TREASURY DEBT STATEMENT.

Condition of the Nation's Finances For the Year Just Ended.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The treasury deficit for the fiscal year just closed is found by today's debt statement to be approximately $43,250,000. This added to last year's deficit of nearly $7,000,000 makes the excess of expenditures over receipts since June 30, 1893, about $113,250,000.

The total receipts of the government this fiscal year, exclusive of postal revenues, amount to nearly $313,000,000 and the expenditures $356,250,000, of which pensions took $141,891,623.

Last year the aggregate receipts exclusive of postal revenues were $297,722,019 and the expenditures $307,525,279.

The receipts this year, therefore, were $15,278,000 greater than last and the expenditures about $11,275,000 less.

The postal service deficit is about $11,000,000, which is considerably in excess of that of any recent year.

The internal revenue department of the government has contributed this year to the receipts nearly $143,000,000 as against a little more than $147,000,000 last year.

The customs this year make a better showing than last by about $21,000,000. Last year the receipts from this source amounted to nearly $132,000,000, and this year they approximate $168,000,000.

Today's debt statement shows an available cash balance of about $195,000,000, of which about $107,500,000 is gold reserve. This reserve will include payment in full for the last bond issue, but the statement will show a counter debt charge of only $81,157,700 in bonds, or one-half of the whole amount issued.

In explanation of this seeming error, it is said that the formal transfer of the London half of the bonds has not yet been made.

The expenditures for July will be exceptionally heavy. Pensions and interest alone are expected to amount to $20,000,000.

DEFENDER'S BAD START.

Stuck in the Ways and Defied All Efforts at Launching.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 1.—All efforts to release the Defender have proved futile and she is still fast in the same position into which she sank during the unsuccessful attempt to launch her Saturday. Steel hawsers were attached to the cradle and tugs took them aboard and started to pull at the obstructed mechanism.

The strain was too great and the gearing on one tug broke and the hawser held by the other snapped asunder.

From this it is feared that the work of releasing the boat will be much more difficult than was anticipated up to that time. The Herreshoffs, however, assert a belief that she will come loose.

Hundreds of visitors came to town to view the yacht as she rested at the foot of the ways and a large number of yachtsmen sailed into the harbor. All day sightseers lined the water front in the vicinity of the Herreshoffs' works, the visitors making it the liveliest Sunday known here in a long time.

Defender Finally Launched.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 2.—The Defender was finally pulled off the ways by the tug Right Arm.

It is now said that the reason the boat was not successfully launched Saturday is because the ways were not properly oiled.

It is claimed that part of the ways were greased in wet weather and that the oil was washed off.

Alleged Attempt at Train Robbery.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The employes of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad think an attempt was made by robbers to wreck one of its fast eastbound trains near Monocacy, Md., about 35 miles from here. The train was running at high speed between 11 and 12 o'clock, when suddenly there was a terrific explosion. The crew stuck to their posts, and the train was brought to a standstill, when it was found that though the cars had been considerably damaged and the headlight and other parts of the locomotive scattered through the woods, no persons had been injured. The train, No. 46, is known as the "money train," and it is thought that dynamite was used to wreck it in the hope of subsequently looting the express car. A search failed to develop any signs of robbers, if it were an attempt at robbery, and the road's detectives are investigating the affair.

Mrs. Watson Discharged From Custody.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., July 2.—Mary Wright of Watson was discharged from custody. She had been held for the murder, five years ago, of her first husband, James Hughes. At the examination before Justice Eggleton, District Attorney Jay Cox moved for the discharge of the prisoner. On that motion being denied, the defendant's counsel waived cross-examination. The prosecution then rested. The defendant's counsel moved for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground of insufficient evidence. District Attorney Jay Cox joined in the motion, whereupon the prisoner was discharged and the proceedings dismissed.

Revolting Execution at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—Michael McDonough, the Kenton wife murderer, was hanged at 12:08 this morning in the penitentiary annex. The execution was sickening. The rope cut deep into the neck when the body dropped, severing the windpipe and jugular vein. The blood spurted over Dr. Jones, one of the physicians, who was standing near the scaffold, then flowed in a torrent to the stone floor of the room. Some of the spectators turned white. The heart beats ceased in 11½ minutes. McDonough exhibited the utmost indifference to his fate.

Big Blaze In Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Fire burned out a number of firms in the Commercial Traders' building. Two men—Wesley Smith, the janitor, and Charles Brown—were sleeping on the third floor at the time the fire was discovered and narrowly escaped death. They climbed down the fire escapes, but both were badly cut by the falling glass. Fireman Brown was also badly cut by the falling glass. Total loss estimated at $115,000.

Robinsons Demand a New Trial.

BUFFALO, July 2.—Judge Hardesty, counsel for Clarence and Sadie Robinson, who were recently convicted of killing Montgomery Gibbs, states that an application will be made for a new trial on the strength of newly discovered evidence. The evidence, he claims, establishes a complete alibi for the prisoners on the night of the murder, and will contain some sensational features.

Cyclist Smith's Third Attempt.

CHICAGO, July 1.—A. E. Smith, the letter carrier, has started from the city hall on his third attempt to break the Chicago-New York record.

DEEP PLOT REVEALED.

More In Cottle's Abduction Than First Appeared.

OLD CRIMINAL CASE INVOLVED.

The Kidnaper Proves to Have Been John C. Emery, an Ex-Convict, Who Had Paid Cottle Large Sums For a Pardon He Never Received.

BUFFALO, June 28.—One of the boldest and most successful schemes for the extortion of money that was ever conceived and carried to conclusion by the brain of man, the Cottle kidnaping case now appears to be after the light of one day has been cast upon it.

The author of the plot to relieve Octavius C Cottle of $5,000 in cash was no stranger, either to his victim or to this city, nor was he an ordinary criminal.

He coolly calculated on every step that he took, and the evidence now seems preponderant that he made no missteps, but that he got his $5,000 paid to him in hand and made good his escape, having full 24 hours' start of police and publicity.

His motive was not (to his reasoning, at least) robbery, but the recovery of moneys paid to Mr Cottle for which he believed he had received no equivalent in value. He sought restitution, and resorted to deliberate, desperate means to gain his end. This view of the case explains the seeming mystery in previous chapters, of why the Cottles did not immediately notify the police, why after the police had rescued the prisoner from his Baynes street dungeon, the family were still reluctant to swear out a warrant for the arrest of the kidnapers — which they actually did not do until fairly compelled to, — why Edward P Cottle made two visits to Fort Erie to confer with the author of the note demanding money, and moreover, why he raised $5,000 on Tuesday morning, on a promissory note.

The police say that the demand made upon Mr. Cottle was for $5,000, and that in the letter he wrote his wife he enclosed a promissory note for that amount on which she could raise the cash.

The younger Cottle did not go directly to notify the police when his mother showed him the note, but went to Fort Erie to negotiate with Emery for the return of his father for a lesser sum.

After this interview Edward Cottle returned home, went to bed at 10 o'clock that evening as if satisfied that his father would not be harmed by his captors, and the next day went again to the Canadian village across the river, having in the meantime raised the $5,000.

That night Emery called off his accomplice who had been custodian of the captive attorney, who, before taking leave of him, unchained him from the post so that he might move about in the house and attract attention that would free him, though not giving him immediate liberty. Emery and his pal then skipped.

All efforts so far to find them have been fruitless. The police are satisfied that it will be almost impossible to trace Emery, who, from his long residence in Canada under another name, may easily avoid suspicion. The name of his accomplice is said to be George Allen.

Chief Harrington Removed.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Professor Mark W. Harrington, chief of the weather bureau, has been relieved from duty owing to a disagreement with Secretary Morton. A call was made on June 19 for President Harrington's resignation. He declined to resign and subsequently was removed by the president, to take effect July 1. James F. Cook, chief clerk of the weather bureau, is acting head of the bureau until a successor to Professor Harrington is appointed. The relations between Secretary Morton and Professor Harrington, who was appointed from Michigan, are known to have been strained for many months, and correspondence between them has been carried on only in the most formal language.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 28.—The most disastrous fire which ever visited Minneapolis accomplished its work of destruction and death last night. Within an hour after the alarm rang in at 11 o'clock six firemen paid the penalty of death for their faithfulness in trying to save the property of others.

Several others were seriously injured and it is thought that there may still be more dead who have not yet been extricated from under the ruins of the walls which fell and crushed them.
