SHE PREFERS QUIET.

SEWALL'S NOMINATION NOT ALTOGETHER PLEASANT TO HIS WIFE.

The Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee's Wife Is of a Retiring Nature—She Has Traveled Much—An Amateur Photographer and Artist of Merit. Mrs. Arthur Sewall, wife of the Democratic candidate for vice president, has an artistic temperament, to which a large collection of water colors and landscape photographs made by her on two continents bears witness.

Mrs. Sewall's health has not been good for several years, though she is in no sense an invalid, and she is compelled to exercise care and has not been so prominent in society as might otherwise have been the case.

Mrs. Sewall has been a student and a wide reader, and is proficient in French, which has always been a favorite language with her. She is thoroughly acquainted with this country, having visited every part of it.

When the news of her husband's nomination for the vice presidency was brought to her by her son, Harold M. Sewall, it was a surprise that was not altogether pleasing.

The other daughter-in-law is Mrs. William D. Sewall, who was Miss Mary Sumner of Worcester, Mass.

A VENTILATED SHOE. This invention promises to keep your feet cool.

The ventilated shoe is a recently patented invention. The shoe does not appear at all different from ordinary footwear.

Married on the Highway. A new feature in marriage ceremonies was inaugurated near Merion, Ill., at 8:30 o'clock the other afternoon.

They have been having in London a germ in ice cream more severe than anything we have known here.

USED CLEVELAND'S NAME.

Sharp Swindler Takes in Western Friends of the President.

One of the most successful of the green goods games has been worked on the innocent in the west by a shrewd young man who declares that he is a son of John S. Bell, former chief of the United States secret service.

The swindle which young Bell is said to have perpetrated involves no less a person than Grover Cleveland, president of the United States.

John S. Bell, formerly chief of the secret service, says he has only one son, and that he knows absolutely nothing of the man.—Chicago Post.

CONNIFF HAS GONE.

The Queerest Man in the Country... Thomas E. Conniff, the amateur champion one mile runner, spent Sunday in New York.

THOMAS E. CONNIFF. One of the most successful of the green goods games has been worked on the innocent in the west by a shrewd young man who declares that he is a son of John S. Bell.

He has been a special student at the Holy Cross college in New York the past year, fitting himself for the university. When asked about the recent challenge put out by Bacon for a series of long distance races, three to take place in this country and three in England, Conniff said that he had not decided what answer to make.

A CYCLE CHRISTENING.

The Wheeling Grass Is Apparently Healthy in Italy. From San Salvo, near Turin, comes the story of a christening with a bicycle setting, a "cycling christening" it was called in a Berlin paper.

Mr. Owen D. Wells of Columbus, O., has in his possession one of the original copies of the Declaration of Independence which were struck off shortly after the document was drawn up.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

CRIT Robinson, the wing shot, has the best trained hunting dog on the coast, a black pointer. At the pigeon shoot, where other dogs go crazy at the crackling of the guns and the dropping of the birds, Robinson's dog lies in the shade asleep.

Three of a Kind. An immoral show and a dispute as to which did greater damage. As a result of the controversy, the Sunday paper attacked the immoral show and thereby caused thousands of people to go to see how bad it really was.

No Trouble to Show Goods. The largest living lady, from the neighboring dime museum, looked into the drugist's window.

Professionally Occupied. Maudie—How lucky Carmelita is! Her best fellow's a medical student, you know.

Explaining His Enthusiasm. Friend—Jonas has just been talking to me about your town. Judging from what he says, there is no room for improvement in any respect.

Her Inquiry. "There is no use in denying it," said the young man, who uses slang indiscriminately.

A Gifted Man. "Hopkins has devised a scheme to keep his wife's family from dropping in on them for meals."

A Bleeding Aristocrat. First Mosquito—You look quite blue this morning, Montessoro. In love?

The Soul of Music. "I like the old old fashioned songs," remarked the man with a bored look.

An Item Not Mentioned. "Well, Brewster, did you find your farmhouse just two minutes from the station?"

A Dampener. "Dad has a right to be so enthusiastic a cyclist as he was."

Tactful of the Literary World. "I never met a crucifix."

The Future of Our Naval Powers. "The Genius of the Japanese."

Worth Nothing. Chile has just had the first presidential election in its history without a row.
