RAINES LAW IN FORCE.

Many Towns Enforced the New Law, Others Did Not.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Outside of Long Island City New York enjoyed the distinction yesterday of being the only city in the state in which the Raines [illegible] bill was not assumed to be in force. this was due to the fact that Chief of Police Conlin and the corporation counsel were in doubt as to whether the bill went into operation before April 30.

To the casual observer this condition of affairs seemed to be about the same as any other Sunday in the past. The saloons as usual were closed to strangers and many of them closed entirely.

The exceptions, however, were few and far between for the majority of them had their shades up with a picket [illegible] who released the chain on the door only after assuring himself that callers were "all right."

At the University, Union League and other prominent clubs drinks could be had the same as usual, but it was said that next Sunday the bars would be closed tight.

At one saloon on Second avenue near Ninety-eighth street, the proprietor had his excise and tobacco licenses on view in the window with a sign underneath reading "By order of Senator Raines."

Dry Sunday In Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, March 30.—The police paid particular attention to the saloons and hotels yesterday on account of the notice issued by Chief Wright to the effect that the Raines law would be enforced. It was a dry Sunday, but few saloon keepers evading the law. The provision requiring that the interior of places be exposed to view from the street was not satisfactorily obeyed. At all of the hotels and most of the clubs drinks were obtainable. The police gathered information of about a dozen violations of the law. Two places within a stone's throw of police headquarters were closed by detectives. After nightfall many of the saloons relaxed their rigid observance of the law and side doors were opened.

A Veritable Drouth in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Raines law went into force in Brooklyn yesterday. The mandate had gone forth from the police commissioners and the district attorney that the law would be strictly enforced and every saloon keeper within the jurisdiction of the police was notified to comply with this provision. That they did so was apparent everywhere. Saloons, side doors and all, were closed tight. Blinds were drawn and in cases where panels obstructed a view of the bar from the street, these were thrown open. Never in its history as a city has Brooklyn experienced such a dry Sunday. The restaurants and clubs were just as dry as the saloons.

Massmeeting on the Raines Law.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Residents of the east side held a mass meeting at Concordia hall for the purpose of denouncing the Raines bill. Addresses were made by Register William Sohmer, Assemblyman Otto Kempner, Dr. John Frederick and others. Appropriate resolutions were adopted.

Saloons Closed In Rome.

ROME, N. Y., March 30.—By orders of the chief of police all saloons were closed here yesterday as provided for by the Raines bill. Curtains were up and the bar screens removed, leaving the bars in plain view from the street. This is the first time all the saloons were ever closed on Sunday in Rome.

OLIVER PIKE'S BODY.

Identity of Chicago's Trunk Corpse Established Beyond a Doubt.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The body of the man found in a zinc box four days ago, and since awaiting identification at the county morgue, has been claimed as the body of Oliver Pike of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Theodore O. Moshier of Ravenswood called at the morgue and produced so many evidences that the body was that of Pike, who disappeared from Seattle over three years ago, that the morgue people were almost satisfied of the correctness of the identification. Pike's mother lives in Fayette, O.

Examination of the corpse showed that the teeth were all sound and in good condition, and contained no fillings whatever. This casts a decided doubt on the identification of the body as that of Chascal, the Frenchman, who disappeared mysteriously from Salt Lake City.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The asphyxiated bodies of Mrs. Olga Deuss and her three little children were found by her husband, who is a prosperous jeweler. The marital relations of the pair had lately been unhappy.

FLOODS AND FRESHETS.

Havoc Wrought by the Water at Many Points.

PORTIONS OF TOWNS INUNDATED.

Cellars and Basements Full of Water in Every Direction. Much Valuable Property Washed Away. Streams Still Rising Rapidly.

BUFFALO, March 31.—Western New York has been having its annual spring floods and they are the worst in its history. In East Buffalo the flooded districts covered an area of over four square miles and much damage was occasioned.

At Tonawanda the water is steadily rising and the Ely electric road was forced to shut down. It is feared there that the canal locks will give way from the enormous strain and a force of men are busy at work to prevent a washout. The damage from the flood is estimated in that town alone at from $25,000 to $50,000.

At Niagara Falls the upper end of the city is flooded and boats have been used to remove articles from several houses on the flats this side of Echota.

At Lockport much damage is reported from the flooding of cellars.

At many other places the water is dangerously high.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 31.—Numerous freshets have caused a dangerous flood in the inlet at Cayuga lake at the lower part of Ithaca. The water is rising steadily, and many of the cellars of the residences and stores are flooded. Histone's icehouse has already been washed away, and Dixon & Robinson's lumber yard is so badly flooded that most of the lumber is likely to be carried off. All trains in this vicinity are delayed. Much damage is reported, but it is thought that the worst is over, as the thermometer is falling.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., March 31.—The Canisteo river today is a raging torrent. Several portions of the city are under water and many of the highways are impassible. The electric road between this city and Canisteo has not been operated and at the latter place the flood is even worse than here. A farmer moving his household goods was forced to abandon his wagon on the lower flat lands. There is still much snow about the valley and if the mild weather continues serious apprehension will be felt.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 31.—Water has risen several inches and is still rising in Chautauqua lake and the Chadakoin river, by the melting of the snow in the woods and fields where it lay in heavy drifts and which has swollen the creeks over their banks. In many places between here and Mayville the railroad tracks are submerged and no trains have yet gone over the road.

CANISTEO, N. Y., March 31.—The water is higher today than it has been since 1865 and considerable damage to farm property will be reported. The river is over its banks in many places. The whole lower end of the town is inundated and residents of Taylor, West Main, Carter, Walnut, Depot and Second streets, were unable to get to their work.

GREIGSVILLE, N. Y., March 31.—The Genesco has broken banks and is fast covering the flat lands between Piffard and Genesco. If the river continues to rise several families living on the flats east of Piffard will be forced to vacate their homes.

BATAVIA, N. Y., March 31.—Tonawanda creek has overflowed its banks, flooding hundreds of acres of farm lands south of Batavia and surrounding several houses on its banks in this village. It is still rising. Thus far, no serious damage has been done.

LYONS, N. Y., March 31.—The Clyde river is higher than at any time since 1865. It commenced rising Sunday and is now about 15 feet above its normal level and is still rising.

SARATOGA, March 31.—The rainstorm which began Sunday continues and threatens a surface water flood. The first thunder and lightning of the season has occurred.

FLAMES IN NEW YORK.

Four Perish In a Fire and Others Seriously Injured.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Four people were killed and two injured in a fire which started on the second floor of the 3-story brick building, 374 Hudson street, occupied for business and dwelling purposes.

How the fire originated cannot be determined until a thorough investigation is made.

The total damage will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. The entire upper portion of the structure was gutted.

Contracts For Free Seeds.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Secretary Morton has let the contract for the 10,125,000 packets of vegetable seeds to be distributed to the public under the recent act of congress to D. Landreth & Sons of Philadelphia. The price fixed is $70,000, the seeds to be delivered free of cost at the department in Washington ready for mailing. The contract for 1,000,000 packets of flower seeds was let to L. L. May & Co. of St. Paul at ½ cent per package. Under this new method of buying seeds and compelling the sellers to put their own firm names upon the packets, it is believed by the secretary that a better quality of seeds will have been secured.

THE SALOON IN POLITICS.

Senator Raines' Magazine Article on the New Law.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Senator Raines discusses the objects of the bill recently passed by the New York legislature in an article in the April number of The North American Review published today. He says:

"The political power of those engaged in the liquor traffic is apparent as it has never been before. Their influence is not limited by their own numbers, but extends to the sec engaged in the various avocations with which they have business connections. The manufacturers, the wholesalers, the retailers of liquors, their employes, the owners of property occupied, those engaged in the various trades which receive patronage as care men, grocers, butchers, bakers, bankers, editors and office holders who owe their places to the votes given by those engaged in the liquor business, form a continuous chain and are nearly all at the command of the executive committees of this organized industry."

Senator Raines urges that one effect of the bill will be to emancipate politically those who wish to engage in the liquor traffic and to make them independent.
