VICTORY FOR COLUMBIA.

Cornell and Penna, Lewis Freshman Crews Easily Defeated. PORT HURON, N. Y., June 26.—The 4-mile stretch of Hudson river opposite Poughkeepsie has been christened as an intercollegiate course by the contest which was won by Columbia's eight over those of Cornell and Pennsylvania. Cornell was beaten by about six boat lengths, and while the victory was being won Pennsylvania's men, cramped within three-quarters of a mile of the finish, were sitting in their shells, waist-deep in the water waiting to be rescued by an approaching tug. Three distinctive forms of applying strength to the sweeps of the shell were observed during this contest.

Cornell in her work was sharp, crisp, rapid in movement; Columbia had the broad reach, thorough finish, with beef at the start of the stroke and mopping power at the finish. Pennsylvania rowed the heavy, laborious stroke of the early aquatic contests and gained slightly at the end of her row well on toward the second mile, and then lost until she floundered.

The race was started by the word from the referee at 6:53 p. m. Cornell got the water first with a crisp three strokes, but lost it almost before it could be detected by spectators. Columbia, who had taken the water second with surging strokes at 6:58, pulled her nose to the fore, Pennsylvania and Cornell rowing nose and nose. This order was maintained until nearly the half mile. Cornell at one time near her stroke up to 45, while Columbia, never losing a foot of gain, was digging 35 holes a minute in the water. Pennsylvania, coming down the river first mile, rowed a laboring, heavy stroke of 84 to 86. The first mile was finished in 15 minutes, and in the first stretch of the second mile the crews encountered wind against tide and all were splashing.

At the two miles Columbia was rowing evidently within herself, while Cornell at 44 to the minute was gaining on the leader and Pennsylvania labored doggedly along in the rear at 40 strokes.

Columbia entered the third mile 10 seconds ahead of Cornell, while Pennsylvania was third by 20 seconds. From this on to the end of the third mile it was a race in procession, Columbia gaining on Cornell and Cornell gaining on Pennsylvania.

In the last length Columbia spurred to 40 strokes, finishing five lengths ahead of Cornell, while a tug at the same moment was rescuing the Pennsylvania eight, who had sunk in their shell waist deep in the river before all reached them.

The race was rowed in 21m. 20s., a minute and 16 seconds better than the New London record.

KERNGOOD'S BODY FOUND.

Partial Clearing of a Mystery Which Has Puzzled Many.

ROCHESTER, June 26.—Assistant Chief of Police John C. Hayden received a dispatch from Coroner Walker of Niagara county, stating that the body of Jacob S. Kerngood, who so mysteriously disappeared from a Michigan Central train between Chicago and New York last October, was found near Niagara Falls. Kerngood was last seen alive at Detroit. His relatives spent hundreds of dollars in search of the missing man, but could get no trace of him. Kerngood was a brother of Edward Kerngood of Denver, and the senior member of the firm of Carson & Kerngood, clothing manufacturers of this city.

Kerngood Was Heavily Insured. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 26.—There is now every prospect that the Jacob S. Kerngood case is destined to become a celebrated one. This is likely to be so on account of the action of the insurance companies. Moses Kerngood stated that as far as he knew, his brother had only $10,000 insurance, but Lewiston has been filling up with insurance men who claim that Jacob Kerngood carried no less than $38,000 insurance.

This is a very easy matter, as the bonds are all there already in charge of William E. Curtis, an assistant secretary of the treasury, and other treasury officials. The officials at the subtreasury as well as the managers of the syndicate declined to say in what form the $6,800,000 was deposited, but it is understood that the payment was made in treasury gold certificates, which is the same as if the actual gold had been deposited.

M'ALPIN FOR PRESIDENT

Election of the National Republican League.

SILVER PROBLEM WAS A POSER.

After Working Two Days and One Night on an "Address to the People," the Silverites Killed It Because It Ignored Silver.

CLEVELAND, June 26.—The national convention of Republican clubs had an eventful day, the storm center being the silver question.

George B. Green, state president of New York, in an eloquent speech placed in nomination General E. A. McAlpin for president of the National league.

The mentioning of General McAlpin's name was greeted with tremendous and prolonged applause.

General Carr, on behalf of Illinois, seconded the nomination of General McAlpin.

Pennsylvania also seconded the nomination.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, who sat with the Washington delegation, followed in a happy speech in favor of the Empire state candidate for the presidency.

Nearly all of the states seconded the nomination.

General McAlpin was elected president by acclamation and a committee of three was appointed to escort him to the hall.

The newly elected president expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He said that as long as he should remain president of the league the only motto should be "Work, Work, Work."

CLEVELAND, June 26.—The eighth national convention of Republican clubs has closed. All week there was apprehension of an embarrassing fight on the silver question, but nothing was disposed of in all the proceedings so quietly as that matter.

The committee on resolutions had settled this matter by deciding to report that the league had no constitutional right to adopt resolutions and its report to that effect was approved. Constitutional limitations are sometimes in the way, but in this case the constitution was considered convenient by both factions.

The gold standard men were not satisfied, but they could not see any way to do anything better than to adopt the Patton substitute as given in these dispatches yesterday.

The silver men are elated. They say that if free silver was not adopted nothing else was adopted, and that it indicates that the Republicans concede they cannot get along without the Western states, although it would not have been done without a fight on the floor of the convention, the Western delegates expected to have anti-free resolutions adopted over their protests.

They claim to have received more advantage than ever expected at a national Republican convention.

A Small Boy's Good Memory. One of the dentists of this city has a precocious child of about 4 summers. The bright little fellow keeps his father and mother wide awake during the whole day by his wit and keeness. When the child was about 2 years of age, his parents visited Niagara falls. Baby went along. The other day a friend of the family was at the house, and she spoke of Niagara. The 4-year old kiddie spoke up that he had been there. His mother told him that he certainly could not remember it, but the child said that he could. His mother asking him what it looked like, Johnnie replied, "It looks like a great big ocean going awful fast."—Albany Journal.

Perfection of the Bicycle. The mechanical strength of a cycle needs little comment when a 30 inch wheel weighing 20 ounces sustains without permanent distortion the weight of four men standing on its side, with supports at four points only under the rim and nothing under the hub. A cycle weighing less than nine pounds will carry a man weighing 160 to 175 pounds, and even a 24 pound machine carries a greater load with safety than any other vehicle.

How to Keep Lemons Fresh. It is not generally known that lemons may be easily and almost indefinitely preserved under glass. Some, one year, were purchased on the Fourth of July, and, by way of experiment, each one was put under an inverted goblet. FITZSIMMONS ON TRIAL.

Charged With Manslaughter in Killing Con Horman.

SYRACUSE, June 24.—The trial of Bob Fitzsimmons for the murder of his sparring partner, Con Horman, in this city on Nov. 15 last, was moved in the court of sessions.

Intense interest is being taken in the sporting and antiparting circles in the trial, as there is a decided feeling among generally, and others hold that he should be acquitted of the charge in the indictment for manslaughter in the first degree.

The trial will undoubtedly take the entire week, as the case is of the utmost importance to the accused, who, if found guilty, it is feared will be obliged to cancel his match with Corbett for the heavy-weight championship.

Towe was not indicted. One of the witnesses was arrested for drunkenness a week ago, and she confessed that she had not told the truth before the grand jury. Towe disappeared two days later, and it was thought he had fled the city, but the police admit today that he has been under arrest since the girl's confession. Another witness is also locked up.
