CONNAUGHT.

GALWAY.

A public meeting was held at Kylebeg, Parish of Mullagh, twelve miles from Ballinasloe, and two from Killimore, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Irish National Federation and denouncing land-grabbing Mr Patrick Dillon, secretary to the Mullagh Branch, I N F., was moved to the chair; and after speeches by Mr. John Reilly and Mr. James Kenny, resolutions was carried, with acclamation, to the effect that "after a long and sad experience of the incompetency of an alien Parliament to cope with the people's wants by legislation, we demand an Irish Parliament, in Dublin, free and unfettered, to make our own laws, in time to avert the troubles and sufferings which we have so often experienced while waiting in expectation of redress from a dilatory Legislation at Westminster;" and "That we demand the reinstatment of the evicted tenants in their farms, on such a basis as will enable them to start firmly a new living in their old homes; and that we shall use every legitimate means in our power to enforce these claims on the first favorable opportunity."

LEITRIM.

At the Carrick-on-Shannon Quarter Sessions, the Chairman, George Waters, Esq., County Court Judge, congratulated the Grand Jury on the peaceful state of the county, there being only one case at the present sessions, and that a charge preferred against a man for a transaction that had occurred so far back as the 24th of April, 1893, and, therefore, if they were talking of the crime in the county, this should not be classed or reckoned as an offence of the present day.

MAYO.

Mr. Mark Hughes, after an absence of twenty years, has re-opened a mineral water factory in Castlebar.

Already the Achill railway line is being largely patronized. There is a large number of strangers at present in the island.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Dr. Myles D'Exeter Jordan, Newport, to the Commission of the Peace for Mayo county.

An action was heard recently at Claremorris Quarter Sessions, before Judge Richards, arising out of a shooting accident, which occurred near Ballyhaunis. It appears that a boy named Patrick Waldron and a companion, after flying pigeons at Polnacroaghy, sat down on the side of the hill. A man named Michael Tighe, carrying a gun, came along, and observing the boy's heads moving, while he was some distance away, he took them to be rabbits, and fired. Both boys received grains of shot about the head. Waldron's father sued Tighe for damages, and the County Court Judge gave a decree for £70. An appeal has been lodged.

ROSCOMMON.

A few days ago a man named Murray, living in the Four Roads district, became weak in his mind; and actually staked his feet to the ground by driving a pitchfork through them, and was in this position for some time when he was released by some of his neighbors.

SLIGO.

Captain B W. Hillas, of Seaview House, has been appointed a Deputy Lieutenant for the county Sligo.

The death was announced, recently, at William street, Sligo, of pneumonia, of David Rutledge, of Manorhamilton and Sligo, aged 23 years.

Constable Drum, who was so well known and so popular in Sligo last year, has been transferred from Innishmurray Island to Strabdhill Station; and Constable Maxwell has been removed from Strandhill to Innishmurray, vice Constable Drum.

LEINSTER.

DUBLIN.

The question of the Irish mail contract has been settled. A tender of the City of Dublin Steam Packet Company has been accepted by the British Post Office Department, with certain modifications The cost of the new service will be £100,000 a year, and four new steamers are to be built specially for it. the time of passage between Holyhead and Dublin being accelerated by half an hour. This will mean also an accleration of the mails between Ireland and the United States an improvement that is very much needed.

KILDARE.

A man named Edward Murphy, a market gardener residing at Moorefield, near Newbridge, reported to the police that he had discovered the dead body of a woman in a field belonging to Mr. Young, close to the Moorefield Protestant Church Head Constable Wafer, accompanied by two constables, proceeded to the place indicated by Murphy, and there discovered the body, lying near a ditch. They recognized the deceased as a woman of the unfortunate class named Mary Griffin. Dr. Smith, coroner of North Kildare, held an inquest. A woman named Hill deposed that the deceased had only come out of the workhouse hospital on the previous Saturday evening. She saw the deceased next morning, and she was then ill and had then had nothing to eat that day. Dr Thunder said he examined the body and found no marks of any injury upon it. He believed that death resulted from natural causes. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.

KILKENNY.

Mr. W. Pilsworth of Thomastown, has been sworn in a Justice of the Peace for the county Kilkenny.

KING'S.

A private house on Burk's Hill, Birr owned by Mrs. Madden, and occupied by a family named Williamson, was totally destroyed by fire. Through the timely exertions of the police and neighbors most of the furniture was saved, and the fire was prevented from spreading to the dwellings adjoining. Immediately after the occurrence Mrs Bridget Williamson, wife of the tenant, was placed in custody on a charge of arson. Mr. George H Shannon, R. M., held a special court to investigate the case, and at this it was alleged that the accused, in a domestic quarrel, had threatened to burn the house. On the application of the police a remand for eight days was granted. The landlady, it is stated, intends applying for compensation for malicious burning.

LOUTH.

In Drogheda, recently, an inquest was held on William Davis, a private in the Louth Rifles, who had fallen out of a train between Dunleer and Drogheda and died of the effects of the injuries. The deceased, it appeared, had leant against the door of the carriage, which opened suddenly, precipitating him on to the track. The jury returned a verdict of death from injuries received on the Great Northern line, but attached no blame to any of the officials.

WEXFORD.

In consequence of the protracted illness of Mr. King, National Teacher, Glynn (Killurin), Mr. Timothy P. O'Connor has been appointed teacher of the school, pro tem.

QUEEN'S

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Mr. Laurence McLoughlin, of Cloneybacon, Arless, to the Commission of the Peace for Queen's county. Mr. McLoughlin's connection with the National movement dates back very many years. He has ever been consistent in principle and practice, and is at present treasurer of the Arless, Ballockmyler, and Ballybrian branch of the National Federation.

WESTMEATH.

At a specially convened meeting of the Mullingar Branch of the Irish National Federation, for the purpose of taking steps to inaugurate a collection in aid of the Irish Parliamentary Fund, it was resolved, "That the collection in aid of the Irish Parliamentary Fund be held in this parish on the first Sunday in July, and that we call upon the Nationalists in this town and parish to subscribe as generously on this occasion as they have always done."

WICKLOW.

Mr. Thomas Irwin, ex-District-Inspector of Constabulary, met with a car accident at Oveca, which terminated fatally. An inquest was held at Tinahely, and, after the medical testimony was given by Dr. Bolster, the jury returned a verdict that the deceased had met his death by a car accident, which caused concusion of the brain.

MUNSTER.

CORK.

Mr. W. Lane, J.P., has been re-elected President of the Cork Literary and Scientific Society.

A sad fatality occurred in a sand quarry, owned by Mr. Murphy, and situated off Keller's Lane, Blackpool, Cork, by which a man named David Healy lost his life. The deceased with some others were engaged at the working in the quarry, which is about thirty feet deep, when a slip of sand and large stones suddenly gave way and fell on the men in the bottom of the pits. Healy was killed immediately, and a man named Daniel Callaghan, Keller's Lane, and another named McCarthy were also buried in the debris, but were rescued.

KERRY.

Near Killarney, recently, a servant boy named Hayes was accidentally killed. He went to fetch a rolling-stone for his master, and was bringing it home in a donkey cart. Somewhere near Aglish police-hut the cart was capsized, and the deceased was crushed to death under the heavy stone.

At the last meeting of the Dingle Habor Commissioners, it was unanimously passed: "That the best thanks of the Commissioners are hereby offered to Mr Donovan, R N., for the valuable help he has given them for the three last years, during which time he has acted as Chairman of the Harbor Board, together with an expression of regret that Mr. Donovan's retirement from the Naval service deprives the Commissioners of his continued assistance."

LIMERICK

Patrick Lynch, aged about 75 years, came before the Newcastle West Board of Guardians, at their last meeting, and asked the Chairman to procure him a wife from among the women in the workhouse. He was told to come on the following meeting day, when the Master would introduce him in regular form to the aspirants for impromptu matrimony.

The Trinity Quarter Sessions for the city of Limerick were opened by Judge Adams. The sub-Sheriff informed him that there was not any criminal business to be disposed of; and the pleasing duty devolved on him of presenting his honor with white gloves. Judge Adams suitably replied, and the Grand Jury were discharged. The usual large crop of ejectment suits, however, filled up the time of the court, and kept the lawyers profitably busy.

WATERFORD.

The interesting ceremony of the distribution of prizes to the successful exhibitors of the Industrial Exhibition took place in the court-house, Clonmel, where the exhibition had been held most successfully. The court was crowded by a large and fashionable audience. The chair was taken by the Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, who had kindly accepted the invitation of the committe to preside on the occasion. The prizes, some 300 in number, were distributed by the Hon. Mrs. De la Poer, who had kindly discharged the same function at the first exhibition.

TIPPERARY.

The Quarter Sessions were opened in Thurles by Judge Anderson, and, there being no criminal cases to go before the Grand Jury, his Honor was presented with a pair of white gloves. This is unprecedented in Tipperary, as far as the Mid-Division is concerned.

The illuminating of the address to be presented by the members of the Irish Party to the Most Rev. Dr. Croke on the occasion of his Silver Jubilee, has been entrusted to the well-known artist, Miss Fitzpatrick, 192 Clonliffe road, Drumcondra, Dublin, and, judging from the work she has already executed, the committee could not have placed it in more capable hands.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

A special meeting of the Lisburn Board of Guardians was held recently, to consider a letter sent down by the Local Government Board, the previous week, calling on the Board to request the Master of the Workhouse to resign, in consequence of the ill-treatment he gave a three-year old child by beating him. The Clerk, having read the document referred to, submitted another which he had received that day from the Local Government Board, stating that unless the Master resigned his position at once, the Local Government Board would issue an order removing him from office. After a lengthy discussion on the subject, the Master and Matron sent in their resignations, and it was agreed to advertise for their successors.

ARMAGH.

No fewer than 35 ejectments have been entered for hearing, at Armagh Quarter Sessions, on the estate of Eliza C. Moutray and others, better known as Darrynoose Estate, near Keady. Ejectments have also been entered for hearing on the Earl of Dartrey's and Richard J. Harden's estates. Only six of these ejectments are being defended.

The monthly meeting of the Armagh Town Commissioners was held in the Tontine Buildings. The Board had before them for consideration the new sewerage scheme for the city. Mr. Maxwell proposed a resolution approving of the scheme prepared by Mr. Peddie, Belfast, the estimated cost of which is £8,562 2s. 2d., exclusive of law, engineering, and other contingent expenses, and deciding to carry out the proposed work with all despatch, and further resolving to employ Mr. Paddie as engineer of the works.

DERRY.

At the last Monaghan Petty Sessions, before Mr. Gerald Griffin, R. M., Sergeant Stokes, of Draperstown, charged Edward James Maynes, of Desertmartin, and thirty-three others with unlawfully fighting a number of cocks at Latteran, Corrick, and Cullion. The magistrates, after hearing the evidence, fined Maynes £1, which on the application of Mr. Brown, was increased to £2 1s., or a fortnight in Derry jail, for the purpose of appeal. The case against the other defendants was adjourned.

DOWN.

Two arrests have been made, in Newry, in connection with burglaries recently carried out in the neighborhood At Rathfriland a pensioner named John Mackrell was apprehended, and subsequently remanded, in the charge of having broken into the house of James Sands, townland of Ballinaskeagh, and stolen therefrom 10 bottles of whiskey, £10 in cash, and some brandy and tobacco. The licensed premises of a Mr. Whigham, at Lisdrumguillion, about a mile from Newry, were burglariously entered recently and some bedclothing, wearing apparel, whiskey, rum, cigars, and tobacco were stolen. The police were informed of the occurrence, and while Sergeant Durnan and one of his men were on patrol on the Downshire road the same evening they espied a flour bag, which, on examination, was found to contain some of the missing articles. A continuous watch was kept on the bag till next morning, when a young man named William Fagan came upon the scene and collared the bag. Fagan was at once arrested, and a search of the house occupied by him in Chapel street resulted in the discovery of some others of the stolen articles secreted up the chimney. Fagan was brought before Mr. H. Turner, R.M., and remanded.

The West has not yet reduced the egg business to the science attained in the East. Distances out West are too magnificent to permit of a great deal of gathering being done by wagons. A few attempts have been made to do this, but it did not pay.
