GRAND ENTERTAINMENT

To be Given Under the Auspices of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Church.

Most excellent entertainments are promised on September 28th, 29th and 30th at St. Joseph's hall, Franklin street, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's church. People still remember how successfully these young ladies rendered last winter the drama "Joan of Arc." The manner in which this play was put on the stage, and the way each character was given was a surprise even to those who had seen many professional players. The same society now proposes to give on the 28th of September the well-known and beautiful German drama, "Rosa of Tannenberg," and no doubt all those who will go to see it will enjoy a most pleasant evening and leave the hall well satisfied. On Tuesday, September 29th, and Wednesday, September 30th, the tragedy, "Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots," especially gotten up for the Young Ladies' Auxiliary, will be rendered. The play is divided into three acts, there being four scenes in the first act, five scenes in the second act and three scenes in the third act. The entire story of Mary Stuart's life and death will be told. Every point in it will be historically correct, and each scene will be represented in a tasteful and attractive manner. The costumes will be the handsomest ever used by amateurs. Indeed, neither labor nor expense has been spared to make this play what it ought to be. No less than 128 persons will take part in the performance of "Mary Stuart." In addition an attractive musical olio will be rendered between the acts.
