Parents who quarrel before their children.
Those who talk about their troubles to strangers.
Those who think that gaining riches will make them happy.

New Church For Jersey City.
Ground was broken recently for a new church for the people of All Saints' parish in the Lafayette section of Jersey City. This is the new Catholic parish which was made up from portions of St. Patrick's and St. Bridget's parishes. Services are now held in a hall which is entirely inadequate to the needs of this congregation. A site for the new church has been purchased in Lafayette and Whiton streets, and three sets of plans for the building have been submitted. It is expected that the new church will be completed by August.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
Accomplished Wonders.
My nervous system was much run down. I suffered much from violent headache and a feeling of weight in the pit of my stomach, so that I could not keep my food and felt like fainting—often these feelings were very distressing. I had many restless nights, was troubled with bad dreams, numbness in my arms and often with violent cramps in my thighs. I had tried many remedies in this manner, tried medicines without permanent relief; 8 months ago passed now, I took only 2 bottles of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic and not a symptom of all the trouble described above I experienced. You who suffer so long and patiently those aches and pains in the head, back, sides, limbs, stomach, constipation, dyspepsia, nervous prostration, sleepless and restless nights, neuralgia, tumors, tired and exhausted feelings, especially in the morning, bearing down pains and unable to be on the feet long without suffering the results, the pale and wrinkled face and sallow skin, cold feet, deranged kidneys and hacking cough, catarrh and many other symptoms. You are the one who especially wish to call and the one who should be the most interested and thankful for any method that cures without the unpleasant and expensive use of the caustic applied, and the other time honored methods of treatment which have proved so unavailing in the past. devoted to our Blessed Mother. In his discourse, he spoke of the advantages of the society of the Children of Mary, and the good work this society has done in this parish. True devotion to Mary cannot be barren of effects, to those under her special protection, having a claim as her child to her maternal love. The Blessed Virgin's Altar was most beautifully decorated with cut flowers, together with the red lights and candles, which gave it a very artistic appearance.

Our company was shocked on Wednesday morning to learn of the sudden death of Patrick O'Reilly of Washington street one of Geneva's oldest and most highly respected men. Although in failing health for about a year previous to his death, it was wholly unexpected when it came, and was a great shock to all. Mr. O'Reilly was born about the year 1822 and came to Geneva about fifty years ago from Kingston, Canada, and has resided here up to the time of his death. For a number of years he was engaged with John Burns in the grocery business on Main street. BOERS ON THE ALERT
EXPECT NO TROUBLE, BUT ARE READY FOR EMERGENCIES.
Strong Protective Measures Taken - No More Jameson Affairs Will Be Tolerated, Standing Army is Only Four Hundred, but Every Citizen is a Soldier.
I. Van Alphen, postmaster general of the South African Republic, who is a delegate to the universal postal union congress to be held at Washington, was asked recently about the present state of affairs in the South African Republic. The possibility of war between Great Britain and the little Boer republic has recently been much discussed, and the sending of British troops to Cape Colony and British warships to Delagoa Bay has given a fresh impetus to speculation on the subject.
"The South African Republic desires nothing but the most friendly relations with Great Britain, with whom we have a convention by which Great Britain guarantees the independence of the South African Republic," said Mr. Van Alphen. "But since the Jameson raid, in December, 1895, we have taken measures to protect ourselves from a repetition of that affair, as well as to repel uprisings of natives."
"When I left Pretoria, several months ago, three forts, equipped with the latest modern implements of war, were nearing completion, and we have imported cannon, guns and ammunition. From English, German and French manufacturers we have also obtained a quantity of rifles. We must be prepared for any emergency."
"The whole standing army of the republic is 400 artillerymen, but every citizen is supposed to be a soldier. Most of the citizens are experts in the use of the rifle. Such sports as cricket and football are, of course, common in the republic, but one of the chief amusements in the country districts is target practice, and, moreover, the old people have had to live gun in hand all their lives, fighting wild beasts and savages. In times of necessity the commandants in the districts call for their quota of burghers."
"Obviously the reasons for the Jameson raid were that the outlanders had no political and representative rights, but it is my opinion that the promoters of this invasion were a combination of Johannesburg inhabitants and some members of the Chartered company, which controls Rhodesia, and their design was to influence the share market and value of other properties so as further to enrich themselves. The government has always done everything in its power to meet the requirements of the mining population, and further concessions were under consideration when I left."
"A local committee in Johannesburg had been elected, which will see that the English language is taught in the schools where the English speaking communities predominate. Instead of the former government commissioner in that city, the people there have now the privilege of electing their own municipal officers, and a mayor is appointed by the government. Notwithstanding the outlanders' complaint that they have so far had no voting power, however, few of them seem to care to avail themselves of their right to become citizens. Out of 60,000 in Johannesburg only 3,000 have renounced allegiance to their native land and have become citizens of the South African Republic."
