FLAMES IN WASHINGTON.

Five Persons Cremated, Several Injured and a Number Missing. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The most fatal fire of recent years in Washington was the burning of the mattress factory of Stimpff & Bros.

Five bodies lay at the morgue, charred and crushed beyond recognition; four in jured men lay at the Emergency hospital, one of whom will die, and there may be others buried under the ruins, as several of the workmen are unaccounted for.

Two of the dead at the morgue are known to be William H. Tenney, an old man employed in the factory, and Willis Asher, a boy of 15 years.

The factory, which is owned by Claude N. and Edward H. Stimpff, stood at the intersection of Seventh and K streets and Massachusetts avenue, a five-story structure with thin brick walls, windows only at back and front and no fire escapes. It was stored with feathers, shavings and other inflammable materials and 25 persons were at work in it, six of them young women.

Fifteen minutes after the room fire was discovered in the packing room at the front of the second floor, an alarm of fire was given to the workmen. It had spread through the second story and burst up the elevator well. There was delay in turning in an alarm on account of the panic.

Two minutes after the fire had been discovered the east wall fell, or falling the blacksmith shop, Palmer's oyster house and the Horse & Cattle Feed company's building.

Shortly afterward the other walls collapsed and came down, crushing the five-story brick building of the Woodruff & Kolder company, store of J. Bennett's, a furniture shop and Hall & Gamma, a furniture store, a frame building.

One fireman and several spectators were hurt by falling bricks. The cause of the fire is unknown. The factory building was valued at $10,000 and its contents at $25,000. $15,000 insurance was carried in several local companies. The adjoining buildings, which were crushed were of small value, so that $30,000 will probably cover the damage of the fire.

A THRILLING RESCUE.

Crew of a Chicago Fireboat Saved After a Brave Struggle. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The fireboat Yosemite, which was wrecked on Hyde Park reef, was to the bottom. Her crew were taken off by the lifesaving crew, but all aboard the boat were killed.

The rescue of the fireboat's crew was a thrilling one. For five hours the crew of 19 men battled with pumps and buckets, while the Jackson Park lifesaving crew, under command of Captain St. Peters, attempted to reach the "gradually sinking craft. A heavy sea was running and three times the fireboat capsized, throwing the crew into the lake. But each time the boat was righted, and within a very few moments of the time the Yosemite plunged to the bottom of the lake, the water drenched lifesavers took off the 10 fatigued men of the fire boat.

The crew of the Yosemite were forced to a novel expedient to attract the attention of the lifesaving station. Torches were used made of their clothing, saturated with kerosene and attached to long poles. These improvised signals were waved by the firemen and the kerosene trickled down, carefully burning hands and arms, but even the excruciating pain did not make them cease in their effort for the weird distress signal flared up, a view of the turbulent waves was disclosed that caused them to work with renewed vigor.

NEARING THE TWO-MINUTE GOAL. Robert J. Places the World's Pacing Record at 2:01.3.

Times Herald, Ind. Sept. 15. World's records were glimmering over the Terre Haute track, which now holds all but two—the fastest three heats paced and the fastest 2-year-old pacing race records.

Geers was up behind Robert J. and at the second trial the word was given. The clip was so fast that the pacemaker fell behind, the first quarter being done in 31 1/2 seconds. Up the hill he went at even a faster gait and was at the half in 1:00 1/2.

Down the third quarter the unbeaten gelding came like a whirlwind; 29 1/2 seconds marked his time for that quarter and he was at the 3/4 pole in 1:30 1/2.

Geers, with reins and voice, reined the gelding, who came true and strong, never for a moment wavering under the terrific trial and a moment later landed under the wire in 2:01 1/2.

There were cheers for horse, driver and owner, and Geers was lifted from the shoulders of admiring friends.

Scarcely had the marvelous was the great performance of the 2-year-old pacer Carbonate, who landed the best in 2:00 flat, lowering the world's record for 2-year-olds.

The marvelous mile of John R. Gentry was made in the opening heat of the free-for-all pace, carried over from Wednesday, when he did the mile in 2:03 1/2.

Some caught the mile as fast as 2:03 1/2, and it is believed that had the pacemaker had the perfect friends, Willie horse would have done the mile in as good as 2:03.

SOLD HIMSELF INTO SLAVERY.

A Negro Bartered His Freedom For Sixty Dollars. SELMA, Ala., Sept. 17.—Sam Johnson, a negro, sold himself into slavery here for $60.

Colonel Stark Oliver, a farmer of Dallas county, formerly a slave owner, was in town and noticed a boy looking negro about 30 years old, longing in the sun in front of the hotel. The colonel jestingly told him he would like to buy him.

The negro, in most serious manner, told the planter he was for sale; that he would sell his liberty and serve him as a slave until his death for only $25 cash.

The bargain was struck. A bill of sale was drawn up by a lawyer and signed and the money was paid.

Colonel Oliver tied his slave to a post while he made some purchases in town, and when he left for home he fastened a plow line about the negro's neck and led him along. As the colonel left he remarked that he was beginning to feel as he used to back in the 60's.

WELLMAN IN LONDON.

Will Sail For Home Wednesday—Discusses the Expedition.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Walter Wellman, the leader of the American Arctic expedition whose plans to explore the far north were frustrated by the sinking of his vessel the Hesperus, which was crushed by the ice, will sail from Southampton for New York on Wednesday next by the steamer Spree. He will be accompanied by the American members of his party.

In the course of an interview Mr. Wellman said that the failure of Lieutenant Peary to reach North Greenland shows that like the Wellman expedition, he met with unusual difficulties arising from the extremely unfavorable season. Altogether, Mr. Wellman declared it had been a bad year for Arctic exploration.

He warmly defended his expedition against the charges made of inexperience and had not abandoned Professor Oyston Danes' island. The professor, he added, had 1,300 pounds of provisions on the island and was, therefore, in no danger whatever of suffering from lack of food. Professor Oyston himself had publicly absolved him from the charge of abandonment.

In conclusion Mr. Wellman stated that all the Norwegian members of the expedition had promised to accompany the next expedition.

As to Messrs. French, Mohun and Dodge, no better, truer or braver men could be found.
