PRESS CLUBS MEET

International League in Session at Buffalo—Officers Elected.

BUFFALO, June 24.—The sixth annual convention of the International League of Press Clubs opened in this city with an attendance of over 200 delegates.

The meeting was called to order by President Megargee of Philadelphia. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of over $50.

The question of the amelioration of the libel laws was taken up. The secretary read a communication from the Journalistic club of Baltimore, stating that Maryland was the first state to adopt the suggestions in regard to changes in the libel law made by the International League at its convention in Philadelphia. The matter of the formation of an international libel law was referred to the committee on resolutions.

In presenting the report of the committee on the next convention place, Chairman Cramer announced that the invitation extended by New York city had been accepted.

It was the desire of the late John A. Cockerill, expressed at the Atlanta convention two years ago, that New York should have the convention in '97 and Mr. Cramer paid a tribute to the memory of Colonel Cockerill in his report.

The following officers were elected: President—Harry M. Young of Indianapolis; Vice Presidents—[illegible] New York, W. V. A[illegible] Boston, Mrs. Ellen S. C[illegible] Washington, Max Way, Boston; [illegible] San Francisco; T. H. Martin, Philadelphia; Secretary—George F. Lyon, New York; Treasurer—James S. McCartney, Philadelphia, re-elected.

Ex-officio member of the governing board for the ensuing year—Louis N. Megargee, Philadelphia.

SPANISH MURDER CHILDREN.

Twenty-five Put to the Machete by the Royal Soldiers.

"Colonel Estruch of the Spanish army found on a plantation about 50 ladies and 40 children. They took them prisoners and they had to walk 10 miles. The children became fatigued, whereupon 25 of them were killed with machetes.

"The prisoners in the castles are tied up at night and thrown into the sea. This was discovered by some fishermen, who brought up dead bodies on their hooks.

"The Spanish soldiers have not had any pay for five months. The French bankers have refused to lend any money to Spain, claiming they have found Spain has lost control of Cuba."

Causes Uneasiness In Spain.

LONDON, June 22.—A dispatch from Madrid says: "The platform adopted in St. Louis causes great uneasiness in Spain, and it is feared that a conflict with the United States has now almost a fixed date. The government has hastened to buy two 14,000-ton ironclads at Genoa, whose price a few days ago was thought to be excessive. A great part of the loan of 100,000,000 placetas made by Rothschild on the Almaden silver mines will probably be immediately applied to such war ships as are now for sale. The government, responding to the undoubted national sentiment and trusting, probably, to the help of other powers, seems resolved to resist American impositions."

Default was had in the payment of interest on these in October, 1894, and the property has since been in the hands of a receiver.

SEVEN BLOWN TO PIECES

Terrific Explosion of a Tram Engine Boiler.

THREE OTHERS BADLY INJURED.

Six of the Victims Had Their Heads Blown From the Bodies and Otherwise Mutilated—Accident Occurred at Doucette, Texas.

WOODVILLE, Tex., June 23.—At Doucette three miles north of Woodville, the tram engine boiler of the Nebraska Lumber company exploded, killing seven men outright and seriously if not fatally injuring three others.

It seems that the engineer was just ready to start for the log camp when the explosion took place, some six or eight men being in the cab. Six of these seven victims had their heads entirely torn from their bodies and otherwise mutilated beyond recognition.

The water which supplied the engine had been low and muddy, and the sediment is supposed to have caked in the bottom of the boiler until it became dangerous. Another reason given is that the engineer let the water get low with a hot fire and turned on the injector.

An eyewitness says he heard the noise and squatted between the ties and looked. Iron flew through the air like shot and carried everything in its path. The men who met death never knew what killed them. A sharp report, a rain like patter of iron and it was all over. Six of the dead were buried near the scene of their death, and the remains of Mr. Doucette were sent here and forwarded to Orange.

BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Number of Persons Buried In the Ruins and Probably Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—A 3-story building occupied as a lodging house at the corner of Fifth street and Mint avenue collapsed, burying several in the ruins.

The body of a woman has already been recovered and it is feared there are at least six others in the debris.

Fire broke out in the ruins and enveloped all that was left of the structure.

Three wounded persons have been rescued.

The disaster was caused by workmen engaged in laying the foundation for another building undermining the walls.

LATER—Five dead have been recovered and seven of the injured rescued.

The building came down with an awful crash, and the structure was in a moment a mass of kindling wood. There were a large number of people in the building at the time. Two laborers, Michael Hayward and James Daly, at work on the building, state that the accident was caused by the fact that the jack screws supporting the building were much higher on the north side than on the south side.

In the front of the ruins, plainly visible, lay a man. Across his body was a large beam. He cried piteously for help. After working half an hour the rescuers released him and he was taken to the receiving hospital. The mass of debris greatly retarded the work of the rescuers.

To add to the horror, the debris caught fire at the rear and a volume of smoke blinded the rescuers. The engines commenced to play a stream of water on the fire. This added a new horror, as the water threatened the lives of those under the debris.

THE PRESIDENT GOES FISHING.

Boards a Lighthouse Tender For a Trip Down the Potomac.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle left the city about 9 o'clock last night on the light house tender Violet for a fishing trip down the Potomac river. With the party was Captain Lamberton of the Violet.

The present indication is to be absent for two or three days, but the trip may be longer and extended into the waters of Chesapeake bay.

The weather during the past few days has been excessively hot, and the president being unable at this time to leave the city permanently for the summer, takes this means of obtaining a few days respite from official duties.

Dead Man at the Throttle.

BURLINGTON, Ia., June 22.—The fast mail on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy from Chicago to Omaha came into Burlington with a dead man holding the throttle. The fireman noticed the failure of the engineer to signal for the closing of the drawbridge across the Mississippi at this point. He ran around the big boiler, which makes two compartments of the cab and found the engineer, V. B. Giddings, dead at his post with a great gash in the side of his head. How it came there and how he met death cannot be explained, but it is supposed he was struck by a mail crane. How far the train ran with the dead man in control will never be known. Had the train been a minute sooner, it would have gone through the draw into the river. The draw had just closed after letting a boat through.

WIND AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

Considerable Damage to Life and Property by the Storm.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 22.—The city was visited by a terrific wind and rain storm, which assumed the proportions of a cyclone, and did great damage. This storm was entirely local and extended not more than two miles north and south of Poughkeepsie. The greatest damage was done in the southern section of the city, and especially along the river front.

Many houses and factories were unroofed and hundreds of shade trees and telegraph poles were blown down. The trolley system was completely crippled and the city without electric light. The worst damage was along the river front.

An icehouse on Fox's Point was blown down and a tramp who was seen at one end of the building when the storm burst is believed to be buried in the ruins.

A boatload of lumber was blown from the deck of a southbound tow, together with the cabin of one of the other boats. A man was seen struggling in the water near the tow, and it is supposed that he was drowned.

The Burrill Machine works were struck by lightning and the wind blew down a large section of its top story, causing $1,000 damage.

The roof and smokestack of the Phoenix Horshoe works were blown down, and other small factories were damaged. After the storm John Snyder 10 years old, who was playing with some other children on the deck of the steamer Hasbrouck fell overboard and was drowned.

He had a wide reputation as a writer on commercial and financial topics.
