CONNUGHT.

GALWAY.
A quantity of clothes and other valuables were recently stolen from the Presentation Convent, Galway city. The burglars effected an entrance through a back window. Conscience, however, in some one of the robbers was strong in pointing out the error of his ways, and some of the stolen property was laid near the convent in a few days.

Mr. Dane has got the first judicial "plum" from the Tory Government in the shape of the County Court Judgeship of Galway, from which Mr. Rice Henn has retired. Mr. Dane's appointment makes a vacancy in the representation of North Fermanagh, which was represented by Mr. William Redmond up to 1892, and was then captured by the Tories.

LEITRIM.
The splendid building recently erected by Mr. W. Duncan, Parkville, Dromahair, in Main street, Manorhamilton, which was completed some months ago, has been sold by public auction by Mr. C. C. Templeman. Mr. George Nixon, of Ballyboy, Manorhamilton, who it is understood, will open business in the house, is the purchaser, and the price realized was £300.

MAYO.
Recently Mr. Charles Dsly, auctioneer, Coeshfield, set up for sale, at the courthouse, Castlebar, by direction of the owner, Mr. John Cooley, the extensive premises of Newtown, formerly occupied by the R. I. Constabulary. The bidding was started by Mr. W. J. Sheridan, who offered a hundred pounds on behalf of Mr. William Gibbons. This was advanced to £150 by Mr. Malachy Thornton. There was a second bid of £175 from Sheridan, which was followed by one for £200 from Thornton, and another for £210 from Mr. Michael McDonagh. Thornton next bid £250, and Sheridan £275. Mr. James Daly commenced with £285, and the competition that followed was between himself and Sheridan, each bid being advanced by £5, until £385 was reached. This amount was offered by Mr. Sheridan. Mr. James Daly bid £390, and there being no improvement upon this, he was declared the purchaser.

ROSCOMMON.
Major Murphy, William Monson and Robert Kane have been elected members of the Boyle Town Commissioners.
Very Rev. Dr. Monahan, Carrick-on-Shannon, preached a charity sermon at St. Mary's recently, in aid of the Mariet Brothers. In the evening Most Rev. Dr. Roare, Bishop of Ardagh and Clonmacnoise, preached. His eloquence enraptured the congregation.
A dispatch from Boyle says: Mr. J. Gallagher, late of the Boyle "Herald," left here for Athlone, where he takes up a position on the "Westmeath Independent." Mr. Gallagher, on his departure, was presented with a most flattering testimonial of the esteem in which he was held.

SLIGO.
Mr. Arthur Jackson, chairman of the Ligo Harbor Commissioners, has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for the county Sligo.
A meeting of the committee appointed to promote schemes of railway between Sligo and Bailins, Sligo and Arigna, and Sligo and Buncrana, was recently held in the Grand Jury room of the courthouse, Sligo. Colonel Cooper occupied the chair, and after some discussion it was decided to raise a sum of £1,000 to put the scheme before the Privy Council, one-half the amount to be levied off the borough of Sligo, and the remainder to be raised by the citizens of Sligo.

LEINSTER.

DUBLIN.
A remarkable accident occurred near Balbriggan recently. A man named Halligan entered a train in the belief that it would stop at Skerries station. Finding that the train was passing through Skerries he got out, and instead of stopping on the platform, stepped on the wall of the railway, from which he fell seventy-five feet. No hope is entertained of his recovery.
The trades of Dublin are to be appealed to immediately to give their active co-operation to an effort to establish a boot factory that would find a market for its products chiefly among the workmen of the city and their families. The machine-made boot trade in Dublin has fallen to a very low ebb. Where once there were half a dozen factories, there is now, it may be said, only one; and where there were hundreds of workmen there are now less than a hundred.

KILKENNY.
It is officially announced that Mr. James Morris, manager of the Kilkenny branch of the National Bank, has resigned that position. Mr. Morris, who succeeded his father in 1849, has had a long and honorable career in connection with the National Bank. He retires on full superannuation.
KING'S.
Tullamore Workhouse had a narrow escape from complete destruction by fire recently. It originated in the women's dormitory, which, being wood, was soon eaten up by the fiery element. No person was injured.

LONGFORD.
On the recommendation of Lord Longford, Patrick McGaver, Esq., coroner, Cloontagh, has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for Longford.
John O'Hara, of Farrad, near Longford town, fell on the estate of Lord Longford, was recently shot at while sitting by his bedside. The police have not made arrests in connection with the shooting.

LOUTH.
Mr. Patrick Kelly, one of the oldest and most respected members of the mercantile community in Drogheda, passed away recently after a short illness.
County Judge Kilsby opened the Dundalk Quarter Sessions recently. There were only five Crown cases, none of which presented any feature of difficulty. Michael O'Brien, a private in the Thirtieth Hussars, was charged with having stabbed Sergeant Mally in the head with a cooking knife. Mr. Dickie defended. The accused pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to be imprisoned for three months from the date of his committal.

MEATH.
P. Geilsman, L. P. Malone, J. Collins and E. Neary were elected members of the Town Board of Trim. They are what is now termed "borough rates."
The remains of Mr. Patrick Harford, Baldugan, Oldtown, were removed for interment at Ballyboghil, recently. The deceased, whose sudden death was much deplored, was a well-known local man, having been collector of poor rates and income tax for Balrothery district thirty years. The funeral was attended by a great concourse.

QUEEN'S.
The members of the Queen's County National Teachers' Association visited Kilkas Castle on their annual excursion. Luncheon was partaken of and dancing and singing indulged in with great zest. Some eloquent addresses were made. Messrs. Murphy and O'Sullivan, of the Queen's who had charge of the arrangements, were accorded hearty votes of thanks.

WESTMEATH.

A serious occurrence took place recently at Hopwood, near Athlone. A farmer who was remarked to be eccentric during the previous week became insane, approached his wife, who was lying in bed, and stabbed her three times with a penknife. No serious injury was, however, inflicted. He was arrested and sent to Ballinacree Lunatic Asylum.

WEXFORD.

A woman named Britton, who resided with her brother, a laborer, at Lower John street, Ennisceorthy, was recently found lying on the floor of her house with her throat cut. During the absence of her brother she had fastened all the means of entrance to the house and committed suicide. She had been suffering from mental aberration for some time past.

WICKLOW.

John Johnson, the famous, or rather, infamous, Coolgreany grabber of land and emergency-man, was prosecuted at Arlow Sessions a few days ago for being drunk and disorderly. The Justice only fined him five shillings. Johnson has fifty acres of arched farms on the notorious Brocks estate.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.
A shooting outrage took place recently at Dysart, about six miles from Ennis. A farmer named John Leary, belonging to Dysart, was proceeding home from Ennis, in company with two men named William Hurley and Michael Keating, and a woman named Mrs. Nealon, and when near Gurthacra bridge, four revolver shots were fired from behind a hedge at the heads of the party, none of whom, fortunately, received any injury. Leary ran at once to Dysart police but, which was near at hand, and reported the matter, and the police were quickly on the spot, but the assailants had fled.

CORK.

A Middleton dispatch says: Intelligence has just reached here concerning the eviction, a couple of days since, of a respectable farmer named Edward Kikby and his wife and three children from the lands of Ballynacrusa. The property belongs to the representatives of Rosnyne minors, and is in Chancery. Mr. Horace H. Townsend being the receiver. The tenant was actually engaged in collecting sufficient rent by the sale of his cows, to stay the eviction, when the Sheriff's representatives appeared on the scene. The family and their belongings were put out on the roadside.

KERRY.

A serious accident occurred recently at Kenmare to two men, named Denis O'Sullivan and Michael Connell, while quarrying stone for Mr. J. Brennan. They were putting a powder charge into a hole prepared, when it suddenly exploded and the rock burst into fragments, driving the men some distance away. Both were taken home and Dr. J. E. G. Maybury was in quick attendance. It was found that Denis O'Sullivan's eyes were injured more than Michael Connell's. The doctor said the wounds were not serious.

LIMERICK.

A man named Patrick Lyons has been arrested in Limerick, charged with having stabbed a woman named Margaret Crawford. The woman's condition is said to be critical.
At the Limerick Police Office a seaman named Charles Caranagh, of the Ras Rowa, was charged with having stolen from a fellow-seaman, named Paul Triptoe, a watch, and also some clothes. The watch was found in a pawn office in the city. The prisoner was remanded.

TIPPERARY.

A dispatch from Clonmel says: Recently the sheriff's bailiffs carried out an eviction at the suit of John Forbes O'Farrell, solicitor, Corbengh, Edgeworthstown, county Longford, against Stephen Cleary and others, from the lands of Springfield, Cahis. Mr. Cleary, I understand, was evicted for non-payment of rent. The others were an invalid priest, Father E. Hogan, brother-in-law of the tenant, and solicitor, Thurial, was present at the eviction.

WATERFORD.

At the Waterford Police Court, Francis Collins, a pensioner, who lives on the river side, was charged with the manslaughter of James Toomey, a denizen of Carrigeen lane. It appears that, on the previous Friday, by pre-arrangement, the prisoner and the deceased had a pugilistic encounter adjacent to the city. As a result of the fight Toomey sustained injuries which called for immediate medical attention. He was confined to bed, and succumbed on the following Sunday evening. The accused was remanded for eight days.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.
The Ballymena constabulary arrested a man named Monaghan, who, it is alleged, fled into a party of schoolboys returning from a football match. Two lads named Gordon and Andrews were shot in the legs, and had to be surgically treated.
Recently a shocking case of suicide took place in Belfast. A man named John Mallon, residing at 41 Durham street, had recently been drinking heavily, and he was found by some lodgers in the house lying on the floor of the closet, in the yard, with his throat cut and a razor beside him. Dr. Aicken was soon at the place, but pronounced the man to be dead.

ARMAUGH.
An accident of a serious nature occurred at Iskyemeadow recently. A police constable named Samuel Eskitoe, who belongs to Tassagh, and who was in Armagh spending his holidays, went out to shoot in company with an engine driver on the Great Northern line, and while passing through a hedge the policeman's breechloader suddenly went off, and the contents lodged in the unfortunate man's leg, which had to be amputated.

DERRY.
Joseph McDermott, a contractor, met with a terrible death in the tower of the Derry Cathedral. The peal of bells were renovated. A small nut, however, was discovered to be wanting in the big bell. Mr. McDermott was fixing this when the accident occurred. The verger and another man were to hold the mouth up while he worked underneath it, and were to await a signal of the shaking of the rope to let the bell down. The rope was shaken, apparently by accident. The men, as arranged, allowed the bell to swing mouth down. The great mass, weighing 1700 pounds, turned round, and the rim catching Mr. McDermott on the chest, crushed him against the framework, killing him instantly.

DONEGAL.

A large, representative, and influential meeting was held at Churchill in furtherance of railway extension from Letterkenny to Gweedore, via Meenadreen. Rev. Father M'Neil, Urukou, presided. There was a large attendance of the local magistrates and clergy. After the relative merits of the Meenadreen route and those of the coast Leitrim Line had been exhaustively discussed by their respective advocates, resolutions in favor of the Meenadreen Line were passed by a large majority.

DOWN.

Mr. Samuel B. Ringlands, of Killyleagh, has been appointed to the commission of the Peace for Down.

MONAGHAN.

It is understood that the authorities contemplate the abolition of either Oooliderry or Ballytrain police station, in the county Monaghan. Acting Sergeant Thomas Sweeney, who has been for a considerable time stationed in Clones, has been transferred to Monaghan.

TYRONE.

An inquest was held recently at Fintona touching the death of a widow named Mary Anne Devine, who had been found dead in her bed. The deceased was about seventy years of age, and lived alone. The police searched the house, and found a purse containing 16s. in coppers. After a further search a second was found, secreted behind the bed, containing £107 in notes. Dr. Chambers stated that he attended deceased for some time. Death resulted from failure of the heart.
