POPULIST TICKET.

HARMONY REIGNED AT THE SARATOGA CONVENTION.

Charles H. Matthews of Buffalo nominated for Governor—H. C. Meeker of Penn Yan for Second Place—Thaddeus H. Wakeman of New York for Judge of the Court of Appeals—The Platform. Other Business.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Chairman L. S. Dean of the state committee rapped the Populists delegates to order and announced that the committee had selected J. M. S. Piero of Glen Falls for temporary chairman and L. S. McPharlin of Lockport for secretary. The chair appointed several committees and a recess was taken. There were close on to 100 delegates present when the Populist convention met again. There was a delegation of women present headed by Mrs. Clayton of Albany, to ask for the insertion of a woman's suffrage plank in the platform.

The committee on credentials reported that they had received by mail and personal letters of credentials. The new chairman, Mr. White, was escorted to the chair and made the following remarks: "I thank you for the Farmers' Alliance, of which I am president, and for myself for the honor we confer. I see that it is predicted that we are to have a stormy time, but I hope that no such thing will occur, and that we will have harmony in every phase of our business."

During a recess of 10 minutes, while waiting for the committee on platform to report, curious scene was enacted. The bags of fruits and vegetables that adorned the front of the stage were auctioned off to get money to conduct a campaign.

Mr. Dean announced that they needed at least $1,500 to start the fight. When the auction was over they had obtained $120.

There were medical woks, embroidery, wall paper and magic lanterns of a small type included in the sale. When they got through selling these articles the auctioneer sold the flag that adorned the stage.

The state committee was then named by congressional districts.

The convention proceeded to nominate state officers. George A. Hunter nominated Charles B. Matthews of Buffalo for the office of governor. The nomination was made by acclamation.

Mr. Matthews, who is an oil refiner of Buffalo, was present as a delegate and was escorted to the platform. He made a brief speech of acceptance. He said he was a member of the Farmers' Alliance and is a Knight of Labor. He believed that the issue was manhood, against money, and the proposed candidate, of the two great parties were to be nominated on their dollar basis. Tom Powers and Franklin Hall were the tools of corporations.

R. C. Hewson of Penn Yan was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor.

Thaddeus H. Wakeman of New York was placed in nomination for judge of the court of appeals. He declined and named in his place Charles Frederick Adams of New York city.

Mr. Powers read a telegram from Mr. Adams declining the nomination and the convention nominated Mr. Wakeman.

Killed by an Electric Wire.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 12.—Frederick J. Barbour, an employee of the Rochester Gas and Electric company, was engaged in trimming Brush lamp on Wolff avenue when a guy rope broke, lowering the light to the ground. The man grasped the upper part of the lamp when he received a shock from a crossed wire and was almost instantly killed. The flesh on the hand was horribly burned and the body was mutilated. A bystander who attempted to release the man was knocked down by the shock. The hand was finally pried open and the fatal hold on the wire released.

Frankfort Women Against Breckinridge.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 12.—The most horrid railroad disaster known in this vicinity took place on the Pittsburgh railroad in the Hobart tunnel, a short distance east of the central shaft. The accident was caused by a rear end collision between eastbound freight trains. A freight train had stopped to repair an engine which had broken down and at about the same time a westbound express train passed through the tunnel, filling it with smoke. A second eastbound freight train was allowed to enter the tunnel contrary to the rules of the road and the engineer, being unable on account of dense smoke left by the passage of the express to distinguish the lights of the train from the electric lights on the walls of the tunnel, went into it with a crash.

A horrible disaster was the result, both trains being badly wrecked.

The tunnel was blocked and two men killed outright and three were seriously injured.

Operator Hodkine, who has charge of the signal lights at the east portal, is confined in the police station and the charge of criminal carelessness preferred against him.

The first mile was made in 9:05%, but the black stallion forced him out faster the second heat. The third mile was made in 9:04%. Joe Patchen's time in the second heat was 9:03%.
