To the People of the United States:

I am fully aware of the [illegible] have contracted to stand a trial for my alleged violation of the laws of your country. I do not remain to face the consequences which the laws of the country may visit on me.

My conscience tells me that in this proceeding I will satisfy the laws of a state and I am confident that the [illegible] will acquit me. Very respectfully,

CALIXTO GARCIA.

Cuba Libre, March, 1896.

GENERAL CALIXTO GARCIA.

[illegible] acts simply as an [illegible] a higher duty to perform [illegible]

Having no fault to find with the intelligence of my country for years, and having ever since my manhood's days the idea for which I was then fought, [illegible] and honest duty to fight and lead it, if necessary, to the last, I remain here in obedience to my country.

Should I fall, my death will expiate, I hope, in a measure, any possible offense I may have committed, and I survive. I give you my word as a man and a soldier to return to your country and cheerfully abide by the consequences which the laws of the country may visit on me.

RELICS OF THE HOLMES TRIAL.

The Articles Will All Be Turned Over to Mrs. Pitezel.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—Assistant District Attorney Barlow announced that all the relics that figured in the trial of H. H. Holmes for the murder of Benjamin F. Pitezel will be shipped to Mrs. Pitezel at Galva, Ills., as soon as the law has finally disposed of the murderer. They will include, besides Pitezel's picture, the fragmentary remains of the three murdered children.

Mrs. Pitezel within the past few days requested her counsel here to arrange for the shipment so that she might give decent interment to what was left of her dead little ones. She also inquires if she cannot obtain all or part of the money taken from her by Holmes while he was taking her about the country.

This is interesting in view of the statement that Holmes has received a large sum for his alleged confession. Mrs. Pitezel's counsel would not state whether any judgment would be entered against Holmes, but it is believed nothing will be done.

Mrs. Pitezel also inquires if steps cannot be taken to compel Lawyer Howe of St. Louis, Holmes' alleged co-conspirator in the insurance swindle, to return the $3,500 he alleges he obtained from her. Her counsel is now considering just what steps to take in both these matters.

WILL REACH A MILLION.

Cashier Barnard's Crooked Transactions Assuming Colossal Proportions.

ROME, N. Y., April 11.—More of the transactions of late Cashier Barnard of the Fort Stanwix bank have developed.

Mrs. Mary Tully of Utica, having received notice of protest on a note for $1,486.85, called at the bank here and denied its making. She charged Barnard with using her name. Mrs. Tully said that some time ago she sold property which she owned here and deposited $2,800 with Barnard. She withdrew this amount on Jan. 21, eight days before Barnard committed suicide. The investigation shows that he replaced it with the forged paper mentioned and another worthless note in the name of the J. Winslow Jones company.

Barnard had the handling of the estate of Robert McCutcheon, valued at $8,000. Investigation reveals $900 in three mortgages left.

Another estate, left by Mrs. Rhoda Armstrong in trust, amounting to $35,000, is gone, excepting about $7,000 in stock of the Rome and Clinton railway.

It is estimated that Barnard's mismanagement of estates and alleged defalcations at the bank will reach $1,000,000.

CONGRESS TO ADJOURN EARLY.

Regular Work of the Session Nearing Completion in Both Houses.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—An unusually early adjournment of congress is being predicted by the Republican leaders in both houses and every sign points to the fulfilment of their prophesies. No congress in many years has made the record for the transaction of routine business which stands to the credit of the present one, so far as the lower house is concerned at any rate.

With all of the regular appropriation bills, except two, already passed by the house, with one of those remaining reported from the committee and likely to be passed with only a day or two of debate and with the other in process of preparation, house leaders are placing the limit of this session at the 1st of June, allowing as they think sufficient time for the senate to take care of the important bills sent to it from the house.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 15.—Charles Davis of Binghamton, receiver of the defunct Elmira National bank, dropped dead here. The death of Davis was due to apoplexy. At the time of his death he was in the office of United States Deputy Marshal Theodore G. Smith on the third floor of the Robinson building. He had not complained of being ill and spent Sunday at his home in Binghamton. The deceased was about 55 years of age and was appointed receiver of the Elmira National bank three years ago. He was an influential Democrat and a close friend of President Cleveland.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

The Flames Raged For Over Three Hours.

ONE FIREMAN FATALLY INJURED.

Big Building Occupied by Business Concerns Badly Damaged—Two Firemen Overcome by Smoke. Loss Estimated at $300,000.

NEW YORK, April 16.—One of the most stubborn fires with which the fire department has had to contend recently started in some unknown manner in the boiler room of the 5-story brick building at 78 Grand street and also 33 and 35 Greene street. The building was occupied wholly by business firms, most of whom represent large European houses and deal principally in silks, dress goods and kid gloves. The firemen fought the flames for nearly three hours before they were under control, but succeeded in keeping the blaze in the westerly end of the building in Grand street, which is separated from the Greene street portion of the structure by a thick wall. So stubborn was the blaze and so thick was the smoke that the firemen worked under great disadvantage and found it necessary to call all the engines and hook and ladder companies due on a fourth alarm.

During the course of the fire two of the firemen were overcome by smoke and one of them, John Gallagher, was burned about the face and was also cut by falling glass.

The entire building is leased by C. A. Auffmordt & Co., a Paris house, which is consignee for many firms in Europe. Each one of those firms had a representative in New York.

The American manager of the establishment is John F. Degener, who is also a partner. He was called to the scene, but said that he was unable to form an estimate of the amount of the damage done. It is thought, however, that the loss will be in the neighborhood of $300,000.

C. A. Auffmordt & Co. have been in business at the same place for more than 30 years. The loss is said to be fully covered by insurance.

MATABELE OUTBREAK SPREADS.

A Rising Now Threatened Along the Transvaal Border.

CAPE TOWN, April 15.—News has been received here that the natives are preparing to rise along the Transvaal border. The burghers of the Transvaal have appealed for arms with which to protect themselves.

A rising in Northern Transvaal itself is also reported to be imminent. There is something of a panic manifest among the burghers at the situation. The threatened spread of the disturbance on the Transvaal border also makes the situation at Buluwayo and in Matabele much more serious.

The authorities have felt that Buluwayo was reasonably safe if the food supply should hold out. But the danger has been that the Matabele would stop the wagon roads through the Matoppo hills and to the south and thus prevent supplies from getting through from Mafeking.

It is believed that the white settlers scattered through Matabeleland are in places of safety by this time in Buluwayo or Gwelo, and the missionaries do not fear that they run any risk from the natives to whom they are known, though there might be danger from strange wandering bands.

Only a part of the 500 reinforcements designed for Buluwayo have been dispatched from Mafeking the nearest point available for that purpose, but it takes four weeks' hard travelling by ox wagons to reach Buluwayo from there, and it is said that the journey cannot be done in that time except with very light loads.

Supplies of ammunition, which are what is most needed at this time in Matabeleland, must therefore take time for transportation, and the new developments in the situation threaten to cut off, or at least to interrupt, communication between Buluwayo and the only source to which it can look for a renewal of its supplies.

It has been discovered that some of the Matabele who have been employed as servants here have been acting as spies and conveying information of the movements of expeditions to their friends in outlying districts. One of these traitorous servants has been shot.

PASTOR CLEVELAND OUSTED.

The President's Brother Removed From the Pastorship of His Church.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 15.—The presbytery of the St. Lawrence voted to dissolve the pastoral relation existing between Rev. William N. Cleveland of Chaumont, the brother of President Cleveland, and his church.

Mr. Cleveland assented to the action of the committee, but entered a protest. There was a warm discussion at the close of which the presbytery voted unanimously as indicated. The presbytery has endeavored for more than a year to harmonize the troubles existing, but without permanent success.

Mr. Cleveland's protest contains some very spicy language, and a resolution was passed stating that the presbytery did not assent to the statements made.

Borne to Her Grave by Princes.

ATHENS, April 15.—A nurse, who has been one of the palace attendants since the birth of the crown prince in 1868, has died and the king and the princess attended the funeral. They were deeply affected. The king, the crown prince and Princes George and Nicholas carried the coffin and the hearse was followed on foot to the cemetery by the ladies and gentlemen of the court.

BUFFALO, April 15.—Two citizens of Lancaster, John Leininger and Peter Pretzeller, returning from a hunting trip behind a young horse, were killed outright by the westbound fast mail on the New York Central, at the Looneyville crossing, running 50 miles an hour. The horse ran madly into the train. The animal and carriage were torn to pieces.

REPLY TO INGERSOLL.

Dr. P. D. John Defends the Bible Against His Attacks.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Dr. John P. D. John, ex-president of Lake Forest university and a well known Methodist minister, replied to the address of Colonel Ingersoll delivered at Methodist church Sunday.

Mr. John said in part: The Bible must be judged by the manner in which it does what it professes to do and not by a foreign standard. It came to teach men of duty and destiny—not to teach art, science or literature.

"But what of the savageries of war and the infidelities of slavery permitted and ordered by Jehovah in the early history of the race? The only new element in this case is the reflex influence on the men who acted as God's agents. Society may for its own protection deprive men of what would otherwise be their rights when the exercise of the right becomes destructive of society itself, and shall not the maker of Heaven and earth be permitted to do as much?

"Why did not God with whom a miracle is so easy, says Mr. Ingersoll, make the Israelites at once what he wanted them to be without educating them through the horrors of war and slavery? Because he could not. God can make clouds the way he wants them and so they will remain, but he cannot make parallel lines meet for they will no longer be parallel and he cannot make men virtuous against their wills, for they [illegible] longer men. Education is a process and not a sudden bridging of extremes.

Dr. John closed his address with a magnificent peroration on the destiny of the race and the individual under the respective hypothesis of agnosticism and Christianity.

Amendment to the Eight-hour Law.

ALBANY, April 15.—The brick manufacturers in the state who are desirous of working their employes longer than 10 hours a day during the summer, as specified by law, have prepared a bill amending that law, and it was introduced in the [illegible] Davis.
