Scott was by far the most eminent writer of historical fiction. The founder of this school, it has never since produced his equal.

The number of horses killed for consumption as food in Paris last year was 29,186, this being exclusive of 40 mules and 283 donkeys.

Rabelais was the most acute satirist of the renaissance period. His biting sarcasm of the foibles of his time has never been excelled.

A Cure in Germany.

BUCKENBROCK, near Paderoorn, Oct., '95.
For 16 long years I suffered from falling sickness; tried many physicians and medicines during that time, but the attacks increased and came on me every few hours, until I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic only a few days; then the attacks disappeared, and this is now almost a year; since then I am quite well and can attend to my business again. Sleeplessness Cured.

MILBANK, South Dakota, Oct. 10, 1895.
I am pleased to testify that for forty years I never could go to bed and sleep. I tried all countries and remedies for my sleeplessness, but now, if I were a poet, I would sing the praises of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, as only one bottle of it cured me. REV. C. M. BROWNE.

Dr. Grady,

The Celebrated

SPECIALIST,

Treats with superior skill and positive success, all blood, nervous, chronic and private diseases.

He has adopted this plan: That he will charge nothing for advice, consultation or treatment until the patient pronounces himself well. The only chage is for medicines used during treatment.

His success is based on facts. First—Practical experience. Second—Every case is specially studied, thus starting right. Third—Medicines are prepared in his laboratory exactly to suit each case, thus effecting cures without injury.

Dr. Grady has had a vast experience as a specialist and is able to tell you the causes and condition of your complaint and prescribe proper remedies to effect a cure. If your case is curable he will tell you so; if not, he will tell you, for he will not undertake a case unless confident of effecting a cure.

Dr. Grady is known to be one of the best medical experts in this country, having met with remarkable success in the treatment and cure of diseases which have baffled and discouraged other physicians. He well deserves the patronage he is enjoying. His offices and parlors are still crowded—hundreds turned away each week, unable to see the doctor. Dr. Grady reserves the right to reject any and all cases which in his judgment are incurable. During the past year 2,489 were rejected. Dr. Grady has been heard to say that if there was any one thing that has made him successful it was his correct diagnosis of disease. If he tells you your case is incurable, you can rest assured that there is no further use to doctor. Thousands yearly visit the doctor to get a free diagnosis of their complaints, both personally and by mail. Many claim that he is possessed of a supernatural power in correctly diagnosing and curing disease.

Dr. Grady continues to cure, where all others have failed, all forms of diseases.

Patients at a distance successfully treated by mail. All letters promptly answered; inclose stamp.

Consult the European specialist on all sexual, nervous and chronic diseases. Those suffering from rheumatism, sores, ulcers, tumors, cancers, or any form of skin or scalp disease, should visit Dr. Grady at once. Remember, consultation, advice, services and surgical treatment absolutely free until cured.

Medical and Surgical Institute,

Lima.

O. C. Robbins, the young man who was so badly injured by jumping from the fourth story window of the burned dormitory on Feb. 1st died the next day. The funeral took place in Penfield Thursday afternoon.

The remains of John Riordan, who died in West Bloomfield last Thursday, were interred here Saturday.

Matthew Hayes of New York is home for a short time.

Judge John D. Lynn of Rochester was in Lima a few days last week.

The dramatic entertainment, "The Deacon," which was to have come off a month ago but was postponed on account of the illness of one of the members, took place Tuesday evening.

Willard.

The death of Miss Margaret McKay, formerly an employee of the hospital took place at the home of her sister in Auburn on Tuesday last.

Miss Mary Gavin was called to Seneca Falls on Thursday last by the illness of her mother.

Charles Gill of Auburn called on friends here Friday last.

Miss Fannie Flinn received the sad intelligence that her brother had been killed by the cars near his home at the Dresden station on the Fall Brook line. The accident occurred on Friday last.

Auburn.

Miss Mary Welsh of Oswego has been the guest of Miss Bernice Griffin of Wall street.

AMUSEMENTS.

COOK'S

A remarkably fine scenic production has been given by Thomas H. Davis and William T. Keogh to the latest new play, "Fallen Among Thieves," which comes to Cook's the first half of next week. A scene of an old homestead in Vermont and picturesque places in New York city that have not been touched before by the dramatist are shown. The latter scenes are taken from real life. One especially interesting scene being a magnificent view of High Bridge by moonlight. A female diver makes a terrific headlong plunge of fifty feet from the top of the stage into a river of real water, and incidentally risks her neck in doing so.

Probably the truest pictures of Southern darkey life now presented on the stage is Harry Martell's "South." Before the War, which will occupy the stage of the Cook Opera House the latter part of next week. It is thoroughly realistic, and should be enjoyed by all who delight in the old southern plantation festivities. The plays presented with the strong cast of capable players, and during its action a host of specialties are introduced.

ACADEMY.

Manager Cook announces as his next attraction the startling sensational melodrama "Kidnaped," a play that has achieved great success in New York City and around the country. The play is of decided merit, replete with startling climaxes, pathos and humor. While the story of the play may be an old one, it is told in a new and attractive way. It deals with the love of two faithful hearts whose constancy to one another in spite of the numerous pitfalls and snares set, in order to separate them, by a villain of bad machinations, excites the pity and sympathy of all.

WONDERLAND THEATRE.

It seems to be the avowed determination of the patrons of Wonderland, as shown by the continued patronage to make the Cinematograph a permanent feature of Manager Moore's Theatre, and while it will be impossible to keep the Cinematograph forever, the record breaking invasion will delight the theatre goers all of next week, commencing Monday, Feb. 15th.

The olio will consist of five acts, introducing the Cosmopolitan Trio in a refined, and original up to date comedy Creation, interspersed with character imitations, bright repartee and musical gems. Deets and Don in character songs and eccentric dances. Colby and May, Ventriloquial novelty sketch team. Mlle Alberta, Queen of the Bounding tight wire and the Romolo Bros. acrobats and head balancers. This all star vaudeville performance in connection with the splendid views to be shown by the Cinematograph, will no doubt pack the cozy little theatre at every performance.

$100 Reward—100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken inwardly, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

A family, consisting of man and wife and four or five small children, were riding along in a wagon loaded with household goods, when an old fellow came to the door of his cabin and shouted at them:

"Hello, Sam! What be you folks a-gittin to?"

"We're a-gittin out o' the kentry," replied the man on the wagon as he halted his horse.

"What are you a-gittin fur?"

"Gittin 'cause the vigilance committee told us to git."

"Whar's your two boys, that they hain't a-gittin with you?"

"They got pizened afore they could git."

"Do you mean pizened by a snake bite?"

"No; lead. They wus a-gittin too many good horses and got shot."

"Waal, s'long, Sam," called the old fellow in the doorway. "Sorry to see you a-gittin, but reckon you gotter git."

"S'long," answered the other, and gathering up the lines he shouted to his horse:

"Git right up thar, durn your ole hide, 'cause we gotter be a-gittin a git on us and git into the next county as fast as we kin git!"

And they got.—New York Journal.

No Room for Doubt.

Proof, yes overwhelming proof can be furnished of the excellent curative qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. "I caught a cold which led to a cough and pain in the chest. (pneumonia?) I bought Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and after taking one bottle of it, the cough began to disappear; when I finished taking the second bottle I was cured. Gustav Thurmaster, 49 Hickory St., Cleveland, O." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup costs but 25 cents. Take only Bull's.

CURRENT MISCELLANY.

Walter Savage Landor's adventure at Oxford consisted in firing a gun at the window of an inoffensive undergraduate, and, refusing to confess that he had done so, he has rusticated and quarreled with his father, who made him a small allowance. Landor went and rambled about in South Wales, in the neighborhood of Tenby, walking from morning to night, reading and composing his most notable work, "Gebir." Then he settled at Bath, living somewhat extravagantly on his expectations, which were very considerable, buying pictures, entertaining and flirting—Landor's flirtations were many and serious.

One strange episode of his early life must be mentioned. In 1808 the whole of Spain rose against the Bonaparte monarchy. King Joseph fled from Madrid. Landor was roused to a pitch of frenzied enthusiasm by the news and sailed to Corunna, where he took service with the Nationalists, offering to pay the entire expenses of a regiment of 1,000 volunteers. A troop was enrolled, and Landor spent three months with the men engaged in vague skirmishing in the neighborhood of Aguilar. Then came the convention of Cintra. The troops melted away, and Landor returned to England. He received a handsome letter from the government acknowledging his services and the honorary rank of colonel in the Spanish army, a commission which he returned a few years later.—National Review.

After Barracouta.

My first acquaintance with the barracouta was made one sultry afternoon off the Mexican coast, near Guaymas. I went out with new tarpon tackle and an indecent greaser to see to what live stock I could make fast. The first mullet I cast out had scarcely submerged himself before there came two fierce yanks and a whiz, and my entire line vanished to the direction of Honolulu. I looked inquiringly at the greaser, who would have taken but a languid interest in any phenomenon short of a bolt of lightning gliding down his spine, and asked him to name me that which had yanked, whizzed and vanished. He shrugged his shoulders, rolled a cigarette and said that he "pense'd" that it was a barracouta, but "quien sabe?" I bent on another line and cast again. This time there was but one yank and a whiz. I tried to check the process by braking with a thumb stall, with the sole result that, in addition to losing my line, I lost my reel and acquired a redhot blister on the ball of my thumb, which got me unmanly deep in the receiving angle of locks. Inserting my painful thumb in my mouth, I again gained inquiring ear of the greaser, and he "pense'd" it was another barracouta, but "Dios saved," as he hadn't seen it.—Outing.

The Big Hat In Church.

This is what happens to the man behind the hat. The preacher disappears, nothing remains but a voice. And with the hat coming up against the spot where the voice is, and the modulated sentences breaking against it, how is attention to be fixed upon the sermon? The mind grows lax, the quiet and sweetness of the sanctuary tend to distraction, the hat fills the whole visible universe, and incidentally one's thoughts center upon it. It is a wonderful construction. There is a show rose trembling on a long stem with every movement of the wearer's head, and one begins to calculate the exact effect of its arc. There are bunches of feathers, disposed, apparently, with a view to preventing anything from being seen between them and whichever way the hat is turned. And there are stalactites of ribbon, upright and immovable, which still further obscure the horizon. Occasionally one gets a momentary glimpse of the hand of the preacher as it is stretched out in gesticulation, but it seems a mere detached fragment uselessly beating the air. The preacher himself has disappeared as if he had never been. The only thing visible when the hat is turned for a moment is another hat of the same kind farther on.—Observer.

The Japanese are a go ahead people in almost everything but railway speed. Of the 28 lines in Japan, state and private, the Tokyo-Yokohama has the honor of the best time—an average speed of 19 miles 76 chains per hour. Next ranks the Ofuna-Yokosuka road, with an average speed of 19 miles 18 chains.

A graphic idea of the immense size of Siberia may be gleaned from the following comparison: All of the states, kingdoms, principalities, empires, etc., of Europe (except Russian) and all of the United States, including Alaska, could be placed side by side in Siberia, and yet but little more than cover that immense country.

the good work of 1896. He also spoke highly of branch 139, and complimented them in the manner in which they conducted their meetings, and concluded his remarks by wishing branch 139 continued success.

The branch was then treated to some very fine vocal selections by Mr. Con. O'Brien. President of the finance committee, Bro. John Lenahan was the next speaker. Brother Lenahan, in responding, spoke of the great care members should take in seeing that assessments were promptly paid within the time given. Brother H. T. McGoughen was called upon, and in response said that it was with pleasure that he could state that after a careful investigation of insurance, he could say that no company or assessment organization was on a better footing, or worked on so conservative a basis as the C. M. B. A., and he could with pride look up to the associations, and recommend it as being the cheapest and best insurance for our Catholic people. After some finely rendered vocal solos by Brother George White, which were highly enjoyed, a motion that a vote of thanks be tendered the committee, George M. Legler, A. J. Young, George F. Poinan, Stephen Boyle, D. M. Sullivan, F. G. Carberry, W. T. Connor, the banquet adjourned.

The funeral of Cor. Curtain, of 152 Cady street, who was killed at East Rochester on January 28th, was held February 1st, at Immaculate Conception Church, at 9 a. m. Mr. Curtain was a charter member of branch 12, C. M. B. A., and at the time of his death a valued member of branch 93. The bearers at the funeral were the following members of branch 93: M. Tobin, B. V. Logan, D. Harris, E. T. Burke, M. Lynch, and D. H. Sullivan.

At a regular meeting of Branch 93 the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We are again called upon to mourn the loss of a other member of our branch, this time our beloved friend and esteemed member, Brother Cornelius Curtin, and

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His divine power and wisdom to remove from our midst Brother Cornelius Curtin, we bow in humble submission to His holy will. And while it pleases God to allow us to remain in this world of sorrow and pain, we will remember our associate who mingled with us at our meetings. And at prayers for our departed members we will pray that his soul may rest in peace.

Resolved, That our sincere sympathy be extended to the wife and family of our late associate in their loss of a good husband and kind father, and that we respectfully commend them in their grief and sorrow to God, who knoweth all things and who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That in token of our sorrow at the death of our esteemed associate, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, that our charter be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and published in the CATHOLIC JOURNAL.

Knights of Columbus.

Several members of the Rochester council attended a preliminary meeting in Auburn last Sunday for the purpose of organizing a council in that city. It is expected that the new council will be ready for installation by March 7th.

Last week Wednesday a varied entertainment was given at the rooms of the local council, and Rev. Father Hickey of the State Industrial school delivered his famous stereopticon lecture entitled "Ancient and Modern Rome."

Grand Knight James L. Whalen was elected state treasurer at the recent convention held in New York city.

The title "excellent grace" was given to Henry VI, "most high and mighty prince" to Edward IV and "highness" to Henry VII. The latter was also applied to Henry VIII, until, toward the close of his reign, the more lofty expression of "majesty" came into use, being the expression with which Francis I addressed him at their interview in 1520.

At the public library at Macon there is a barometer made simply of a thin strip of cedar and a thin strip of white pine placed together and stuck perpendicularly in a base rest of wood. When it is going to rain, the strips bend down, and when it is to be dry they stand rigidly stiff and straight. It is said to indicate coming storms unfailingly.

Strangely enough, in the city of Havana every boy smokes little, vile smelling cigarettes, whose only merit is that they are made of pure and undoctored tobacco. The few exceptions are among the women and boys, most of whom, especially the old women who abound in the public squares, puff incessantly at cigars which sell at five or six for a halfpenny.

LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF

The first in the field and still unrivalled

The great chemist Baron JUSTUS VON LIEBIG made the first scientific effort to produce an extract of meat. The result of his efforts he gave to the world under the name of Liebig COMPANY'S Extract of Beef, and to attest its genuineness he authorized this company to use his signature, now familiar to all the world, on the jars of this famous product. All other extracts of beef came later and are practically imitations of the great original, which is still
