Fire was discovered about 5:45 o'clock, Tuesday, October 22nd, in the barn of Mrs. John Dixon, on E North street, a few rods north of the Lehigh Valley railroad bridge. The flames were first discovered by Mrs. Austin, who lives directly opposite, and gave the alarm in the neighborhood, and William Dixon, who lives in the old Dixon homestead, was aroused. Michael Brama, who with a companion, were on their way to their work at the Store Works hastened to the scene, and thence to the fire box at the Store Works and raised the alarm. The box failed to work and therefore much valuable time was lost. The Andes Hose company responded promptly, and soon had a stream on the fire. While they were at work a west bound street car passed, and upon its arrival at the Catholic Church, conductor Snyder pulled box 54. The fire department responded promptly, and the Nestus and Hydrants turned on streams in the order named. The fire had gained such a headway that it was impossible to think of saving anything. The barn, packing shed and shop were entirely consumed. Two cows and three horses perished in the flames, besides fifteen tons of hay, two hundred bushels of oats and sixty-five bushels of wheat, also were consumed.

The Ogoygo Hose company, under the supervision of Chief Tracey, remained until noon extinguishing the flames. The mystery of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have started from a locomotive which passed just before the fire. The loss by the fire is not known, but is partly covered by insurance.

A moral way to increase membership adopted by the Rochester Council is to concentrate by united effort of all deputies and presidents of Councils in one locality for one month; then take up some other locality, and so on till every Council has been increased in membership. —The Vatican.

A COPTIC DEPUTATION.

The Holy See and the Religious Orders in France.

Arrest of a Deputy at a Catholic Congress.

ROME, ITALY.

The Coptic Catholics have sent a deputation to thank the Holy Father for his interest in the affairs of their Church. The deputation, which is headed by Mgr. Macario, a Coptic Bishop, left Alexandria on one of the Austrian Lloyd steamers for Brindisi where they were met by Mgr. Sogaro, titular Archbishop of Amida, who went thither to receive them at the desire of the Pope. The news has created a most favorable impression in the ecclesiastical world here, the sympathetic attitude of the Pope and the overtures of Leo XIII. seeming to give promise of the conversion of the schismatic portion of that nation.

Cardinal Rampolla, Secretary of State to His Holiness, has addressed a letter to the Archbishop of Lyons in which he thanks the latter for having forwarded a complete report of the meeting of Catholic lawyers. The Cardinal says that he made a full report to His Holiness. He states that the Holy See intends to allow the fullest liberty to the superiors of the religious bodies to act as they judge best with regard to the laws of April 18. Thus the religious superiors will have to act upon their own initiative in regard to the infamous droit d'accroissement by which the religious communities are burdened with an onerous and destructive tax. The words of the Cardinal are: "That the Holy See intends to allow entire liberty to the superiors of the religious congregations to follow the line of conduct which they deem best for the defense of their interests."

A number of very artistic stamps have been prepared in honor of the Pope and on the occasion of the September celebrations. The Libanese Catholic of Milan conceived the happy idea of issuing these stamps thereby to honor the Pope with the downfall of the Temporal Power is being commemorated. The stamps, which are richly colored and well designed, bear the legend: 20 Settembre, 1895. V. Leone XIII. V. Italia—Vv. being the abbreviation of Viva. They will be in use for a few weeks only, and are at this moment being all the more eagerly sought for by Italian and foreign collectors.

General Cederars, having received an invitation from Prince Massimo Sospelti, Syndic of Rome, to visit the Exhibition in commemoration of the Jubilee of 1900, has accepted the invitation. The General is a very old man, and he says that age and infirmities prevent his coming to Rome. He will join in spirit in the jubilee, and he gives his reasons.
