From Our Special Correspondents.

Auburn.

Nelson B. Akeley, Auburn's wealthiest citizen, died at his late residence in Genesee street Monday morning, aged 87.

The building in the rear of D. M. Osborne & Co.'s works, occupied by Gorham, Wilcox & Co., shoe manufacturers and Koster & Gensheimer, manufacturers of buttons, was entirely gutted Saturday evening, resulting in a loss of several thousand dollars to each firm. Everything, however, was covered by insurance.

The many friends of Miss Anna T. Gibbin, of Rochester, formerly of this city, will extend their best wishes when they learn of her marriage to M. J. Donahue, of Rochester, which took place in that city Monday morning.

The Knights of St. Alphonse held another of their always enjoyable socials, in their rooms Wednesday evening. As usual the affair was largely attended and was a complete success.

Patrick Comney, who for a few years past has been a resident of this city, died at his late home in Van Anden street Saturday. He had many friends who will deeply miss him. He leaves besides a loving wife, two daughters, Misses Mary and Eva, and two sons, Edward and James Comney. The funeral took place from St. Mary's church Tuesday.

The children of the Auburn Orphan Asylum gave a musical and literary entertainment in the school room at that place Monday evening. The room was thronged with admirers of the little ones and clever work was repeatedly encouraged. A number of the boys merged into a drum corps and captured the laurels of the evening. Their rendition of the several selections was excellent and showed to perfection the good results of the long hours of training they had undergone. The children who took part displayed very fine work. The programme was repeated Tuesday evening. A handsome sum was realized for the benefit of the asylum.

We are sorry to hear that Thomas H. O'Neill did not capture the clerkship of the prison. Mr. O'Neill, was deserving of the position and should have had it.

The Auburn Musical Union has made a splendid offer that should be taken up by anybody. It is to donate the services of an orchestra of twenty pieces for a ball, the proceeds of which are to be given to two of the leading charitable organizations of the city. This should be followed by one from our worthy Anthony Shimer and others to donate a hall, lighting, printing, etc. Where are the charitable people of Auburn when it comes down to business? Let them speak quickly.

All the way from Genoa to Auburn the principle topic of conversation is "when will we get that railroad?" The N. Y. C. has agreed to build a road from Genoa to this city for $80,000 in cash and the right of way, etc. of the old I. R. & W. Ry. It is earnestly hoped that the desired result may be obtained as it would be beneficial to almost everyone along the line.

Genoa.

Joe Kelleher and Bridget Teresa Garvey will be married at St. Francis de Sales church, Thursday morning at 8:30. They will take the 7 a. m. train out of Genoa for a short trip. John Hanlon will act as best man, and Bridget McClellan as maid of honor.

Mrs. John McGloin died at her home on North street Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. She was buried from St. Francis de Sales church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Thos. Kane, of Auburn, was in town for a few days and expects to move to Genoa in about a week to fill a position offered him by the Armour Meat Co. at their house on Servis street.

P. Murphy; trustees, M. T. Bradley, Daniel Moran, Stephan Mackin.

Livonia.

The Paulist Fathers, of New York, are to hold a mission commencing the first Sunday in Lent and lasting two weeks. The Rev. Fathers held a mission in Livonia six years ago, and their many friends formed then will welcome them back.

Mrs. R. Raymond attended the funeral of her sister, at Rochester last week.

Miss Susie Strong is home for the winter, the guest of her parent at Conesus.

Nunda.

The Academy of Music will be lighted by electric lights for the first time on Wednesday evening, Jan. 24th, when the Ariel Ladies' Quartette, of Boston, will make their appearance in Nunda.

The minstrel show given by the Wheel Club, on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, was an artistic success but a financial failure.

Whooling America, published at Nunda, has donned a new dress and looks very pretty.

A concert, composed entirely of local talent, would be a pleasing novelty in the musical line. With such artists as the Misses Woodworth, Mr. Ben Jones, H. G. Pitts, Miss Blanche Cox and many others it could not help but be a success, socially, as well as otherwise.

The annual reception of Hope Hose Co., No. 4, will be given on Friday evening, Jan. 26, at G. A. R. hall. The hall will be made beautiful by elegant decorations, countless electric lights, etc.

Brockport.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, an aged couple living near Brockport, took place last Sunday. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery. Mr. Hayes will be gratefully remembered by both pastor and people on account of his zeal in collecting for the ball.

Of Importance to Ladies

ADVICE, WHICH IF FOLLOWED WILL MAKE MANY WOMEN HAPPY.

Menstruation is a natural function and should be performed with little or no pain, but it is an unfortunate fact that a large majority of ladies suffer severely. In disease it may be premature, delayed, scanty, profuse and painful. The symptoms vary, the most prominent being pain in back, loins and limbs, a bearing down sensation in pelvis, pressure in rectum causing constipation, excruciating headache, either frontal, on top, or back of head. Spinal tenderness, inability to stand, numbness, fainting spells, nervousness, palpitation, short breath, pain in breasts and sides, hands and feet cold, derangement of liver and stomach, tongue coated, and breath offensive. Perfection of mental faculties, restfulness and jealousy. No wonder so many women are confirmed invalids. Such a condition is now unnecessary. Dr. Freeman, of 107 Franklin street, Rochester, N. Y., has for twelve years made diseases of women a specialty. His system of treatment is truly wonderful and marvelous in its results. In nearly every case it can be used by ladies in their own homes, and the unpleasantness incident to local treatment in the doctor's office avoided. Dr. Freeman can refer you to hundreds who have cured and he will cure you. Do not be persuaded by doctors who delight in surgery that you are incurable unless you undertake an operation. With Dr. Freeman's system operations are seldom, if ever necessary.

Office hours: at the Institute 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., and from 6 to 9 p. m., daily except Thursdays. No evening hours on Sunday.

LIFE'S KALEIDOSCOPE.

A West Virginia man has become insane on the subject of the Ferris wheel. He rode on the wheel and on his return home endeavored to make one on a similar plan.

Several ladies of Rockland, Maine, developed bright ideas on trying to earn a dollar each for the church. One did it by digging worms for a neighbor's hens, another did it by spanking a neighbor's children at so much a week.

A young couple are getting married. Suddenly some absurd idea enters the head of the bridegroom and he bursts out laughing. Inexplicable as the old priest who is officiating pauses a moment and says gravely: "Do not laugh, my son. You will have little occasion for mirth in the state into which you are now entering."

A young minister had gone to the home of his boyhood to preach, and of course the villagers were full of curiosity to hear him. At the close of the service one of the deacons engaged the young preacher's wife in conversation. "It was a strange coincidence," said he, "that your husband's text was the one from which his father preached his last sermon in this pulpit." "Indeed!" said the lady. "Well, that was strange I hope," she continued. "It wasn't the same sermon." "No, no," said the deacon in a deprecatory manner, "his father was a dreadful smart man."

A Syracuse youngster was recently sent to New York with his uncle for a visit, and when he returned he was suffering from a bad case of enlarged cranium. He was the only boy of his size in the neighborhood who had visited the metropolis, and he felt his importance. Upon his return home, however, he found a new baby brother, who had arrived in his absence. He stood speechless before the crib for some time, and his parents began to wonder what he was thinking about when he broke out with: "Poor baby! poor baby! Never has been anywhere but heaven and Syracuse!"

ALLEGED WITTIOWISMS.

"Walter, it is almost half an hour since I ordered that turtle soup!" "Water—Sorry, sir, but you know how slow turtles are." "Do you think, Schmidt, that your affection for fraulein is reciprocated?" "I really can't say. I am loving her at present on credit." "Why don't you strike the man across the street for a quarter?" "Ragge—I've been waitin' for two hours to see if he won't come over this way." "Tommy," said Mr. Waters, "isn't that a pretty big buckwheat cake for a boy of your size?" "It looks big," said Tommy, "but really it isn't. It's got lots of porosens in it."

Girl at the Central—Just wait a second; somebody's telephoning for an ambulance. Man at the Telephone—What for? Girl at Central—Man run over by another ambulance.

Princeling, opening the shooting match—Donnewetter, I have gone too far to the left? Gamekeeper—Oh, not at all, your highness—the target is fixed too much to the right.

I—I can not understand why you shed tears at the theater last night. It was one of the most wretched performances I ever saw. B—Yes, but I was fool enough to pay for my ticket.

"I am not expecting any package," said the lady of the house. "This is the number," persisted the driver of the delivery wagon, looking at his book again. "Name's Higgins, ain't it?" "Yes." "No. 3749." "That's our number." "Then it's for you." "I think not. It must be a case of mistaken identity." "No mum. It's a case of beer."
