FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

A Minister's Experience. 6

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Jan., 1894.

It is about six years since I felt that something was out of order, although I didn't show it except that I looked pale and thin; a sort of numbness affected me so that I couldn't speak properly, my eyesight was also impaired by sparks apparently moving in the eyes so that I couldn't read, but after I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic all these symptoms disappeared. I feel fresh and well again. May God bless Rev. Koenig. E. HAUN, Pastor.

Thanks to the Almighty.

His remarkable success since he first came to Rochester. Thousands of testimonials received, among them being the names of some of the leading merchants and manufacturers of Monroe Co. Skeptics and doubting people are kindly referred to these well-known Rochester persons below who have been cured.

Another great cure

Mary Burke, of 4 Central park, suffered frightfully with eczema for six long years. The itching and burning was somewhat intense. She started treatment with Dr. Grady and to-day she is absolutely cured. Write to or go and see her and she will tell you of the most remarkable cure known to medical science. She has been a resident of this city for the past 20 years and is an honest and upright member of St. Luke's Church on South Fitzhugh street.

"For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to say that the physician who has done so much for me, and to whom I owe my life is Dr. Grady, the well-known specialist. I not only found him to be a man to his word, but a true gentleman in every sense of the word.

"To meet Dr. Grady is to find him a most pleasant and agreeable gentleman, who impresses all with whom he comes in contact with, not only his wonderful skill as a physician, but also with that gentleness of character so necessary to his profession.

"I make the above statement with my own free will, and furthermore, I will be glad to answer any and all inquiries relative to my case."

About to give up when he appeared.

Mr. Charles Streiff of No. 1 Bismarck Place, Rochester, was a great sufferer for five years with catarrh and threatened con. lumption, etc., was treated by several home physicians without relief. Mr. Streiff is well known in this city and has lived here all his life. He is the son of the late Mr. Streiff, who for many years was the proprietor and sole owner of the blacksmith shop on Bismarck Place off N. St Paul street. He is now absolutely cured and never felt better in his life. What more can be said? Write or call on him and be convinced for yourself. These cures are not temporary, they are permanent and lasting.

NEWS DOTS FROM IRELAND

Interesting Paragraphs Concerning the Doings of Our Friends Across the Ocean.

Gathered from All Parts of the Emerald Isle for Our Readers.

CONNAUGHT.

GALWAY.

Mr. Edward Lynch, the independent candidate for Galway at the general election of 1892, has left for Ashanti in the capacity of war correspondent.

Knighthood has been conferred on Dr. Moffet, a well-deserved compliment to a man who, whatever fault may be found with his administration of the Galway College, and for which, perhaps, Dublin Castle is equally to blame, is an eminent Irish scholar. The testimonial to the new knight has been taken up in London, and the Marquis of Dufferin has become chairman of the committee.

LEITRIM.

Extensive ravages have been committed recently by dogs affected with rabies, in the county Leitrim, and particularly in the neighborhood of Mohill. The police at Annaghmore, a locality about four miles from Mohill, shot a dog belonging to Mrs. Catherine Casey, which had been running amuck through the country for a week, biting everything it came across. A man named Michael Gunstinan was bitten by it in the arm, and is at present being treated by Dr. McGovern in county Cavan.

MAYO.

Two young men were recently found dead in their bed near Ballyhaunis. They slept in a small, airtight room, in which some fire had been placed in a pot, to heat it. The result was they were suffocated.

ROSCOMMON.

The death is announced, at St. Michael's Hospital, Kingstown, county Dublin, of Hubert McDermott, late of Williamstown, Blackrock, and son of the late John McDermott, Castlerea.

The very heavy business which the Christmas holidays involved, was got through in the Roscommon post-office in a very satisfactory manner by the efficient staff. Fortunately for many in the district a fair proportion of the work consisted in cashing money orders received from friends outside the district.

SLIGO.

A sad case of loss of life is reported from Glencar, wherein a young girl named Gilroy lost her life. It appears the young girl was of unsound mind for the past twelve months. Recently she made her escape from her home in Cloonatrig, Glenade, and nothing was seen of her until her dead body was found in a pool of water at a place called Rocktown.

A thrill of horror ran through the district around Tobercurry, when a report was circulated that an attempt to commit a shocking crime in the neighborhood had been made during the previous night by a young woman named Mrs. Canavan (nee Brett), of Tullycusheen. On the previous night Pat Canavan and his wife, who had been married only about a year, went to bed as usual, apparently at peace with the world and notably with one another, but toward morning the people in the immediate vicinity of their dwelling were horrified to hear heart-rending shrieks proceeding from their house. It would seem that Mrs. Canavan had become suddenly insane and made an attack on her husband, inflicting injuries from which it is doubted whether he will recover. The woman has been committed to Sligo Jail. Local opinion tends to the belief that Mrs. Canavan is insane, and has been so for some time. Only a short time ago a baby (their only child) had died shortly after birth, and it is thought the shock had seriously affected the mind of the woman, between whom and her husband the most cordial affection has always existed.

LEINSTER.

DUBLIN.

As an evidence of the potency of the "war scare," the Army Reserve men throughout Ireland were served with notices by the police to be in readiness for service when called upon.

The death is announced of Fleet-Surgeon St. Lawrence Ffrench Mullen, which took place at his residence, Warrington place, Dublin, where he had been living since he was taken seriously ill several months since. Ffrench-Mullen was a prominent Parnellite, and in that interest contested South Dublin at the general election of 1892. He was subsequently selected as a candidate for Kilkenny city, but owing to ill-health was obliged to retire from the contest. He was one of the treasurers of the Amnesty Association and took a leading part in connection with the movement.

KILKENNY.

Major Patrick O'Leary was recently installed as Mayor of Kilkenny for the ensuing year. In the unavoidable absence of the Mayor the Town Clerk invested the incoming Mayor with the chain and insignia of office. The Mayor gave a sumptuous lunch, in the Imperial Hotel, after his inauguration, at which he entertained the Corporation and members of the Press. The Home Rule Club Club Room was brilliantly illuminated during the night.

KING'S.

In consequence of the Local Government Board having called on the head Infirmary nurse of Edenderry Workhouse, Mrs. Bartola, to resign, the Guardians at their last meeting received applications to fill the vacancy. Three of these were from Dublin ladies, highly recommended. Mr. John Hackett strongly advocated, in the interests of the poor and of the ratepayers, the employment of nuns for the nursing of the sick inmates. Mr. A. More O'Ferral, D. D., said nuns could not take up the position for some time. Mr. Hackett intimated that he would give notice of motion to appoint nuns, and the matter was allowed to stand over for a fortnight.

LONGFORD.

A tinker named Joyce was so dangerously beaten by another tinker named McDonagh, at Longford, recently, that his life is despaired of. McDonagh is in custody.

MEATH.

A curious case was heard at Trim Petty Sessions recently. A man named McGrath is alleged to have gilded a six-penny-piece and tendered it in several shops in town as a half-sovereign, and succeeded eventually in changing it at one establishment. The accused was returned for trial to the next Quarter Sessions.

QUEEN'S

Mr. G. F. Ennis, who for the past seven years has occupied the position of station-master on the Great Southern and Western Railway, at Kanturk, has been transferred on promotion to Mountrath, an important station on the main line.

A meeting was held in the Courthouse, Maryborough, for the purpose of taking steps to revive the Queen's County Agricultural Society, Viscount de Vesci, in the chair. On the motion of Colonel Cosby, seconded by Mr. W. Davidson, it was resolved that the society which existed in the county some years ago be revived. A committee was appointed, a subscription list opened, and about £200 handed in.

WESTMEATH.

At the last Petty Sessions for Athlone, two girls named Gaffney and Green were charged with stealing a cash box containing £17, the property of Mr. James William Saunderson, a local house-agent. The girls were arrested in Dublin and brought back to Athlone, and remanded for a week.

WEXFORD.

The annual convention, called by the County Wexford Committee, of the Irish National Federation, was held recently, in the Town Hall, Wexford. There was a small attendance of delegates. Fifteen branches of the Federation were without a representative in the assembly, and these included the branches in such important centers as Gorey, New Ross, and other places from which there was ample train accommodation. Of the branches from whose districts parties were admitted as delegates five—viz., Blackwater, Boulavogue, Davidstown, Enniscorthy, Ferns and Tintern—had, like the branches that were unrepresented, refused to subscribe to the collection to defray the election expenses of Messrs. Ffrench and Healy, the sitting members for the county. The convention was run by Mr. Healy, who was present and addressed it, and resolutions indorsing his bolt from the Irish Party were passed, and also repudiating any interference of the Irish outside of Ireland—that is in America, Australia, or elsewhere—with the policy of the Healyite party.

WICKLOW.

It has been reported to the police at Bray that Mr. Wilson, of Merrimount House, a gentleman well known in the district, had died suddenly. The cause of death is not stated, but it is supposed to be heart-disease.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.

While proceeding to Mass one morning recently, Mr. J. Dwyer, a brother of the landlord of the Caher estate, was fired at, at a spot about a mile from his residence, at Caher, Feakle. A number of shots from a revolver were discharged, but fortunately Mr. Dwyer was not hit. The police are pursuing inquiries. It is generally believed the outrage is due to the ill-feeling between the tenants and the landlord (Mr. P. Dwyer), —who is an official in the Custom-house, Dublin—since the purchase by the latter of the property, which belonged to the late Mr. W. O'Hara, J. P., Caher House. The tenants alleged they were themselves contemplating purchasing their holdings under the Land Act, when Mr. Dwyer, whose family were also tenants on the estate, stepped in and bought it.

CORK.

Coroner Alfred Blake, of Cork, held an inquest recently on the body of Michael McCarthy, aged twenty-four, residing at 122 Blarney street, in that city, who was found drowned in the Mardyke stream on the previous morning. Mrs. Hannah McCarthy, mother of the deceased, deposed that she last saw her son alive four days before, when he went out after taking his tea. He was managing Mr. Roche's pawn office, was her sole support and a very well-conducted and good son. A verdict of "found drowned" was returned.

KERRY.

White Bradly, an old Killarney waiter, was seriously hurt recently, when attending the races at Lackabane. He was standing with others near one of the hurdles, looking at one of the races, when Mr. Mullane's "Bright Boy" broke away and jumped upon Bradly, knocking him down and crushing one of his legs. The injured man was taken to the Workhouse Hospital in an almost dying condition.

LIMERICK

Capital for £40,000 shares has been subscribed, principally by the merchants of Limerick, for the establishment of a new line of steamers between Limerick and Liverpool.

The body of the unfortunate young man, Hanrahan, of Meelick, drowned in the Shannon, at Limerick, was found at Bunratty. Deceased met his death while watering a horse at the Distillery Slip, Limerick, when he was carried away by a strong current. The horse was rescued by fisherman.

TIPPERARY.

At the last meeting of the Clonmel Corporation, Alderman B. Wright presided, and said it was his duty and privilege to induct Alderman Patrick Nugent, Mayor of Clonmel for the year 1896. He had known him for many years, and there was no man within the borough more worthy of the position. He had great pleasure in placing the chain of office on his shoulders and wishing him a happy year of office. The new Mayor then took the chair amidst loud applause, and returned thanks.

WATERFORD.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Sexton, sister of Mr. Thomas Sexton, M. P., took place at Waterford, recently. The remains were removed from the residence of the deceased lady, and conveyed to St. John's parish Church, where there was Office for the Dead and Solemn Requiem High Mass. Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan, Bishop of Waterford, presided, and a large body of the clergy were present. At the conclusion of the High Mass the remains were removed to Knockboy Cemetery, where the interment took place. The funeral, which was very large, was attended by the Bishop and clergy of Waterford, the Superiors of the Order of Christian Brothers and the Order of French Brothers, De la Salle, the Mayor, Alderman Smith, the High Sheriff, Mr. Morrissey, T. C., and many members of the National Club and a number of the teachers and children in training at the De la Salle College, also attended.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

The Catholic citizens of Belfast have adopted a petition in reference to the new bill for the municipal extension of the city boundaries. At their meeting they expressed their thanks to their fellow-Catholics in Derry who have joined hands with them in the struggle for a common right. They point out that the Catholics of Derry, though a majority of the population, are quite ready to accept the cumulative system of voting, provided similar justice is done to the Belfast minority. As usual, the people who have been so long cheated out of their rights, teach their opponents a lesson in toleration.

ARMAGH.

A melancholy burning fatality is reported from Maghery, along the shores of Lough Neagh. A girl named Mary O'Neill was left alone in the house by her mother, who went to Armagh to transact some business, and on her return found her daughter burned to death. The girl being of weak intellect, it is believed her cloths caught fire, and before any assistance had arrived she was burned to death.

DERRY.

A large and representative meeting of the tenantry on the estate of Sir Thomas Bateson and others was held in the National Hall, Maghera. Mr. Michael M'Kenna occupied the chair. There was a long discussion as to the reduction required to meet the present state of affairs. Eventually it was unanimously agreed to have a memorial prepared and sent to Mr. Thomas S. Ash, J. P., Bellaghy, asking for fifty per cent. abatement on the rent now due, with an extension of time for payment.

DOWN.

While riding a horse at Lurganare, a short distance from Newry, the rider, a young man named Patrick M'Reavey, was thrown to the ground and killed almost instantly. This is the fifth fatal accident that has occured within a radius of five miles from Newry inside a few days.

MONAGHAN

The terms submitted by Lord Rossmore for the site on which to build the new Catholic Church for the accommodation of the people of Monaghan, have, it is understood, been rejected by the Most Rev. Dr. Owens, Bishop of Clogher. The premises on the contemplated site have passed, it is said, into the possession of a man named M'Adam. Nothing definite as to a new site for the Church has been arrived at.

TYRONE.

The water in the Congo Colliery shaft is being steadily reduced, and it is expected that the second pump will be reached shortly, which will enable an additional 20,000 gallons to be discharged per hour. The Relief Fund, instituted by the Earl of Ranfurly, now amounts to upwards of £600, and subscriptions are flowing in.

Tramps have formed a compact to rob every house in Norwalk, Conn. This is what a vagrant told an officer who took him to the lock-up a night or two ago.
