

Father Mollinger's
Great
Remedies
Conquer Disease.

Cathartic Cure. 50c
For all kinds of Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches, Rheumatism, Stomachic, etc. 50c
For all kinds of Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches, Rheumatism, Stomachic, etc. 50c
For all kinds of Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches, Rheumatism, Stomachic, etc. 50c

Wanted, Partner,
With $1,000 Capital.

One who will go out of town and take charge of a good paying business.

My books open for inspection to intending negotiator, to whom fullest information will be given. Call on or address
W. L. M., 319 Ellinger & Barry Bldg

Wanted. Sewing Machines, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers to repair. Sewing Machines, Stoves and Stairs, Ground, New and Second Hand Sewing Machines very cheap. Parts for all Machines.
C. H. NASH, 108 ANDREWS ST

TELEPHONE 17. RESIDENCE 17 HENSON PLACE. Open All Night.

THOS. B. MOONEY
PROPRIETOR
Joyce Undertaking Rooms.
105 West Main Street, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Geo. H. Cayford,
38 North Union Street.
Has recently purchased
A New Line of Fine Carriages, Victrolas, Surveys, Landaus, Broughams, Phansons, etc. and is better prepared than ever before to serve his patrons by the day or hour.
Telephone 87. Careful drivers with each turnout.

$2.50 Buffalo
TO Cleveland
VIA C. & B. LINE.
Commencing with opening of navigation (about April 1st).
Magnificent Side-Wheel Steel Steamers
"State of New York" and "State of Ohio"

DAILY TIME TABLE.
(Sundays Included.)

Leave Buffalo 10:15 P. M. Leave Cleveland 1:15 P. M.
Arrive Cleveland 8:30 A. M. Arrive Buffalo 5:30 P. M.
(Return on same day.)

Take the "C. & B. LINE" and enjoy a refreshing night's rest en route to Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Mackinac Island, Northern Lake Tourist resort, or any Ohio, Indiana, or Southwestern point.

Write for Tourist Pamphlet.
E. R. Hoar, Gen'l. Pass. Agent. T. F. Newman, Gen'l. Freight Agent. Cleveland, O.

A NEW BOOK BY FATHER ZAHM
Bible Science and Faith
By Rev. J. A. Zahm, C. S. C.
Professor of Physics in the University of Notre Dame. Author of "Sounds and Music," "Science and Catholic Dogma," "Essays on the Moral Beatitude," and "The Science of the Soul." With papers on the Antiquity of Man, "Science and Religion," and "The Physical Deluge," etc.
One Volume 125 Cts. Cloth, 8 1/2 x 11 in.
Indian and White in the North-west.
A History of Catholicity in Montana.
By Rev. Palladio, S. J.
Illustrated with 150 fine engravings. One vol. Octavo, Cloth, 50 Cts. $1.00 net.

JOHN MURPHY & CO. Publishers.
Baltimore, Md.
W. SUMMERHAYS CO.
ELECTRIC GAS FIXTURES
East Ave., Main & Elm Sts. Telephone 523

PATENTS
TRADEMARKS
COPYRIGHTS.

Can I obtain a patent? For a complete answer and an honest opinion, write to the PATENT OFFICE. A Patent Office is a place where confidential information is gathered, and where the inventor can get the latest news of his country and the world.

AGENTS $75 A WEEK.
One or more PRACTICAL PLATING PLANTS are now for sale in all parts of the country. They are complete and ready for use. They will produce all kinds of plated articles. They are cheap and profitable. They are the best investment you can make. They are the only ones of the kind in the country. They are the only ones that will produce all kinds of plated articles. They are the only ones that are cheap and profitable. They are the only ones that are the best investment you can make. They are the only ones that will produce all kinds of plated articles. They are the only ones that are cheap and profitable. They are the only ones that are the best investment you can make.

SEND YOUR BOOK AND JOB PRINTING TO THE JOURNAL.

PENSIONS

AGENTS $75 A WEEK.
One or more PRACTICAL PLATING PLANTS are now for sale in all parts of the country. They are complete and ready for use. They will produce all kinds of plated articles. They are cheap and profitable. They are the best investment you can make. They are the only ones of the kind in the country. They are the only ones that will produce all kinds of plated articles. They are the only ones that are cheap and profitable. They are the only ones that are the best investment you can make.

NEWS DOTS FROM IRELAND

Interesting Paragraphs Concerning the Doings of Our Friends Across the Ocean.

Gathered from All Parts of the Emerald Isle for Our Readers.

CONNAUGHT. LEINSTER.

COALWAY.
The death is announced of the Right Honorable Skerrington James Daly, Baron Dunsandle and Clanconal, at 23 Molesworth street, Dublin. The deceased nobleman, who was third baron, had attained the age of eighty-two years. He was the second son of James, First Baron, and Maria, daughter of the late Skerrington Smyth, First Baron.

LEINSTER.
CARLOW.
A general meeting of the tenantry of Mr. Doyle was held in the Town Hall, Tullow, to consider the refusal of the agent, Mr. Fitzmaurice, to continue the fifteen per cent. reduction conceded to those tenants who were deprived of the benefits of the Land Courts. The Rev. J. Coyle, Adm. presided. Before committing themselves to any decision and united line of action it was unanimously agreed that a deputation be chosen to wait on Mr. Doyle, with a view of impressing on that gentleman, that no reason could be assigned for his withdrawal of the reduction which was considered by him for a number of years only a just and reasonable concession. The secretaries communicated to Mr. Doyle the resolution adopted at the meeting, and received in reply a note stating that he would be unable to receive any deputation until after the races of Tullow.

LEINSTER.
WATERFORD.
At the last meeting of the Dun- garvan Board of Guardians, a resolution asking Mr. Alfred Webb, M. P., to reconsider his intended resignation of the Parliamentary Representation of Waterford was adopted.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

LEINSTER.
ARMAGH.
At the last Petty Sessions, Mr. W. M. Townsend, R. M., presiding, Thos Rowan was charged by Constable William Bryson with having at Armagh, unlawfully assaulted the said complainant and Constable E. Nangle while in the due execution of their duty as constables. It was the old story of Orange rowdyism. The Bench sentenced the accused to three calendar months, with hard labour, being a month for each of the assaults on the policeman and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed the following gentleman to the Commission of the Peace for the County of Louth: Sir A. Vere Forster, Mr. James Norton, Wellington place, Dundalk, and Mr. James McAdorey, builder, Dundalk. Mr. Norton's appointment is a popular one. He holds a responsible position in the Dundalk Foundry, to which he attained by his own talents and industry, and may thus be said, in truth, to be a workingman's magistrate.

TIPPERARY.
A man named Mortimer was killed on the railway between Nenagh and Maryborough, by a passing train.
Mr. J. Dawson, son of the late Town Clerk and Clerk of the Borough has been unanimously elected to fill the position held by his father.

WATERFORD.
At the last meeting of the Dun- garvan Board of Guardians, a resolution asking Mr. Alfred Webb, M. P., to reconsider his intended resignation of the Parliamentary Representation of Waterford was adopted.

ULSTER.
ANTRIM.
Mr. William Mullan, of Rockmount House, Carrmoney, has been sworn in as a Justice of the Peace for the County Antrim.

The Tory papers announce that Mr. H. C. Benoid-Furster, M. P., has arranged to visit Belfast soon, and will probably address a meeting of his constituents. It is hardly necessary to state that Mr. Forster's constituents are to be found among the 'True blues' of the Queen's Island district.

MUNSTER.
CLARE.
A well-known public-house at Kil- murray, about two miles from Limerick was burned down, the occurrence being attributed to malice. The premises had long been known under the name of 'The Huriers Cross,' and had been in possession of the same family for generations. The police are inquiring into the occurrence.

MUNSTER.
CORK.
At Dunmaus Hay, six hundred thousand mackerel were caught in one day, many being thrown back in the sea for want of buyers.
An old man named John Barry, residing at Ballygongane, ten miles from Midleton, died there at the remarkable age of 112 years.
At the Bantry Petty Sessions, three men, named Connor, Holland and Murphy, were fined £3 each for attempting to kill salmon in the River Oovane by means of a spear.

Messrs. Harrington of Cork have taken large warehouses and offices in London, in connection with their Shandon Chemical works.
A young man named Michael Her- ily lost his life by drowning, while boating on the strand at the mouth of the Douglas river.
Mr. J. J. Harding, Ballincellig, has been appointed to the Commission of the Peace for County Cork.

KERRY.
In Killarney an inquest was held by M. P. Trant McCarthy, coroner, touching the sudden death of Mr. Thomas Sullivan (aged 60). It appeared from the evidence of Dr. MacSweeney that the deceased was suffering from muscular rheumatism and succumbed to syncope, caused by failure of the heart's action. The jury found accordingly.
A farmer named Doherty while returning to his house at Reanaleen, from Castleisland was fired at, from behind a hedge. No motive is known for the outrage.
Captain Kough, R. M., has retired under the 65 rule, and will leave Tralee. He has been acting as R. M. of this district for over two years.

Intelligence has been received of the death of Jeremiah O'Connor, Telegraphist, Belfast, who was accidentally shot at the Maharees, a short time ago.
Mr. George Cole Baker, C. E., was accidentally drowned at Rossbeigh. Mr. William Johnson, who has been for the past six years assistant station master at Cilliarney, has received a well-earned promotion, being appointed station master at CloghJordan.

LIMERICK.
On his return to Fedamore, after an absence, through illness, of six months, Doctor Hartigan, Medical Officer of Croom Union, was presented with an address of welcome by the people of Fedamore and Schrule.

DONEGAL.
Sergeant Spalvey, R.I.C., has been transferred from Donegal to Trim, Co. Meath.

DOWN.
The fishing at Killough still keeps good, although the same remark does not apply to the herring fishing Ardglass.

MONAGHAN.
Most Rev. Dr. Dunally, Bishop of Clogher has appointed Rev. B. Duffy, P. P., Ballybay, to be parish priest of Fintona.

TYRONE.
The management of the Great Northern Railway is about to take steps to accelerate the passenger and goods traffic from the terminus at Cookstown to Stewartstown.

TYRONE.
The management of the Great Northern Railway is about to take steps to accelerate the passenger and goods traffic from the terminus at Cookstown to Stewartstown.

TYRONE.
The management of the Great Northern Railway is about to take steps to accelerate the passenger and goods traffic from the terminus at Cookstown to Stewartstown.

TYRONE.
The management of the Great Northern Railway is about to take steps to accelerate the passenger and goods traffic from the terminus at Cookstown to Stewartstown.

LAW AND LAWYERS.

A PROFESSION IN WHICH MANY ARE CALLED, BUT FEW ARE CHOSEN.

Difficulties Which Confront Young Bar- risters—How Literature and Politics Af- fect the Lawyer's Prospects. He Need Not Necessarily Be a Rascal.

Mr. Richard Deyreux Doyle, a prom- inent member of the Norfolk bar, contributes to The Southern Maga- zine an article (entitled "My Impressions of Law and Lawyers," which will prove very interesting to laymen as well as to members of the legal pro- fession. Mr. Doyle traces his theme instructively, entertainingly and with judicial impartiality and candour. He refers to the "Confessions of a Junior Barrister," by the brilliant Edward Leader Stiel, as embodying the early ex- periences of many capital and talented young lawyers.

"How many," says Mr. Doyle, "have passed through a similar course of study and preparation, perhaps graduating in the humanities as well as the law, being away the price for education and the cost of the books which the pursuit of legal studies entails. How many have thought that legal talents as theirs were sure to command early if not immed- iate success, and, and how many have been disappointed, although it may be added, in this respect from Stiel, who passed easily through the depressing period of waiting and probation which tries the soul of the ordinary legal aspirant, and who won the distinction which is his, by his success at the outset of his career."

Many of this grand army of the dis- appointed fall, Mr. Doyle thinks, not because they are lacking in "genuine talents," but because they are so many other elements that should not enter into the calculation of the youth- ful aspirant. "Genuine talent," he says, "is not enough. It is not enough to have a fine intellect and a fine education. Some fall because of their bad personal habits, some by infirm health, and too hard study and confinement are stricken down, like poor John White, when life is in its spring, some are not polite enough to meet the world, but feel proud about, trusting to their talents and knowledge, while the busy world goes laughing by without stopping to look at their greatness. Some stray into the pleasant and flowery paths of literature and some into the seductive field of politics."

"A literary reputation," Mr. Doyle deems, "is perhaps more dangerous than a political one, especially if one is given, like Mr. White, to dropping into poetry. The first is the practical for a successful combination of law and liter- ature. A lawyer may and should be cultivated, but he must not be known as a literary or a poet. Nor will it do for the young lawyer to seek to make himself known by going into politics. To do so is a risky venture for one who intends to make law the profession of a lifetime, and even a reputation for political activity is of little if any benefit to a lawyer. The public soon come to regard him as a politician and may be willing to vote with him or for him, but not to give him business."

Turning from the causes of failure to the qualities important to what is ordi- narily deemed success, Mr. Doyle enu- merates them as follows: "Love of the profession and a desire to get into it; industry and the appearance of industry and good native sense, with an unobtrusive and patient temperment. Fluency of speech, elegance of dic- tion and promptness of action are use- ful, but not essential. This partisan and aggressive spirit, which is akin to the 'old-fashioned' 'boldness.' "Mr. Doyle continues a particularly impor- tant element of success. "Men 'hire' lawyers, as the expression is among the people, to attend to their business and to fight the battles, right or wrong, and the lawyer who goes into a case thoroughly imbued with the client's feelings, believing or making believe that he is certainly right, and the other party an unmitigated rascal, is sure to please."

As to the ethical side of the law, Mr. Doyle admits that much may be said pro and con. One of the demoralizing features of the profession is that "a lawyer cannot choose his cases." He is sometimes on the wrong side, the side of the school and injustice, and when on the wrong side there is almost irresistible temptation to express belief in the justice of his cause, and lawyers to some extent yield to it, thus giving some ground for the popular accusa- tion that lawyers do for their clients." After all, whether "the law is a noble and elevating profession," depends upon the man. There is nothing in the nature of his profession which compels a lawyer to be a rascal. It has its tempta- tions, but so has every other business.

Many hard things have been said of lawyers, but the account is nearly bal- anced by the complimentary things that they have said of themselves and of their profession. Sir Edward Coke speaks of "the glorious light of juris- prudence," and a lack of self apprecia- tion is not in general one of the defects of the disciples of the law. They have, however, the consolation of knowing that in spite of all the abuse to which they have been subjected by satirical writers and poets they are not only useful but essential members of society, and that those who abuse them most ac- celerate the very first to rush to the lawyers to avenge or protect them in their hour of need.—Baltimore Sun.

Theta Orionis.
In the constellation of Orion there is a star known as Theta Orionis, which, when viewed through a powerful tele- scope, appears as a sextuplet star, thus presenting the magnificent panorama of seven stars revolving about each other. It is to be supposed that each of these stars is encircled by planets, and these again by moons.