CAPTAIN O'NEILL AND THE A. P. A. For three and a half years out of four, James F. O'Neill—not the famous Count of Monte Christi James, but James F., of this city—is plain James F. O'Neill.

Freedom of religious belief is one of the most essential, fundamental principles of liberty, and on liberty's fundamentals hinges the existence of American institutions.

A REMEDY SUGGESTED.

EDITOR CATHOLIC JOURNAL:

Dear Sir:—Appropos with the recent deplorable outburst of violence in Kansas City, Mo., occasioned by the vile calumnies uttered by the official lecturer of the organization known as the A. P. A., came the editorial in your issue of Saturday last under the caption "Is there no Remedy?"

Before going farther, I wish to say the boycott, and such like measures, are, in my opinion, wrong, and are calculated to retard the extermination of the A. P. A. instead of hastening it.

Now, if by fair means we can establish this as fact, we have the most potent remedy on earth to aid us, viz: the strong arm of the law.

THE GOSPELS.

GOSPEL: St. Matthew viii, 23-27.

At that time: "When he entered into the boat His disciples followed Him: and behold a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves, but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him and awakened Him, saying: Lord, save us, we perish. And Jesus saith to them: Why are you fearful, O ye of little faith? Then rising up, He commanded the winds and the sea; and there came a great calm. But the men wondered, saying: What manner of man is this, for the winds and the sea obey Him?"

Though the Gospel for next Sunday is a short one it is full of significance. No matter what dangers threaten the Church, Christ can banish them. No matter how tempest tossed the soul may be a word from Jesus, when we have recourse to Him, will calm it.

Where Those Nice Baked Goods Came From. "Why, I bought them at the Culross bakery, of course. At no other place can such pure baked goods be obtained. Did you never visit the Culross bakery? Why, it does one good to go inside, look at all the nice cakes, pies, bread, etc., and it makes you hungry to smell them. Culross has the best trade in Rochester in his line, and he deserves it, as his goods are always fresh and made of the best ingredients."
