It is not every one who knows how to down Broadway the wholesale stores display the sign, "No goods sold at retail." or the more emphatic announcement, "Positively no goods at retail." Inquiry at these places will only bring out the assurance that everything is sold by the dozen, if the stock be divisible in that way, but as no one wants a dozen hats, or a dozen neckties, or a dozen boxes of collars, or a dozen suits of clothes, the fact that the price by the dozen is about 20 or 80 per cent less than the retail price is neither a very comforting nor saving one. The ingenious gentlemen who are "in trade" have found out a way to make rotail purchases at wholesale rates and yet not transcend the commercial role ter. The two journals will be consolidated which prohibits wholesale men from angaging in rotall business. When these clever fellows want a new neektle or two provided there are no samples handy, they send around for "one-quar-ter dozen cravata" of such and such a pattern, or two meer who wear the same size gloves will make a purchase of one-sixth of a dosen, while it is related with much glee among the Baums and the Bergs that one smart salesman put in a seriously worded order for "onetwelfth of a dozen brown derby hate, extra quality, size 7½." He got the hat, and, moreover, he got it for $2.37. while its retail price would have been $8.50.-- New York Sun.
