With the close of his present term he completes a continuous service of 42 years at the national Capitol, 12 years of which was as a representative.

CANADA'S FOUR Rs.

Prominent Labor Leader Says They Are Rights, Reason, Rebellion, Rifles.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—An extraordinary scene occurred in the city council here, which directly reflects the feeling of a large section of Toronto rate payers, who are feeling the depression consequent upon the collapse of the boom and the burden of high taxation.

D. A. Wall, a prominent member of labor organizations, speaking for a deputation, declared that the people were now worked up as they were previous to the rebellion of 1837. Canada contained 4,000,000 slaves and 1,000,000 office holders.

Mr. Wall then emphatically exclaimed that the matter was covered by four "Rs."

"The first is Rights—our rights and we want them. Next comes Reason—and there is reason in our demands; the third R is Rebellion—we are being driven to it, and the fourth R is Rifles—which always bring the people their rights."

Cheers from the gallery greeted the speaker at the concluding words and excitement reigned in the council chamber.

Mr. Wall was compelled to stand aside, but refused to withdraw any portion of his speech.

The Recent Massacre in the Van District of Turkey.

They declare that no Armenians are left in the Van district. The Kurds, declaring that they were executing the sultan's will, mercilessly butchered the men, kidnapped the prettiest women and girls, and threw the children into the pits intended for storing corn and buried them alive in order to save ammunition.

"The victims were arranged in rows and were killed two and three at a single shot.

"The details of the outrages on the priests and temples and sacred vessels are indescribably revolting."

WHOLE TOWN HELD UP

Bandits Terrorize the Citizens of Carney, O. T.

ROB THE STORES AND HOTELS.

Little Show of Resistance Made by the Terrified Citizens—Posse In Pursuit—Believed to Be Members of the Old Dalton Gang.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 19.—Further particulars were received here of the raid on the little town of Carney, about 30 miles east of here. About 9 o'clock at night six masked and heavily armed outlaws, supposed to have been headed by the notorious "Dynamite Dick," one of the associates of the Daltons and Bill Doolan, rode into the place and literally held up the town.

Carney is a town of about 300 people. The robbers entered the village from the north with a great show of firearms. Two of the outlaws entered the store of B. Fouts and compelled him and his son to open the safe. After securing about $8,000 from them they bound both father and son, threw them upon horses and carried them about two miles out of town, where they tied them to a tree.

In the meantime the rest of the gang had entered the post-office, but, failing to secure anything of value, they raided the hotel, compelling the proprietor and several traveling men who were stopping there to turn over their money, watches and jewelry. Several smaller stores were also raided. Before entering Carney the outlaws had taken the precaution to cut the telephone wires leading to Chandler so that there might be no chance of failure. During the raid the bandits kept up a fusillade of bullets in all directions, terrorizing the inhabitants so that very little effort was made to resist the raiders.

It was some time after the bandits had left before order could be restored and an organized pursuit began.

Finally after considerable delay about 100 armed men began the chase. The pursuers were divided into three bands and went in different directions.

Early in the morning a party of four men believed to be the Carney robbers, appeared at Mulhall, held up a livery stable keeper and compelled him to supply them with a relay of fresh horses.

News was also received at the United States marshal's office that two men, supposed to have been members of the gang, had stopped at a farm house about 10 miles northeast of here and demanded food. Several United States marshals, headed by Deputy Colcord, are in pursuit.

BATTLE WITH MOONSHINERS.

Four Stills Destroyed, Four Men Captured and Two Wounded.

WHITESBURG, Ky., Oct. 22.—Advices from Upper Elkhorn creek, Pike county, near the Letcher county line, tell of a battle between four deputy United States marshals, headed by Kid Greer, and moonshiners.

When the officers were near the still camp in the Cumberland mountains they were fired upon by the shiners. The officers returned the fire and for half an hour the battle continued.

John Young, a moonshiner, was mortally wounded, being pierced by three bullets, and another shiner, whose name is not known, was probably fatally wounded. The officers succeeded in cutting up and destroying four stills and capturing five moonshiners who were taken to Jackson for trial.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 22.—A Lakewood, before Justice Winsen, W. L. Sessions announced a proceeding to inquire further into the matter of the murder of Mrs. Shearman and Mrs. Davis in the town of Busti nearly two years ago. The late W. L. Sessions, Sr., father of the present attorney in the proceedings, was interested in this case before his sudden death, and it is understood that the case is taken up where he left it some months ago. The inquisition will be continued today and it is expected new evidence will be produced sufficient to warrant arrests.

CONSULAR REGULATION CHANGED.

A Rule Calculated to Benefit Both Shippers and Importers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Secretary Olney has just made a change in the consular regulation which is expected to do much to meet the complaints which shippers and importers have made for years past at the payment of useless fees on invoices.

In certain European countries the United States consuls are not permitted to administer oaths in verification of invoices of goods to be exported to the United States, and this verification being required by our law before the goods can enter the United States, the shippers have been put to the expense of making the oath as to the accuracy of the invoice before commissioners.

Secretary Olney has issued a set of amendments to the consular regulations, under the terms of which hereafter no oath shall be required for the verification of invoices of goods which are subject to entry under the free list or under specific rates of duty, and as to goods subject to ad valorem duties oaths shall be required only when there is reasonable ground to suspect fraudulent undervaluation or other fraudulent practices.

Another amendment to the regulations prohibits consular officers from receiving directly or indirectly the whole or any part of the fees received by commissioners or other officers for administering oaths, verifying invoices, or anything as a gratuity on administration of such oaths.

The history of the consular service shows that some of the consuls have been in the habit themselves of employing commissioners for a fixed salary and then taking the whole of the fees received by them.

In one case a published statement shows that a United States consular officer realized no less than $20,000 in one year from this practice.
