DOINGS IN ALBANY.

Legislative Proceedings In Both Senate and Assembly.

ALBANY, Feb. 21.—The public building committee reported favorably the Lawson flag bill, and on request of Senator Robertson it went to third reading.

Other bills passed.

Senator Robertson's, amending the election law so as to require nominations to be filed at least four days before election.

Senator O'Connor's, providing that when relatives are able to provide proper care, insane patients may be discharged from state hospitals.

Adjourned.

Both branches of the legislature will adjourn over Friday, Washington's birthday.

In the house Mr. Foley moved that the committee on cities be discharged from further consideration of Mr. Norton's bill, extending the power of removal to the mayors of all the cities in the state

Mr. Ainsworth moved to lay the motion on the table. He declared it was a reflection on the committee. The motion to lay on the table prevailed

M. F. Smith's bill, increasing jurors' fees in justices' courts from 25 cents to $1, was passed.

The Braun pass bill, as amended by the incorporation of the Louis Marshall substitute, which compels all transportation companies to carry public officers free, was first on the house calendar

A. R. Conkling moved to strike out the enacting clause

The motion was lost 32 ayes to 76 noes—and the bill was advanced to a third reading.

ALBANY, Feb 22.—Senator Persons in the senate passed the assembly bill providing for submitting to the people the question of issuing $9,000,000 bonds for canal improvements by a vote of 29 to 4. It now goes to the governor.

The Lawson flag bill, preventing the display of foreign flags on public buildings, passed the senate after some debate by a vote of 29 to 6. This bill is also now ready for Governor Morton.

Other bills passed:

A. R. Conkling's, making it a misdemeanor to solicit a candidate for elective office to buy tickets to picnics, etc.

M. F. Smith's relative to the duties of the treasurer of the school district at Hornellsville.

Mr. Nixon's, prohibiting spearing of fish in Chautauqua lake.

Among the most important bills reported in the house were the following from the ways and means committee:

The annual appropriation bill printed.

Mr. Lounsberry's, appropriating $70,000 for a state normal and training school at New Paltz

E. C. Stewart's, appropriating $100,000 for constructing and equipping a state veterinary college at Cornell university

Senator Parker's, appropriating $16,000 for improving the electric lighting and ventilating of the state armory at Albany

The judiciary committee reported Mr. Terry's bill, making it a misdemeanor for any person to obtain, wrongfully, knowledge of any telephonic message, or for any clerk or operator to divulge telephonic or telegraphic messages except to the proper person.

ALBANY, Feb. 23.—The bill placing a price on the heads of sparrows was protested against in a petition handed up by Senator Parsons

The State Homeopathic society presented a petition that the regents be allowed to endorse the certificates of physicians from Pennsylvania and New Jersey, so as to allow them to practice in the state without examination.

Bills passed: E. L. Smith's, amending charter of village of Mohawk, relative to duties of trustees.

Senator Wolff's, allowing New York's board of health to make and sell diphtheria anti-toxine.

Senator Ahearn, increasing the pensions of widows and orphans of firemen from $800 to half pay annually.

Mr. Pavey's, giving the Citizens' Loan agency and Guarantee company additional powers

In the assembly Mr Ainsworth presented a concurrent resolution that the legislature of the state of New York urge upon congress to designate Feb. 10, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, as a national holiday.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr Schoepflin's bill to provide for the incorporation of associations for lending money on personal property, met with an obstruction on the order of second reading. Mr. Foley called the attention of the house to the fact that it was the same bill which was defeated last year. It was a pawnbroker's bill, pure and simple, and permitted the charge of 36 per cent per year for a loan.

Mr. Schoepflin corrected Mr. Foley. Only 26 per cent could be charged under the bill, he said

Messrs. Maltby and Armstrong attacked the bill in vigorous language.

Mr Schoepflin asked leave to have the bill laid aside, which was granted.

A large number of petitions against Sunday opening of saloons was presented. Mr Brush presented one signed by 15,259 persons

ALBANY, Feb. 27.—Lieutenant Governor Saxton called the senate to order, and the senators got down to business at once. There was the largest calendar of the session on their desks.

The committee on commerce and navigation reported favorably the nomination of Wadham Storrs of Albany as harbormaster, and it was confirmed.

A lively discussion was precipitated when the West Troy bi-partisan police bill came up that involved the New York city bills.

The measure was finally advanced to third reading.

Senator O'Connor's whipping post bill was taken up, but amended by him so that the whipping be only for rape, sodomy and incest.

The bill was then ordered reprinted and will have to wait three days before it can be passed.

In the assembly a resolution was adopted fixing the hour of assembling on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week at 10:30 a. m.

Bills passed:

J. H. Clark's, appropriating $11,500 for completing the state armory at Niagara Falls.

Mr. Eldridge's, appropriating $10,000 to complete the state armory at Glens Falls.

Mr. Stanchfield introduced a bill to provide for the creation of a state board of architects of seven, selected by the American Institute of Architects with the governor's approval. No salaries.

Mr. Dean, by request, introduced a bill exempting from taxation all improvements to farm lands, all farm buildings and stock and household goods to the amount of $2,000. This practically makes the only tax collectable a land tax.

RIOTING IN SAVANNAH.

Uprising of Catholics Against Ex-Priest Slattery.

STATE MILITIA UNDER ARMS.

Efforts Made by the Mob to Prevent the ex-Priest From Lecturing on Catholicism Met by Police and Troops—Several Bayonet Charges Upon the Crowd. Firmness of the Authorities All That Prevented Bloodshed.

SAVANNAH, Feb 27 Last night was the most exciting in the history of Savannah For five hours the city trembled on the verge of religious riots. The entire white military force of the city, except the artillery, has been on duty, 10 infantry companies and the Georgia Hussars, the latter being dismounted, have been under arms

A mob, estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000, a great part being Catholics, has challenged their forbearance to the extreme.

But for the coolness of Mayor Herman Myers and the officers commanding the troops, blood might have been the result Bayonet charges were made several times to clear the streets, but the mob, which had gathered about Masonic Temple, one of the principal buildings of the city and situated in the heart of Savannah, stubbornly refused to retire

For three days it had been apparent that grave trouble was brewing The city had been liberally placarded with notices that ex Priest Slattery and his wife described as an ex nun, would lecture here on Catholicism Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at once took steps to prevent their appearance here

Petitions were circulated asking Mayor Myers to refuse to permit the ex priest to hold his lecture The petition said that if Slattery was allowed to speak there would be disorder and riot. About 500 signed the petition

When it was presented to the mayor by a committee of 12 Catholics, including the presidents of two divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, he handed them a written opinion from the corporation attorney to the effect that he as mayor had no power to abridge the right of speech guaranteed by the constitution of the United States and Georgia.

In his opinion, the city attorney said, there could be no disorder or trouble if those who would be offended by Slattery's remarks would stay away from his lecture He urged and to do so. Mayor Myers also asked the committee to advise all Catholics to keep away from the lecture.

"I cannot stop this man from lecturing," said the mayor, who is a Hebrew, "but I can prevent disorder and will do so If the police are not sufficient force to do so the military will be appealed to. Riot will not be tolerated."

The committee stated that it was their desire to avoid trouble and that they would use their influence in that direction They did so, but their efforts utterly failed All day it was rumored that mobs would come from different sections of the city and that Slattery would be killed

The fact that he was to put on the garb of a priest in the course of his lecture spread like wildfire and raised an intense feeling among Catholics

Mayor Myers issued instructions to Chief McDermott to have the entire available police force on hand at Masonic Temple. Fifteen policemen were stationed inside the hall and 30 others were massed in front. By 7 o'clock several hundred had collected.

When Slattery arrived the mob had not assumed large enough proportions to cope with the police.

By 8 o'clock a howling mob of over 1,500 surrounded Masonic hall In the hall were an audience of about 400, including a number of ladies.

The lecturer had hardly began before brickbats and cobblestones began to rain on the windows The police had closed all the heavy inside shutters. This saved the audience from injury, only two or three being injured by flying glass. The rest of the police force was called out and 50 officers were soon in front of the hall. The mob made rushes to secure an entrance, but were driven back time after time by the police.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS' FUNERAL.

Crowds of People View the Remains of the Great Freedman.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The remains of Frederick Douglass were conveyed to the Metropolitan African Methodist Episcopal church, there to lie in state until the funeral service.

Before the removal from Cedar Hill, Anacostia, Mr Douglass' late residence, brief services for the immediate relatives were conducted by Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson of the Anacostia Baptist church.

As soon as the casket was in place before the altar, the doors were thrown open and the people, already waiting in crowds outside, were admitted to the church to pay their last respects. A great crowd passed in and out.

Many distinguished persons were present at the funeral services.

After the religious services the body was placed on the train to be taken to Rochester for burial

DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN TROUBLE.

Charges Filed Against William D. Painter of Broome County.

ALBANY, Feb 26.—Charges were preferred against William D Painter, district attorney of Broome county The deponent of the affidavit, in which are contained the charges, alleges that he has been told that the district attorney refused to allow the bank examiner to examine the Chenango Valley bank, to appear before the grand jury of Broome county, and present certain charges against the officers of the bank. The person who presents the charges is a resident of this city and a newspaper man.

The examiner of the bank, who, it is alleged, was refused the privilege of appearing before the grand jury to present the charges against the bank officials, will also be asked to file a statement.

It is asked that a commission be appointed to examine into and pass upon the charges, and if the commission finds they are true, that District Attorney Painter be removed.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
