

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Recovered Hearings.
Zurich, Kas., Sept. 15, '94.
I have Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic to a boy 9 years old who had lost his hearing in consequence of scarlet fever. After using 8 bottles he was able again to hear and to talk, although the doctors said he would never hear again, but he is all right now.

Several other persons, that suffered from female weakness and other diseases resulting from this cause took Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic through my advice and were cured.

On my trips as missionary in eastern Kansas the people will ask for advice and I recommend the Tonic as it has the desired effect.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Some Up to Date News of Cyclists the Country Over.

Miss Lillian E. Boyd is the name of a young woman who is now on her way around this country a wheel. She is 18 years of age, hails from New Orleans and is said to be a true sample of the much praised southern beauty. Miss Boyd is not making her bicycling trip for her health but for the fun there is in it, but is riding from her home to this city to earn a lot of $1,000.

To win the bet, the fair cyclist was compelled to leave Houston, Tex., penniless and return to her home with $500. She was recently in St. Louis and in the 32 days that she has spent riding from Houston she has earned the $500 from the sale of photographs of herself.

Miss Boyd left St. Louis for Chicago, where she will rest a few days before starting for New York. After a rest in the metropolis she will start for Philadelphia. She wears like a pro that are correct in style and has already been offered a large salary to ride a certain make of wheel the remainder of the journey.

Probably the "freakiest" wheel of the year is that owned by Billy Bainbridge, the erstwhile English crack, who is at present in this country. Billy is training on the wheel every fine day, and expects it to land him up near the front in the great Chicago Decoration day road race.

The peculiarities of the wheel are many. Attached to a frame of the regular diamond pattern are 23 inch instead of 28 inch wheels. The right pedal is attached to the rim of the front sprocket, which is 12 inches in diameter. The crank to which this pedal is attached forms one of the spokes of the sprocket. The gear is 71, and instead of a chain there is an endless band of spring steel, placed at intervals of about two inches to receive rivets, which project through the inner side. The heads of these rivets engage with small slots cut into the periphery of the two sprocket wheels. Fitted with light racing bars and a wooden saddle of a new pattern, the freak tips the beam at exactly 13 pounds. The wheel is not on the market and is the only one of the pattern ever turned out.

New Yorkers are never satisfied. The wheelman of the metropolis has not only wanted a cycle path, but an demanding that it be an elevated one. It is a well known fact that greater New York wants to have a double decked "L" road. Now the cyclists want it made a three decked affair, the additional deck to be used as a cycle path. When the plan for the double decker of the elevated road system was presented to the mayor, there was also submitted for the consideration of the city officials a separate sketch of a second plan, which showed a three story structure, the two lower stories being used by the elevated trains and the third, or upper, story for a bicycle path.

To each side of the structure guards would be erected sufficiently high to prevent accidents to wheelmen. At half mile intervals it is proposed that light elevators shall be erected to carry wheelmen to and from the path.

The structure will be flanked in Georgia pine to the width of about 20 feet, and in the center of it will be placed a division rail, with openings at quarter mile intervals, where crossings may be made to the opposite track. The wheeling will be regulated, those going north taking the east track and those south the west track. It is estimated that 10,000 persons would use the bicycle track daily.

"Is there anything new in cycling circles?" asked the like man, addressing a dealer on "Cycle street."

"Well, I guess," was the answer, and the dealer pointed to a rare sight in the bicycle world.

It was a wheel, the entire framework, except the joints, of which was made of hollow wood. It weighs exactly 15 pounds and is a really pretty bit of "bike mechanism." It is made by a Milwaukee man, and this is the first one ever exhibited in the east.

The joints are of brass, strongly made, and everything else, except the spokes, is wood.

The long talked of race between the bicycle and the fastest of railroad trains, the Empire State express, it seems, is at last about to occur. If the weather permits, there will be a race on May 15 that will undoubtedly interest the entire country. The race will be held near Albany and will be between the fast express train with a record of 37 1/2 seconds for a mile and the now famous sextet bicycle. The friends of the latter claim that with good riders the "bike" will prove that it is the fastest method of locomotion on earth.

A track six miles long is now being prepared parallel to the tracks near Albany. The wheel has already been built, and is a sextet geared to 196 inches. If the men to ride it can turn their pedals three times each second, as is hoped, the train record for a mile will be beaten 2 2-5 seconds. The veteran trainer of bicycle riders, John West, has taken charge of the riders who are to make the attempt at the record. The machine is built on the cantilever principle, and it is claimed the weight of its six riders will not deflect the frame in the least. There are four sprockets used in gearing, so that at each revolution of the pedals the bicycle moves about 42 feet. The entire sextet weighs 137 1/2 pounds.

It is not stated definitely who the men to be placed on the wheel will be, but it is understood that the team will be made up from the following men: John Lund or Dave Bohner of St. Louis as steersman, Fred Ran, winner of the Chicago road race in 1894; Fred Laughland, the young Canadian champion; John Lawson, the Terrible Swede; Fred Weave and W. S. Kenyon of Chicago, E. W. Bonkey of Mount Clemens, Mich., and H. E. Fredericksen, the Nebraska champion.—Philadelphia Press.
