ALL SAINTS' ALL SOULS.

Two Important Days in the Church Year.

The first and second days of November are dear to Catholic hearts, the one as a joyful feast, the other as a day on which mournful memories of our departed friends come trooping to the mind. The first mentioned date is the day on which the church honors all those sainted children who have no special day in the year on which their virtues may be commemorated. It is a holiday of obligation and in all the churches of our faith the priests and the faithful laymen participate in the solemnity. Confessions are heard on the evening preceding and each year as the festival comes round the altar rails are filled by Catholics prepared to receive the sacred body and blood of their Savior.

This year in all the city churches the attendance at the divine services has been fully equal to that of previous years.

On All Souls Day the suffering souls in Purgatory are remembered in a special manner. It is on this day, too, that the beautiful devotion of blessing the graves is properly held, but owing to the severity of the weather at this season, in this climate it is usually held some weeks earlier in the year.

The pious custom of handing in the names of one's departed relatives to the priest and requesting him to offer prayers and masses for the repose of their souls is growing more popular every year, and thousands of circulars and envelopes are annually printed and distributed for this purpose.

This year, as is well known, the ceremony of blessing the graves was postponed from the second Sunday of October to the first day of November. Needless of the bleak winds that blow in from the north all day Thursday and the moist condition of the ground underfoot, caused by a steady downpour of rain during the morning, a surprisingly large gathering assembled at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in the afternoon to witness the impressive and sacred ceremony.

At 8:30 o'clock Bishop McQuaid took his position at the altar, surrounded by all of the priests of Rochester and a half hundred students from St. Bernard's Seminary. Vespers for the dead were then sung. Rev. F. X. Sinclair acted as deacon, Rev. Father Hartley as sub-deacon and Rev. J. P. Kiernan as master of ceremonies, the other priests assisting. After vespers the Bishop, priests and students passed from the chapel to the western part of the cemetery chanting the usual service. Bishop McQuaid had announced that owing to the condition of the roadway all of the graves would not be passed by the procession, but that in the future, no matter what the weather might be, the full service would be conducted. As the procession returned, Bishop McQuaid stepped upon a small platform near the entrance of the chapel and in the presence of quite 4,000 people made his annual address and gave his blessing upon the souls of the dead.

THE ELECTION.

Editor Catholic Journal:

As this is the last issue that will reach your readers before election, take the liberty of calling the attention of many readers of the CATHOLIC JOURNAL to the important duty that is awaiting us on Tuesday next. Never in the lives of many of your readers have they been confronted with such a feeling against our Catholic people as is shown at the present time by that secret organization known as the A. P. A. and if by any chance the Republican party should carry this election it will be a great victory for the above named society. I know many Catholics who have been identified with the Republican party, and who still cling to it, thinking that the present cry of Democrats is simply for votes, but let them beware. On their vote this time may depend our freedom, and our right to love honor and obey that Church that is so near and dear to us all without being subject to annoyance and petty persecution. Now is the time fellow Catholics to show the world that we are proud of the name of Catholic and ever to fight for its cause. The time is at hand when we must vote to sustain that peace and love for good citizenship that was laid down by our forefathers, and that we as Catholics should always try to maintain. Let every man who claims to be a Catholic, on election day cast his ballot for the defeat of the cowardly A. P. A.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Savard Celebrate their fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Savard celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Monday morning at the Church of Our Lady of Victory. Rev. Father Notebart said the Mass assisted by Fathers DeRogge, Libert and Debe.

A large number of friends of the couple, all of their children and a number of grandchildren were present. Among the children who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donette, Mrs. Edward Livingston, Miss Hattie Savard, Miss Hortense Savard and Joseph H. Eugene and Louis B. Savard. The ushers at the church were two grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Savard, Eugene Donette and Ray Savard. The acolytes were four grandchildren, Edwin, Louis and Lorenzo Savard and Arthur Donette.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Savard held a reception at the French hall. The guests began to arrive at seven o'clock and by eight the hall was filled. Word was given to proceed to the banquet room where after doing justice to the supper, speeches were called for by Rev. A. Notebart who presided at the head table. Among those who responded were Revs. Libert and Debe, Mr. P. Savard, Jos. Savard, Arthur Donette, and Mr. Sinclair. Jerome Kowter's orchestra kept the room filled with the strains of sweet music during the banquet, and afterwards played for those who wished to dance.

Mingus's Military band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Savard during the evening and played several very fine selections. Mr. and Mrs. Savard received a large number of both useful and ornamental presents for which they desire to thank their many friends.

THE GOSPELS.

GOSPEL: St. Matthew viii 23-25

At that time: "When He entered into the boat His disciples followed Him: And behold a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves, but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him, and awakened Him, saying: Lord, save us, we perish. And Jesus saith to them: Why are you fearful, O ye of little faith? Then rising up He commanded the winds and the sea, and there came a great calm. But the men wondered, saying: What manner of man is this, for the winds and the sea obey Him?"

The ship mentioned in this Gospel represents the Church in the midst of the vicissitudes of the world. Jesus Christ, true to His promise, is ever with the Catholic Church and will protect it to the end of time.
