Godsend. I was treated during seven years, by good physicians, for cramps, but of no avail; since March 1908, I have used Koenig's Nerve Tonic and had no more attacks. I believe that such a remedy is more than a Godsend. J. MASHALL.

You are the one we especially have to call, and the one who would be the most interested and thankful for any method that cures without the unpleasantness and expensive use of the speculum, the painful and dangerous use of the caustic and the other time-honored methods of treatment which have proved so unavailing in the past. SHORT NEWS STORIES.

They Have Much to Learn - A Queer Society How Carlisle Bought His Home Tried by Telephone. Two students from Massachusetts spent several weeks camping on the shore of a lake in the wilderness section of northern Aroostook.

Just as the shades of evening were falling the native had occasion to visit the lake, and he was surprised to hear, coming over the water, the coaxing voice of one of the young men, calling out, 'Moose, moose!'

And again arose a voice, louder and still more coaxing in sound, calling out, 'Moose, moose!' This call was repeated time after time, while the amused listener remained on the beach.

How It Got There. A young man took his watch to a jeweler and asked the reason of it stopping. 'Well,' said the jeweler, 'there is a bedding in it.' 'Why, how can a bedding get in a watch?' 'Easily enough,' said the jeweler, 'it went in between the ticks.'—Hannesty Free Democrat.
