St. Joseph's Fair.

St. Joseph's Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity every evening this week, and none of those present had cause to complain of a lack of entertainment. The decorations of the hall have been improved since the commencement of the fair, and the booths, which were designed and constructed by George Nooth, Jr., display both skill and originality. Every evening a different entertainment was given.

The fair began Monday night, and was continued every evening until and including next week Tuesday evening. It opens at 8 o'clock, and supper and light refreshments of all kinds are served until midnight. The object of the entertainment is that of raising money for making extensive improvements on the church. The edifice is to be newly painted, and new windows are to be put in place. ANNUAL INSPECTION.

UNIFORMED UNION MAKES A BRILLIANT SHOWING AT THE STATE ARMY.

The annual inspection, review, and dress parade of the Roman Catholic Uniformed Union took place Thursday night at the State Armory. The many friends of the Union filled all chairs that could be placed in the big hall and a large crowd was forced to remain standing and experience the strong heat the warriors feel in standing out on one foot and then on the other. While the spectators were assembling, the Minga Military Band, under the direction of J. Fred Minga, rendered an enjoyable programme.

The commands which were in line were: St. Mauritius Union, St. Joseph's Parish, Capt. Charles L. Gerstner; Knights of St. George, St. Michael's Parish; Capt. Harry F. Wegman; Knights of St. Stanislaus, St. Joseph's Parish; Capt. Martin J. Coughlin; St. Boniface Union, St. Boniface Parish; Capt. August Papert; SS. Peter and Paul's Union, SS. Peter and Paul's Parish; Capt. Joseph P. Frieden; Knights of St. Louis, Holy Rosary Parish; Capt. Frank L. Gartner; Knight of St. Michael's, St. Michael's Parish; Capt. Joseph Schwab; Knights of St. Theodore, Holy Family Parish; Capt. J. Wahl.

The eight companies each had about fifty men in line, making a total of 400, which when formed in double line, reached around three sides of the Armory.

The scene presented was at once beautiful and impressive, many pretty girls in evening dress being among the spectators. Interested in the intricate maneuvers but anxious to have it all over and to have the dancing begin. The long straight line of blue, enlivened with glittering gold lace and bright swords and a particular figure in those lines, formed a picture that many of them will not soon forget.

The companies were first inspected by Inspector Capt. J. J. Nunnold, after which each company was given a chance to show what it could do in the way of drilling and many new and intricate maneuvers were performed prominent among which were the wheel and the cross. After the exhibition drills the line was reviewed by Surgeon F. W. Maloney, then followed a dress parade and at last, after two hours of hard drilling on a slippery floor the weary knights were allowed to break ranks and seek partners for the dance.

The field staff officers of the Roman Catholic Uniformed Union are: Col. Henry N. Schlick; Lieutenant Col. John Ruber; Major, P. Cooper; Junior Major, Joseph Hesslinger; Adjutant, J. P. Lehman; Art Adjunct, F. Klemmer; Inspector, J. D. Nunnold; Surgeon, F. W. Maloney; M. D. Engineer, Rudolph Way; Postmaster, Joseph Stalkecht; Commissary, F. X. Poetry; Quartermaster, F. F. Siebert; Chief of Equipment, Leo Sander; Judge Advocate, John P. Smith; Aide de Camp, Dominick Kraft; Signaled Volt; George Fromme, Paul Capron.

For the CATHOLIC JOURNAL OUR MAY COLUMBIA.

May brings forth all nature,
Flowers sweet and rare,
Day-break bright and glowing,
And all things pure and fair.
The violet with drooping blossoms,
Lilac pure and sweet,
Will be gathered with loving hands
To place at "our sweet May Queen," feet."

The sweetest, quaintest little beds,
And small pale green,
Will be bought with all reverence
To our lovely Heavenly Queen.

Still our Mother of heaviness
Would appreciate our gift
Far more if feel safe to say,
It to her our hearts were left.
So we will gather hearts with the flowers,

And some little prayer each day;
Gently each day drawing us nearer,
To our lovely Queen of May.

FRAUDULENT ADVERTISING.

He who dishes soup can say,
Rob me of that which has nothing to do
And leaves me poor indeed!

It is a very serious thing for a business man to lose his good name. His reputation for integrity is a valuable part of his stock in trade. It is an actual saving power reducible to dollars and cents. When does not we think of the business people of the country who deliberately throw away their good name?

Business men who are honest, modest, and truthful are the ones
most successful.

It would be a severe blow to any business man possibly even to whose reputation is really known.

Many business men

to the way they conduct their business.
