There is more faith in this section of the county than in other places, put to the test in the last few years was supposed to be the case. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly bailing on local treatment, pronounced incurable. Science has pronounced faith to be a constitutional disease and hereof requires a constitutional cure. Hall's Cathartic Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO. A Historic Mansion Transformed into a Palace Sanitarium.

The Residence of the Late Mayor Pilon Leased for a Term of Years.

By Noted Specialists in Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

The changes wrought by the unwearied hand of Father Time, destroying, remodeling, enlarging and many and manifold Rochester's best youth sustain these changes and continue to flourish under them. A representative of the CATHOLIC JOURNAL lighted on one of them the other day in progress at No. 20 North Canton street. The site is a historic one, being that of a palatial residence which stands connected with the name of the late Mayor Pilon. The grand mansion of the late mayor has lost its private character, and after considerable renovation, especially in regard to its interior arrangement, now attracts the attention of every passer-by as a palace sanitarium.

The transformation has now been completed, and the building is occupied by the noted specialists in nervous and chronic diseases, Drs. Meagher and Wadsworth.

The interior of Rochester's new sanitarium calls for special notice; here the architect's intention and the decorator's art, are seen to advantage. A few steps leads to the doorway, on which appears the words "Magnetic and Surgical Institute." The door opens on a spacious hallway from which one turns on the right to the reception room, which is of imposing dimensions and richly furnished. In the rear of the reception room are three large consulting rooms, laboratory and bathroom, the whole comprising a suite of rooms that commands the spectators' admiration as he tracks on Brussels and Moquette carpets and seats to his aesthetic taste on the furniture of antique oak, mahogany and nickel work. The effect, especially under the elaborate electric lighting which has been introduced, is charming in the extreme. The remainder of the building is devoted to rooms for the reception of patients residing at the institute and undergoing medical and surgical treatment. Such is a mere outline of the prominent features of the sanitarium, having its headquarters in Rochester.

What exactly is meant by the new therapeutics may be briefly explained by a remark of the octogenarian who celebrated his 85th birthday last week: we refer to the distinguished physician and shining light in the literary world—Oliver Wendell Holmes. Speaking of drugs this veteran physician said: "If medicine were thrown out of the window it would undoubtedly be bid for the fish, but the act would confer a boon upon the human race." In the new therapeutics the physician, who is pre-eminently a student of nature's methods of cure, trusts not to drugs, but to magnetic healing, massage treatment, electricity in all its forms, and baths of all kinds. Such treatment in the hands of Drs. Meagher & Wadsworth has been abundantly proved to be marvellous, not to say miraculous in its effects, especially in cases of nervous, and chronic diseases. Rochester may congratulate herself on the establishment of such an institution in her midst. No man can fail of finding the sanitarium, which is now open for the treatment of patients, one door from the Wonderland theatre, no 20 North Clinton street. Drs. Meagher & Wadsworth can be consulted free of charge. Hours 9 to 9.
