The Alumni association of the Cathedral school presented the military drama, "Lights and Shadows of the Great Rebellion," at the Cathedral hall, Monday and Tuesday evenings. Joseph Cox, George Hughes, Percy Calihan, Donald Byrne, Robert Burns, Master George Shaw and Misses M. Maher, L. Sheridan, E. Flaherty, A. O'Connor. The music was furnished by Mills' orchestra under the direction of Frederick Melville.

Hibernian Rifles

The meeting of Company A. Hibernian Rifles held last Tuesday evening Private T. J. Kelly submitted prices from the leading photographers for taking 100 pictures of the company the morning of Memorial Day. The company will decide at next meeting who will do the work and where they will go on the afternoon of Memorial Day. A movement is well under way to give a May party free to the members of Company and their families.

At Tuesday evening drill many members we have not seen for weeks showed up, it looked well and was encouraging to see so many and it looks as if the members were preparing to be better equipped to wage our peaceful warfare and may God help us.

To rejoice in them all who belong to our band. Though our efforts are small they will help us to be grand. The oath we have taken should hold us so strong. That Dame Grundy would shun us or tarry not long.

Then if we see a brother laboring under some imagined slight. Try and smooth the story over, set his wandering feet aright. Never speak your words sarcastic or to grieve in any way. Else some weak retiring nature may be driven far astray.

All join hands in one grand circle growing purer day by day. Till at last our band is broken, leaves the straight and narrow way. For the bright and glorious mansion ever more our home to be. May our watchword be accepted there to dwell eternally.

Boys let us take heed to these words and keep the good work up.

There is one thing eagerly looked for by the members of the company and that is THE JOURNAL. They are all subscribers and one of them was heard to say he has found THE JOURNAL a better Sunday paper than he could believe before he became a subscriber.

Downs and Kennelly says the photographer should get an accident insurance on the machine when he takes the company's pictures or Dollen will brake it if he looks as he does when he misses the target and strikes the wall. How is that C. J.?

Pres. Hayden as usual does things in good style, the latest is the artistic addition to the health ordinance in armory. Private Moore says the target rifle must know Lieut. Cullen or he could not make the bulls eye so often, but the scribe thinks Mulcahy and Corp. Kennelly can do better as they were the best shots in the company years ago.

There will be a meeting of the Central Council, C. R. & B. A., Sunday afternoon.

The card party and reception of Council 44 will be held May 27th.

Dr. Frank W. Maloney, supreme medical examiner of the C. R. & B. A., has been elected president of the Alumni association of the medical department of Niagara University of Buffalo.

Judging from the report of the arrangement committee the May party to be held by Council 23 on the evening of May 26th promises to be a very brilliant affair. They will be pleased to welcome all of their brothers and sisters of other councils; also their friends. A good time is guaranteed.

THESE Pianos must be sold to make room for new stock now arriving. Some are little down and a little each month will pay. You don't judge a man by his coat nor a Piano by its case.
