

CITY PARISH NEWS

What is Going on in the Various Parishes.

CORPUS CHRISTI.

The Guards of the Sacred Heart of Corpus Christi church will receive communion in a body next Sunday.

Miss Sarah F. Murphy and George J. White were united in marriage at noon Wednesday at Corpus Christi church, by Rev. James J. Leary. The bride was attired in a very handsome gray traveling suit. Miss Margaret Carmody acted as bridesmaid and Thomas Murphy, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. After a short trip to Washington the happy couple will reside at No. 313 Niagara street, Syracuse, N. Y.

ST MICHAEL'S.

Last Sunday evening the members of the congregation presented their former pastor, Father Pascual, a beautiful engrossed farewell address. L. Lederer, the chairman of the meeting, made the presentation speech, and in concluding his remarks also handed him a check for $900. Rev. Father Pascual thanked the members of the congregation and said he would ever remember the members of St. Michael's parish. Speeches were also made by Rev. Fathers St. Clair and Hargather, Louis Heindel, John Rauber, George Wegman and Joseph A. Schneider.

The Knights of St. George celebrated the feast of their patron saint last Sunday, by attending Holy Communion in a body, at the 7:30 o'clock mass. Ninety-five members were present. Rev. Father Hargather preached a very instructive sermon.

ST. PETER AND PAUL'S.

Edward Nolan and Miss Lizzie Hantz were united in marriage by Rev. Father Nicolaus Wednesday afternoon. Miss Anna Hantz was bridesmaid and Mr. Stokke acted as best man. Mr. Moran is an active member of the Y. M. C. O. and the Peerless Bowling club.

May devotions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in this church.

The Catholic Literary.

The Catholic Literary Society awarded its prizes for the best essays on the "Catholic Summer School of America," at the "Pedro party" held at its rooms in the Royal Arcanum hall Wednesday evening. Miss Emily W. Joyce won the first prize, which was a full course ticket to the lectures at the Summer School at Plattsburg during the session of 1906. Miss Katherine Goodyear won the second prize, which was a year's subscription to the "Catholic Reading Circle Review."

Reception by Cathedral Alumni.

Wednesday evening the Cathedral Alumni Association gave a brilliant reception in Cathedral hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with hanging potted plants and ferns screened the orchestra from view. The dancing programme consisted of fifteen well chosen numbers. It was enjoyed by about fifty couples. It was the first reception given by the alumni.

Base Ball.

The Eastern League opened the season yesterday, and the base ball field will now be in his glory. The magnates of this city started in with a street parade in which a large number of city officials, police and bowling clubs participated. Buffalo, who was the first club to cross bats with the Rochester, is scheduled to play here May 2d, 8d and 14th, and Toronto May 5th, 6th and 7th.

The funeral of Bridget O'Donohue took place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the house, 59 Monroe avenue, and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

George Satter, aged 39 years, died Tuesday night at the residence of Joseph Meyer, 34 Fien place. He leaves one brother, Nicholas Satter of this city, and two sisters who reside in Germany. The funeral was held from St. Joseph's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

John D. Ryan, infant son of John and Kate Ryan, died Wednesday night at the family residence, 69 Anderson avenue.

Mrs. E. Hawkins, aged 64 years, died Wednesday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Farley, 118 Averill avenue. She leaves three sons and five daughters. The funeral will take place this Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the house, and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

Mrs. Christian Lenhard, aged 40 years, died Thursday morning at the family residence, 18 Berlin street. She leaves a husband and nine children. The funeral took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the house and at 9 o'clock from Holy Redeemer church.

Cook Opera House.

Charles L. Davis, popular with all classes of theatre goers, will be seen at the Cook Opera House during the last three nights of next week in "Alvin Kraly." Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Sunday matinee. Hal Red's beautiful play "Human Hearts" will begin.

Academy.

One of the most novel attractions of the coming season will be that of the Noss Jolly company, appearing at the Academy all next week, headed by the famous Nosses, who have been before the public for twelve years. Having captured the amusement field with a determination to gain public favor, they have by hard and conscientious work reached the very pinnacle of success, and are to-day without a peer in their peculiar line.

In "The Kodak," termed a musical comedy burlesque, they have an unusually bright piece of work, justly called the 20th Century comedy, in which each member has an opportunity of displaying his or her versatility. It having been written especially for the peculiar abilities of this organization. There is just enough dialogue to not become tedious, and at the same time admit of the different specialties so as not to mar the sense of the play. Comedy runs through out the play and the audience is kept in a thoroughly good humor all the while, while every act, speech and specialty is given with snap, vim and life.

Wonderland Theatre.

The bill prepared for presentation at this house for the coming week is first class one, containing the name of the best specialty artists on the vaudeville stage, a list of which is as follows: McCloud and McVie, premier change artists and comedy double harp song and dance artists in America, introduced with a blast of beautiful incandescent lights; Burns and Nina, assisted by Prof. William A. Barry in an act entitled "Variety is the Spice of Life," introducing Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, lady juggler champion, paper tearing whistling duets illustrated with electric stereoscopic views, concluding with an original satire on the singer in the gallery with their intelligent dog "Fitz" playing the part of the vocalist; Edwards and Nelson in an Irish comedy sketch; team introducing some good singing and genuine Irish comedy; Walker E. and Marnie Doves, refined acrobatic manipulators, the best act of this kind in America; Mack and Elliott, a duo of very clever sketch artists, introducing their latest skit "Connubial Felicity," and the celebrated Williams trio of vocalists and musicians, playing difficult solos on a great variety of musical instruments. Bicycles are checked at this house free of charge.

Notes.

Manager Scott of the Wonderland Theatre has leased the Auditorium at Charlotte for the summer and will run high class vaudeville entertainments afternoon, and evening, commencing June 15th. Nothing but the very best attractions will be booked, with a change of programme weekly. The performances will be strictly first class in every particular at all times.

UNCLE DICK OGLESSY.

Two Characteristics of the Social Ex-Governor of Illinois.

I think it was during the Cleveland-Blaine campaign that ex-Governor Oglesby of Illinois, "Uncle Dick," as he is familiarly known, first made a stay of any length in New York.

He and a companion had a sumptuous luncheon, ordered of course by the introducer, who wound up by inviting the governor to smoke. The clerk at the cigar counter handed out some fine Havana cigars. Uncle Dick was about to take one, when some thought arrested his hand, and he asked:

"What's the price of those?"
"Twenty-five cents," was the reply.
"Holy smoke!" ejaculated the governor. "Put 'em back! Put 'em back, quick!"

"But, governor, this is my treat," said his friend.

"Daren't do it! Daren't do it! Put 'em back!"

"Yes, but governor!"—"I tell you I daren't do it. Why, man, if I should ever find out in Illinois that I smoked a 25 cent cigar in New York, they'd turn me out of the church, and it would ruin me politically forever. Daren't do it! Ten cent cigars are good enough for me in New York and 5 cents at home."

Uncle Dick always prided himself on his success in campaigning when called upon to reach a man's vote through his family pride.

On one of his tours he passed through a country town in Illinois, when he came suddenly upon a charming group—a comely woman with a very little once about her—in a garden with a high picket fence in front of it. He stopped short, then advanced and leaned over the front gate.

"Madam," said he in his most ingratiating way, "may I kiss these beautiful children?"

"Certainly, sir," the lady answered demurely, "there is no possible objection."

"They are lovely darlings," said Uncle Dick, after he had finished the eldest. "I have seldom seen more beautiful babies. Are they all yours, mamma?"

The lady blushed deeply.

"Of course they are—the sweet little treasures. From whom else, mamma, could they have inherited these limpid eyes, these rosy cheeks, these profuse curls, these comely figures and these musical voices?"

The lady continued blushing.

"By the way, mamma," said Uncle Dick, "may I bother you to tell your estimable husband that Richard J. Oglesby, Republican candidate for governor, called upon him this evening?"

"Alas, sir," quoth the lady, "I have no husband."

"But these children, madam—you surely are not a widow?"

"I fear you were mistaken, sir, when you first came up. These are not my children. This is an orphan asylum!"

Exchange.

A Congregational Church. Captain W. P. Ripley of Portsmouth, O., is probably the only man in the state that owns a church. The church itself is rather cosmopolitan in regard to religious affiliations and traditions. It was built by a colored Methodist congregation, the pulpit was built by the Baptist, the bell was formerly the property of the Christian church, the pews were once used by All Saints' Episcopal church, and the building is now occupied as a mission for the Second Presbyterian congregation.
