Minnie Leahy and George Gowney carried off first prize.

Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening spent.

A Pleasant Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson of 326 North street, entertained a small party of friends last Tuesday evening. A game of progressive euchre was played and was a very spirited contest. Mrs. E. Ryan and Jerome Koesterer were the winners of first prizes, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Graves were awarded the bobby. After the game a lunch was served.

The Best.

Outross sells the Best Baked goods in Rochester. His bakeries are located at 80 and 499 State street.

Beautiful.

In this one word, every lady visitor expresses her admiration for the elegant stock of furs shown by us. Our line of long fur capes cannot be beaten for style or elegance, as they are copies of the richest styles Paris furriers produced for this season. Our prices will suit you.

Mrs. & Sharpe, Manufacturing furriers, hatters and men's furnisheers.

The "D. M. A." butter crackers are much superior to any other in Rochester. Our Graham Flakes are a great delicacy. Made by home labor and sold at your grocery.

OUR BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

CLOSED BY A TRIBUTE FROM THE ORPHAN GIRLS.

The closing celebration of Bishop McQuaid's silver jubilee was held at St. Patrick's Orphan Girls' Asylum, Rochester, November 28d.

It was fitting that the first assemblage in the beautiful new building, should be in honor of this grand event. All the priests of the city were present to pay homage to their esteemed prelate.

There was a very fine display of work done by the children of the institution, including Kindergarten, needle, and school work, which received commendation from all who saw it.

The following is the programme as rendered by the orphan girls assisted by the orphan boys' concert band:

- PROGRAMME.
1. Selection, St. Mary's Cornet Band.
  2. Greeting, Isabel Dunn.
  3. Kitchen Garden Play.
  4. Selection, St. Mary's Cornet Band.
  5. Lighthouse's Pilgrimage, Allegory in one Act.
  6. Song, "The Butterfly and the Flower."
  7. Recitation, Mary Murray.
  8. Address, Mary Ashton.
  9. Selection, St. Mary's Cornet Band.
  10. "Greeting to our Bishop."

After the final chorus, the Bishop addressed the children in his usual pleasant manner, congratulating them on their rendition of the programme, and the display of work. He reminded them of the necessity of profiting by all these advantages, in order to more perfectly fit themselves for the labor of after life.

In speaking of the new home they had just entered, he said: "My dear children, much that was said of me in the beautiful address just read, was unadverted."

"No matter how much I might have desired to construct this building for you, my wish could never have been realized, were it not for my zealous priests and generous people."

"No, your Bishop could do but little if unassisted by the priests of his diocese."

"The asylum which you have just left, was erected fifty-two years ago; and was the first proof on the part of the Catholics of Rochester, of their love for the orphans."

"Several additions were made to the original building, until at last, its crumbling condition obliged us to erect a more suitable one."

"We could not allow the sacred spot to be profaned by the erection of any other building; for we considered it holy ground. Some day, the sanctuary of the Cathedral will rise out of its ruins; and when you are all old ladies, you will tell others of the happy days you spent at St. Patrick's old asylum."

ADDRESS.

Are yet the sound of silver bells has died away, we come to greet our Bishop and ring the final notes of triumph.

The silver harmony presented to you, dear Rt. Reverend Bishop, by the little ones of your diocese, was opened by the notes from the orphan boys, so it was thought fitting that we, the orphan girls should sound the last notes to the melody in honor of your silver jubilee, for similar reasons.

The beginning of these twenty-five years was marked by a lively interest and great labor in the cause of St. Mary's Asylum; while the close of this eventful period, records the erection of a beautiful edifice for the orphans of St. Patrick's.

How gladly we then ceded our place to other institutions younger than we, for we are now permitted to celebrate this great occasion, in the home you have reared for us.

Still we carry with us pleasant remembrance of our former home. Though poor in character, it was filled with happy hearts, who knew and loved the hand that so often blessed them.

Through your zeal, dear Rt. Reverend Bishop, the sympathy of the people was directed toward the homeless, and in response, generous souls shared with us the benefits of Providence.

Time will teach us to understand fully the sacrifices made for our happiness; nor shall the rude lessons of after life be able to efface the remembrances of the joyful days spent in the little enclosure between the walls of the Cathedral, and your Episcopal residence.

Wishes, comprising all that love could dictate, have already been expressed to you, dear Rt. Reverend Bishop, while we stood by anxiously waiting for our turn. But we were not idle; and now, we pride ourselves in having the greatest number to offer you. For, we eagerly gathered the many benedictions, and to-night present them anew to Almighty God, confident of their fulfillment.

As every prayer and blessing invoked is followed by a fervent response, which repeats the petition; to our wish to-night is one grand Amen!

Be it so! Yes, Time deal gently with our honored Prelate, and if you cannot change his silvery locks to golden, transform his silvery record to one of gold; and may we, his children, live to sound the notes of his golden jubilee.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. Richard O'Brien continues seriously ill.

Mrs. A. E. McKirch, Mrs. J. G. King, Mrs. Egewitz and Mrs. William Farrell received visitors Wednesday at the meeting of the Perpetual Help Society at St. Mary's Hospital.

The Columbian Reading Circle enjoyed an old fashioned spelling match Monday evening and the Catholic Literary listened to the charming voice of Miss Sweeney.

Miss Emma Mason of Hammondsport, N. Y., is spending Thanksgiving week at the home of Mrs. Patrick Joyce on Platt street.

Mortimer Brennan and Miss Kittie Langknicht were united in marriage at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening at St. Michael's Church. Rev. Father Pascoff officiated.

Mary Hagg of 323 Maple street died Saturday at the Homeopathic Hospital, aged 33 years. The funeral took place from the home at 3:25 o'clock Tuesday morning, and at 9 o'clock from Holy Family Church.

Lois, widow of Thomas Eison, died Sunday at 116 Oak street, aged 64 years. Six children survive her, Mrs. Kraft, Miss Rose and Maggie Eison, and Joseph A. Fredrick and Andrew Eison. The funeral took place from St. Peter and Paul's Church Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

James McGuire died Sunday afternoon at 7 Mayor park, aged 80 years. Mr. McGuire was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and when 4 years of age came to Rochester, where he had since resided. He served in Company K, 140 Regiment, during the late war. The deceased was a member of O'Reilly Post. He leaves three sons, William, James and John McGuire of this city.

Rev. Father Gray of Salem, Mass., died on Sunday evening in that city. Father Gray was quite well known in this vicinity, having frequently visited Bishop McQuaid at Hemlock lake in company with Archbishop Williams of Boston. Father Gray was about fifty years of age. He was one of the early graduates of St. Joseph's Seminary in Troy and was ordained in 1865. His work as a priest had been done in various parts of New England and he was greatly beloved by all who knew him. The funeral took place in Salem at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY'S FAIR.

The annual fair of the Church of our Lady of Victory opened Monday evening and continued every evening. A matinee will be given this Saturday afternoon.

From the basement, to the upper floors is presented a series of interesting and entertaining exhibitions almost bewildering in diversity. Immediately at the right of the entrance is the "Midway Plaisance" and from it emerge in Egyptian costume Misses Nellie Nash, Alice Bandon and Ruth Beman, who make a specialty of fortune telling. Further down the plaisance, at the fancy table, are Misses Clara Pope, Loretta Baker, Maud Sauer, Catherine Flaherty, Maggie Heveron, Rose Lusker, Mrs. H. H. Craig, with several young lady assistants, doing a flourishing business at the Paradise Inn.

Mrs. M. S. Bennett, assisted by Misses May and Florence Rogers, Frankie Lux, Mary Garner, presided at the pop corn table. The ushers are Messrs. Edward Myers, Frank Yawman, James McBride and Masters. Hot tea, cocoa and soda may be purchased at the Japanese booth of Mrs. L. O. Langie, Mrs. Alfred Soure, Mrs. Walzer, Mrs. Charles Biebler and Miss Hebing.

On the opposite side of the Midway is the Belgian and Holland village, gorgeous in their national colors. Real Belgian lace is sold here by Miss D. Block, Mrs. Rosaline Santens, Miss Ellen and Flavie and Marie Collins and Remi Santens. Adjoining is the Paradise Inn annex, where dancing is in progress.

On the floor above is the "Inferno," where we find Joe Harding, Miss Frances, Misses May Harding, Lucille Lempert, Rose Schantz, Agnes Klem, Julia Klem, Nellie Ford, Mame Connors, Alma Webring, Mrs. McCort and Roswell Baker, Paul and Frank Harding. Supper is served by these waiters.

The other booths are attractively arranged. At the candy table Mrs. A. J. Kirley is in charge, assisted by Mrs. P. Mahon, Mrs. L. McManis and Mrs. C. Wilkins. The pumpkin castle is well cared for by Misses Corinne and Vinne Mahon, two little "Brownies."

The Society of Our Lady of Lourdes do a thriving business in dolls, apron and fancy articles. Purchasers are waited upon by the members. The church choir is in charge of a fancy table and fish pond. The fair will close this Saturday evening when an elegant parlor stove will be drawn.

Sibley, Lindsay & Carr.

Now for Christmas. The task of getting the Thanksgiving turkey out of the way is over and undivided attention may be given to the next holiday—Christmas, the happiest and warmest of all days.

Watches.

Watches are the natural associates of clocks. Day after day we have been asked by customers, who see the clocks on the shelves in the silverware department, the watches.
