ROSCOMMON.
 A shocking murder was committed at Ladarn, recently, between Stokes-town and Elphin, the victim being the wife of a farmer named Oates. She was found by the police, next morning, in her house (in which she lived alone), lying in a pool of blood with her skull battered in. The deceased whose husband is in America, farmed a considerable holding of land, and was reported to have a large sum of money in the bank. Two of her nephews, named Michael and Hugh Oates, have been arrested on the charge of complicity in the crime. However, it is generally supposed she was murdered by tramps, intent on robbery.

LEITRIM.
 Mr. George Allen, second son of Mr. Joshua Allen, of Dromahair, has been appointed to the important and lucrative position of Assistant Surveyor of Taxes, in London. Mr. Allen was the only Irish candidate who secured a place, and his success, following so closely upon a brilliant record at a recent Excise examination is highly creditable.

SLIGO.
 At the Sligo Michaelmas Quarter Sessions, County Court Judge O'Connor Morris proceeded to the hearing of ejectment processes brought at the suit of Mr. A. Verschoyle, Nathcombe House, St. Mary's Church, Devon, against a number of his tenants at Ardunree, county Sligo, for arrears in some cases amounting to six year's rent. The first case called was that of Mrs. Higgins, who was proceeded against for £57, six year's rent. After hearing evidence Judge Morris said that two year's arrears was all the landlord could recover; and, if he did not take that, he (Judge Morris) would adjourn all the cases from session to session, and would give judgment against all the tenants who the landlord will have

 At the Killinick Petty Sessions, a case of much interest in the locality was heard. The defendant was the famous Matthew Thomas, Martins-town, and the charge against him was that on the 4th October, 1894, at Martins-town, in the county of Wexford, he did unlawfully shoot at Patrick Donohoe and Patrick Fardy, with intent to do them grievous bodily harm. After the evidence had been heard, the magistrates refused information against the prisoner.

WICKLOW.
 In Dublin, Mr. James H. North, auctioneer, put up for sale, at 110 Grafton street, the 'Big Rock Quarry' at Arklow, the property of the late Mr. Charles S. Parnell, with the machinery on the premises. The sale was at the direction of the High Court of Justice in England on the judgment in the case of Campbell v. Parnell. The auctioneer, in announcing the opening of the sale, quoted Sir Charles Cameron's opinion in favor of the quality of the stone, and spoke of the occasion as one for the employment of home capital. There were several well-known citizens of Dublin among those present, and the sale was watched with a curious interest. Mr. John Howard Parnell (brother of the deceased owner) started the bidding at £1,000, and there were a couple of perfunctory bids, after which John H. Parnell was declared the purchaser of the property at £1,200.

DUBLIN.

The action was brought by a widow lady, residing in the county of Meath; and the defendant, who is a shopkeeper and farmer at Mullagh, county of Cavan, allowed judgment to go by default. Dr. Kidd, of Merrion square, Dr. Ryan, of Balleborough, and Dr. Duignan, of Moynalty, were examined in support of the plaintiff's case as was also the plaintiff herself. The defendant was also examined. The jury assessed the damages at £285.

QUEEN'S.
 The funeral of the late Mr. William Jessop, of Maryborough, which took place recently, was one of the largest held in the town for a long time. There were few men better known in Queen's County than Mr. Jessop, and his business as an auctioneer was of the most extensive and lucrative character. The large gathering, of farmers and townspeople in the funeral cortege testified to the great esteem in which he had been held. Deceased was in the prime of life.

WEXFORD.

an attack of pneumonia, with speedily fatal results. Father O'Brien was one of three brothers who entered the Church. One died not very long ago, in Fethard, county Tipperary, and the other is connected with the Augustinian Order in the town of New Boss. Father O'Brien succeeded Father Williams as Prior at Dungarvan, and had labored in the Old Borough for over fifteen years with a piety, zeal, and truly Christian feeling which endeared him to all who had an opportunity of appreciating the value of his labors. He was a native of Callan, and had reached the age of 66 years, but was an active and healthy man up to the time of his illness.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.
 The Duke of York, through his private secretary, has written to the Town Clerk of Belfast declining to open the Arts and Industries Exhibition in that city on the ground that it is 'contrary to rule for his Royal Highness to open a purely local exhibition.'

ARMAUGH.
 We regret to announce the death of Mr. Matthew Burke, J.P., of Middletown. The deceased gentleman enjoyed the friendship of an unusually wide circle of acquaintances, and the news of his death will be received by them and by all who knew him with sincere sorrow. In his native county and surrounding districts Mr. Burke filled a large space in the public view. He was a Justice of the Peace for the counties of Armagh and Monaghan, and a Governor of the Armagh District Lunatic Asylum. Mr. Burke was a staunch and determined Nationalist, and he was ever ready to do a man's part in the National cause. In all the relations of life he was a kindly, upright man.

DERRY.
 The death is announced of Mr. James McCafferty, solicitor, of Derry, which took place at his residence. The deceased was a member of a highly respected old Catholic family, and, for a great number of years, practiced in partnership with his brother, the late Mr. Andrew McCafferty, who died over a year ago. His final illness only lasted a few days, he having caught a sudden chill while engaged at the Letterkenny Quarter Sessions.

KERRY.
 A large rick of hay, containing upwards of eighty tons, was burned at Mounthawke recently. The hay, which was the property of Mr. Jeremiah Brennan, of the Hibernian Hotel, Tralee, was discovered on fire about six o'clock, and as a strong wind was blowing at the time, it was found impossible to get the flames under control. The origin of the fire cannot be traced, but it is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. Mr. Brennan, who is a large exporter of pressed hay, is most popular in the district, and can assign no reason for the burning except pure wantonness.

LIMERICK.
 It is understood that the present Mayor of Limerick will be a candidate for re-election to a third term of office. The Mayor attended at the Town Hall to hear objections, if any, to the candidature of Messrs. John O'Donnell and Wm. At the regular meeting of the Enniskillen Town Commissioners, here being a large attendance of commissioners, a long discussion ensued as to the advisability of taking steps to induce the Postmaster-General to have the English mails carried via Greenore, for the purpose of enabling letters for places in Great Britain to be posted at Enniskillen fully three hours later than at present. Ultimately it was unanimously resolved,—"That the Enniskillen Town Commissioners request the Postmaster-General to have the English mail carried via Greenore, in addition to the present service via Kingstown, so as to permit of English letters being posted three hours later than at present at Enniskillen.
