DIOCESAN NEWS.

From Our Special Correspondent. Geneva.

After a few weeks spent in Geneva, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Grady, Centre street, Miss Helen Norton of Troy started on Sunday for an extended tour in Western states, much pleased with her visit.

Miss Johanna Murphy, formerly of Geneva but recently of Rochester, is making her numerous friends in Geneva a very pleasant call. Miss Murphy always welcome here, and all are pleased to meet her and greet her.

John F. Dolan has been in Geneva for the past week in the interest of the new railroad to be built from Geneva to Seneca Falls on the lake road. Mr. Dolan speaks very favorably of having this operation by fall.

Misses Anna and Marie Burt of Penn Yan, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kane and family of Centre street a few days, have returned to their home.

On Wednesday afternoon the funeral of the late William J. Kane of Geneva was held at the residence of Mr. Kane for interment. Mr. Kane was the father of Mrs. William Whelan and was very highly respected in this vicinity.

Mrs. John Lydon and daughter Alice and Miss Kate Tinnon, has returned from a very pleasant visit in Chicago the guests of relatives and friends.

On Thursday afternoon and evening a very pleasant birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kane of Exchange street in honor of the fifth anniversary of the little daughter, Lorette, at which sixteen of her little friends were in attendance. Games and other amusements were indulged in until a reasonable hour when the children took their departure for home, much pleased with their day's pleasure.

Mrs. Anna Kane and Eliza Broderick, who have been the guests of Mrs. Harry Somers in Auburn have returned to their homes.

One of the most pleasant affairs of the season was the C. R. & B. A. picnic at Cayuga Lake park on Tuesday, July 28th, which was largely attended by crowds from Waterloo, Seneca Falls, Cayuga and Auburn. This was the first basket picnic of the C. R. & B. A. and it was a success in every detail.

Miss Marguerite Judd, formerly of Geneva but recently of Rochester who has been in Geneva for the past two weeks owing to the death of her mother, the late Mrs. Margaret Judd, returned to Rochester on Saturday. Marguerite's numerous friends in Geneva were much pleased to see her and welcome her among them once again.

B. F. Dunn, who has been in the employ of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in Geneva for the past year, has resigned with that company and gone to his home in Oneida for a much needed vacation. During Mr. Dunn's stay in Geneva he made many warm friends who wish him much success in whatever he may undertake.

Miss Mary Quail of Waterloo, who has been the guest of Mrs. John Tracy and Mrs. Mary O'Connor and family of North street, has returned to her home. On Tuesday night, July 28th, Miss Mary Clancy and her brother, James Clancy, returned to their home in Ithaca after a month's vacation with their grandmother, Mrs. Kane of Centre street. They were accompanied home by their aunt, Miss Elizabeth Kane.

Danville. Mrs. Catherine Murphy, widow of the late Jeremiah Murphy, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. D. E. Driscoll, on South street, Thursday morning, July 23d, at 8:30 o'clock, from stomach trouble and general debility, aged 79 years and 6 months. She was married twice, her first husband being Daniel Mannin, who died in Ireland in 1838, by whom she had three sons, two having died in childhood, and Jeremiah Mannin of this place who died in 1875, husband of Mrs. M. J. Mannin. By her late husband she had four children, one having died in infancy. There still survive, Dennis H. of South Danville, William J. of Byersville and Mrs. D. E. Driscoll of this place. Mrs. Murphy was born in Ireland and came to this country 45 years ago. She has been a member of St. Patrick's church, Danville, for 25 years, and a pioneer member of the Rosary, Cross and Altar society. She was a true Christian wife and kind mother, always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need and alleviate the sufferings of others. Her motto was "Do unto others as you would wish to be done by." For the past nine years she has been living with her daughter. During that time her health has been steadily failing, but she bore it with patience and resignation, only waiting for the time when she would be called home. The funeral was held from St. Patrick's church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with high mass of requiem, Rev. T. Dougherty officiating. Friends from out of town were Mrs. D. O'Keefe and daughter Anastasia, of Waterloo; J. O'Keefe of Seneca Falls; Mrs. W. H. O'Donnell, Mt. Morris, and Mrs. M. Green and son Dan, of Byersville.

The Danville friends of Rev. Father Connolly of Annot, Pa., were grieved to hear of his death last Tuesday. During Father Connolly's stay in Danville last year he made many warm friends who deeply regret his death. The Temperance society went to Conesus lake on Thursday for a day's outing. Rev. Father Trappeser of Baltimore preached in St. Patrick's church last Sunday.

Spencerport. Mrs. T. Dunn and daughter visited friends in Lyons, Newark and Fairport last week. Misses Kelly, Howard, Prendergast, Nalland, McKill, and Mr. John Prendergast of Rochester rode out on their wheels Sunday and attended mass at St. John's church.

Misses Kelly, Howard, Prendergast, Nalland, McKill, and Mr. John Prendergast of Rochester rode out on their wheels Sunday and attended mass at St. John's church.

William Morgan and sister spent Saturday in Rochester. Miss Margaret Kinney has accepted a position with Cole & Freeman.

James Dunn of Fairport is spending a few days with relatives. Patrick Cunningham of Rochester is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Turney.

WOMAN AND FASHION.

Present Day Gowns and Millinery—Some Striking Fete Costumes—How a Woman Should Walk.

As the season progresses women tire of the modes which repeat themselves on all festive occasions, and she who would shine in the fashionable world seeks to evolve something at once novel and characteristic in costume. Such was evidently the origin of a stylish gown which might fitly grace the gayest of summer fetes. A race gown in its first intent, it finds many another suitable sphere, notably the garden party, where something with an air of its own most distinguish its wearer at first glance from the common herd.

The skirt and bodice are of cream bengaline, while sleeves, fichu and flounce show the ascendancy of chiffon plain and chiffon embroidered, as does the tasteful finish of the neck and cuffs. The hat of butter colored straw has a crown and inner brim of coarse guipure lace. Wild white roses and foliage are massed at the back and dotted around.

Miss Jennie Martin spent Sunday with friends in Rochester. Miss Lizzie Lawlor of Jackson street is spending a few weeks in Syracuse visiting friends.

Miss Kittle Cugley of Auburn is spending a few weeks in town visiting relatives. Barney McManus and John McNarney of Newark, N. Y., spent Sunday last in town visiting friends.

F. Mackin spent Sunday last at Seneca Falls. F. Flanagan of Clyde spent Sunday last in town.

Mrs. J. Green of Port Byron spent a few days of the past week in town visiting relatives. Misses Mannie and Lizzie Cloonan are spending a few weeks in Auburn visiting friends.

Livonia Station. William Purcell, one of Springwater's old and respected residents, died at his home July 19th, at the age of 57 years. Mr. Purcell had not been in perfect health for some years, and his death, though not unexpected, was a great shock to his many friends and relatives. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his loss. The remains were brought to Livonia where requiem mass was sung by Rev. J. W. Hendrick. Interment was at Avon.

Mrs. Meagher, the leading soprano of St. Michael's church, was called to Rochester last week to render some of her choice selections at a musical arranged by Prof. Thomas Hogan.

Mrs. Michael Higgins of Rochester is visiting relatives in town. Lyons. The Misses McGauley of New York were in Lyons on Tuesday last.

John Doyle of Buffalo spent Sunday with his parents on Montezuma street. Cornelius O'Keefe of this city has accepted a position at Niagara Falls with the American Express company.

Miss Anna Doyle of Newark was in town on Sunday. Mrs. William Egan of this city is entertaining Miss Walsh of Canada.

Miss Minnie Mackin is enjoying a vacation. Miss Anna Deming of Newark was in town Sunday. Miss Florence Wright spent one day of last week in town.

Rushville. This community was grieved last Sunday morning to hear of the sudden death of Patrick W. Lyons. Mr. Lyons had been working for the past year with lung difficulty which terminated in that dread disease, consumption. He had not been confined to his bed of late, therefore his condition was not considered dangerous until the last of the week, when he had a change for the worse and sank rapidly, passing away about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, in the 55th year of his age. He is survived by his wife and three children, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. Deceased came to this town four years ago, at which time he purchased the Park House, and has fulfilled the duties of proprietor ever since. He had a kind and genial disposition, and left many friends to mourn his loss. The remains were taken on the 11th m. train Monday to Fairport, the home of his boyhood. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at Assumption B. V. M. church and was largely attended, Rev. Father Codry officiating. May his soul rest in peace. The relatives and friends who came to accompany the remains to Fairport were his two brothers of Fairport, his sisters, Mrs. Quirk and Mary Lyons of Syracuse, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quirk, Michael Quirk and J. Ryan, Mrs. FitzSimons and daughter Alice, and Maurice Quirk.

Mrs. Kelly, who has been sick for some time, is improving very slowly. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and children of Rochester are spending a few weeks with Mrs. Dunn's mother, Mrs. Cotting.

Miss Agnes Mooney of Canandaigua visited friends in town the past week. The many friends of Miss Anna Dawson of Rochester are pleased to have her among them for a few weeks.

Mrs. Hennessy is entertaining her granddaughter, Miss Carrie Hennessy of Fairport. Mr. J. O'Brien and wife of Rochester are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Mary Huey of Canandaigua spent Sunday with her parents. How's This. We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

Where Science Made a Mistake—Lillian Russell's Latest—Chicago's New Tower—He Was Wide Awake.

Occasionally science must admit failure. One night a young man in D. V. V. hall of Yale undertook, with a toy rifle, to hit a lamp. But his aim was poor, and the ball passed through the window of an eminent and venerable professor of science and imbedded itself in the wall. This was the opportunity for the professor and for science. He, too, set to work and computed the curve, and with the exact skill of infallible figures he traced the ball right back to the room of an innocent colleague, who didn't even know the rifle had been fired. The unfledged minister flatly denied all knowledge of the affair.

But men, even ministers, have been known to make denials in self defense, and the professor had the proof with him. There was the bullet, there were the marks of its course, and there was the computation worked out. It looked as if a palpit career was to be nipped in the bud. But the gaily student heard what was going on. He called on the professor, confessed the offense, pointed out that the man of science was 200 feet out in his computation and advised that the matter be dropped right where it was. And it was done.—Hartford Courant.

Lillian Russell's Latest. Those persons who suppose that simply because Miss Lillian Russell is not playing at present she is necessarily idle are laboring under an erroneous idea. Besides attending the races every day, Miss Russell is writing articles on some matters for the Sunday newspapers in a manner which makes the reputation of Ruth Ashmore tremble in the balance. These of Miss Russell's articles which have already appeared have made such a sensation that the next two issues from her pen will be published by a syndicate. They are to be called "How to Wear Diamonds on $300 a Year," and "How to Be Happy Though Divorced." No one is better able to expatiate on these subjects than Miss Russell.

Since Miss Russell has been writing on domestic topics she has been cultivating the society of a model bakery young man, probably in search of local color for her articles on home cooking. This young man, whose father's name ranks high in the world of dough, has been until very recently almost a daily occupant of Miss Russell's box at the race track.

Last week for several days, however, his seat was occupied by another young man, and a rumor was in circulation that the heir of the model bakery had passed into the life beyond. Last Saturday, however, the youth reappeared in Miss Russell's train. Richard Reed was one of the first to recognize him.

"There's that blooming young yeast cake again," he remarked. "He rises superior even to Lillian Russell."—New York Sun.

Chicago's New Tower. Chicago expects to have a tower which will be the highest structure of its kind ever constructed. It is to be called the city tower, and will be 1,100 feet high and 800 feet square at the base.

The tower company is an incorporated one, capitalized at $300,000, having for its president D. R. Proctor, and will rear this lofty steel skeleton on the old baseball property, owned by New York people, for which a lease for a term of years has been secured. This enterprise is based on business lines, and the projectors of the scheme intend to equip the tower with a theater, restaurants, searchlights and telescopes, while such entertainments as airship flights, balloon ascensions, parachute drops and high tight rope performances, as well as electrical and pyrotechnical displays, will be given.

Chicago's tower, its promoters say, will surpass the famous Eiffel tower in Paris in point of design, magnitude and appointment and will contain 14 elevators as against 6 in the Eiffel—Washington Star.

He Was Wide Awake. A London paper says that some time ago the Princess Maud went shopping strictly incog. While she was walking along the street she was accosted by a little street arab, who was the happy possessor of a pair of large, pathetic brown eyes and a tangled curl of curly brown hair. He was busily engaged in the absorbing task of earning his living (and perhaps some one else's as well) by retailing "fresh spring flowers, penny and tuppence a bunch." The princess stopped by him, and while choosing some flowers she was a little startled by the lad saying in an excited and familiar whisper: "It's all right, miss. I know yer, but I'll keep it dark and won't split on yer." The princess smilingly shook her head in denial. "Yes, I do know yer" (more emphatically). "Yer Princess Maud. It wiggled yer directly."

An Unexpected Message. An up town man is director in one of the local banks. A day or two ago he supposed he had seen his wife and daughters and 10-year-old son safely to the railway station on their way to a seaside resort. He had then hurried back to the bank to meet the other directors. While they were busily discussing the propriety of a certain investment the proprietor of a certain business presented this particular director was surprised to see his 10-year-old hopeful stride into the bank and deliver himself as follows: "Pa, th' train is late, an' na told me so come up an' tell you that she forgot her bathin suit, an' you'll find it in th' shoebox on her dressin table, an' you can send it by mail if you don't forget to put a stamp on it. Goodby."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fashionable Occultism. The black art appears to be very fashionable at present, and the man or woman is at a distinct discount who cannot read palms or tell fortunes with cards or in some way or other obtain glimpses of the future.

Learning to Walk. Would you like to experience great enjoyment from a long walk with little or no fatigue? Would you like to return from a long tramp with garments immaculate even when the conditions are most unfavorable? If so, observe these instructions from Vogue: The body must be held erect with the head up, walk from the waist (not the knees), bend the knees, pick up the feet and walk on the ball of the foot. This insures a certain elasticity and buoyancy, so that one almost feels she is reading on air—walking on pneumatic tires, so to speak. Nothing is too trivial to be done well—even these points which are generally overlooked.

FACTS IN A FEW LINES.

The patent office of Great Britain does not require models. Any person may take out a patent for an invention or discovery. The fee for filing each original application for a patent is $15. A German patent costs $100, this sum covering also the tax for six years. A German patent covers Prussia and all the states of the German empire. A Belgian patent lasts 20 years, provided that it is worked in Belgium. In France the doctor's claim on the estate of a deceased patient has preference over all others. The Soldiers' home is on the highest hill in the District of Columbia, 830 feet above sea level. Statistics show that, in America, at any rate, women who have frequented universities marry much later than others. If the armies of Europe should march at an 8 mile gait, 5 abreast, 15 inches apart, it would require 9 1/2 days for them to pass a given point. It is becoming quite a rage, so the jewelers say, to carry the portrait of your dearest and also your nearest in the inner case of your watch. The siege of Troy is largely a myth, even according to Homer's own account. Helen must have been 80 years old when Paris fell in love with her. Quill pens, picks, as a rule, are imported from France. The largest factory in the world is near Paris, where 20,000,000 are annually produced. Some high prices were paid for fine old snuffboxes at Christie's in London the other day—$9,000 for one, $5,500 for another and $8,000 for a third. It is said that during the recent disorders in Johannesburg the Boer government expended about $25,000 in relief to those unable to obtain food by other means. A good deal of "real" morocco is made from the skin of the ray. As for the salmon, its skin is also tanned. The result is a very attractive scale marked leather. This is used chiefly in Asia. The consumption of wheat in Britain is reckoned at six bushels per head per annum, which, on the basis of an estimated population of 35,900,000, makes a total consumption of 235,400,000 bushels. Plants that have been raised in pots are liable to injury when turned out if the soil is at all dry, and therefore it is a safe plan to water well an hour or two beforehand, taking care to disturb the roots as little as possible. There are 20 cremation associations in active operation in the United States. The oldest was organized at Washington, Pa., in 1875, and the two newest are found at New Haven and Elizabeth, N. J.
