WON BY HOWARD MANN

Lake Shore Was Second and Volley Third.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND SPECTATORS

Mann Was Substituted For The Winner at the Last Moment—Smith Thought Him the Best For the Muddy Track, and He Was Right.

NEW YORK, June 1.—It was a lightweight this time in the mud and how the crowd cheered when Howard Mann galloped home, almost alone in the Brooklyn Handicap at Gravesend.

All through the first and second races the people had swarmed into the grounds and by the time the bugle sounded for the horses to go to the post there were fully 15,000 people watching the contestants as they trotted up the stretch past the cheering thousands. All looked absolutely fit and able to run for their lives, and Handspring looked the king of them all as he pranced at the head of the string. He was undoubtedly the favorite of everybody.

There was some surprise at the appearance of Howard Mann, but he had been sent instead of The Winner, as he was a good mud horse.

They were at the post but a few minutes, and made but one false break, then at 4:30 the starter caught them in line, the barrier was raised, the red flag swished through the air and the 11 thoroughbreds were off on their journey, at the end of which $10,000 was hung up for the leaders.

As the runners came to the judge's stand for the first time they seemed to gather speed with each jump, and the first quarter was completed in 25 seconds, with The Swain, still in front by half a length, Howard Mann in second place by a length, Handspring third, Belmar fourth, Loki fifth and the others close up.

Simms concluded that it was time to get a little nearer to the flying leaders and began to urge Handspring a bit. The next result was to bring him up within a short head of Howard Mann, but still The Swain was holding forth in the lead with no signs of distress. The half-mile pole was passed in that order in 50¾ seconds, excellent time considering the mud.

As they neared the three-quarters pole it could be seen that Simms was doing a good deal of urging and Handspring, under the influence of which the big son of Hanover was cutting down the gap which separated him from the leaders, and it looked as if he might make them all run.

Then came a crack in the atmosphere, and before The Swain or Handspring knew what had happened Howard Mann was a length in front of the field and running like a scared cat, Loki, too, had come up with a rush and was in the second place, a head in front of Handspring, with Belmar in fourth place, but already beginning to feel his weight and the rapid pace of the leaders.

They were at the head of the stretch with a mile behind them in 1:43¾, and Howard Mann had not faltered.

Now they were fairly straightened out for home, and the horses were in sight. Martin hitched a little jockey in Howard Mann as he was getting near to the goal, and at the last furlong pole he began driving a little, although he was two lengths to the good. But he could hear the shouts of "Lake Shore!" and "Volley!" from the crowd, and he did not dare to take any chances, and did not dare to look back, so he kept his mount in motion, determined not to lose when he had but a short distance to go.

It was but a few seconds more, however, and as the timers' watches stopped at 2:09¾ he sent Howard Mann past the post four lengths in front of Lake Shore, who was three lengths in front of Volley, who had run a sixteenth of a mile further than any other horse in the race.

The others finished in the following order: Loki, Handspring, Sir Walter, King Arthur II, Belmar, Ben Eder, Jefferson and The Swain.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Memorial Day was generally observed in Washington. All the departments and the business houses were closed. The most imposing ceremonies were held at the National cemetery at Arlington, which was before the war the magnificent estate of Robert Lee, the Confederate chieftain.

The exercises were made particularly memorable by the presence of President McKinley. They began with a national salute of 21 guns from the light battery, Fourth artillery, U. S. A. The beautiful ceremony of strewing flowers on the grave followed.

Representative Dolliver of Iowa delivered the oration of the day. His oration was followed by music. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, followed with an oration.

HURT AT DECORATION SERVICES.

Concussion of Saints Caused Wall to Fall, Injuring Twenty Persons.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—The decoration of the graves in old St. Peter's cemetery, at Fourth and Pine streets, nearly ended in a tragedy. The burying ground lies in the center of the business portion of the city, and its inception dates from Revolutionary times. According to the old Quaker ideas, it is surrounded by a high brick wall, topped with a small iron fence.

To witness the ceremonies of the soldiers who were placing floral wreaths on the graves of their comrades, according to the usual Grand Army custom, crowds of children climbed to the top of the brick wall. During the ceremonies part of the post fired a volley for the dead. The vibration of the reports, with the heavy weight upon the wall, caused it to give way and about 100 people were hurled to the ground.

For a few minutes there was a scene of wild confusion. The veterans broke ranks and hurried to the help of those who were injured. Twenty persons were hurt, some so seriously that their removal to the hospital was necessary.

Katie Fisher, 10 years old, was so badly injured that she will probably die. In falling an iron spike in the fence penetrated her body.

DR. RUIZ FOULLY SLAIN

So Mr. Calhoun Will Say In His Report.

HE AGREES WITH CONSUL LEE.

Died From Concussion of the Brain, the Result of Violence—Identity of Person Who Struck the Blow Can Not Be Learned at Present.

HAVANA, via Key West, Fla., May 31.—Of the two reports understood to have been sent from Havana by the commission investigating the death of Dr Ruiz, the one by Mr. Calhoun, who represents the United States, and the other by Dr. Jose Congosto, the Spanish consul at Philadelphia, who acts for the Spanish government, the former will, it is said, agree with the statement of Consul General Lee that Dr. Ruiz died from concussion of the brain, the result of violence, after solitary confinement of more than 12 days, regardless of United States treaty rights.

The exact facts as to how Dr. Ruiz died and the blow which killed him General Lee and Mr Calhoun could not learn because half of the witnesses examined by the commissioner were prisoners and it is believed, were afraid to testify fully. The remaining witnesses were the jailers who would not testify so as to inbriminate themselves.

DESPISES AMERICANS.

El Comercio Makes a Rabid Attack on United States Jingoes.

HAVANA, via Key West, Fla., June 2.—In its last issue El Comercio, the organ of Retail Grocers' violently attacks the United States. It says, in part:

"Really, the airs put on by these Americans require energetic action on the part of the Spanish people. At the very moment when the revolution is almost suppressed they appear again with their belligerency declaration. We care nothing for it. They can go ahead on this line. If they please, it will only more clearly define the situation, and our heroic navy may yet prove what it can do with our enemies. Let it be demonstrated, aside from diplomatic methods, that the Spanish people despise the jingoes of the United States and know how to spit in their faces 100 times."

Paper money continues to depreciate. A centine, now $5.80 in Spanish gold, brings $15.84 in paper.

Danger of Prosperity.

We judge of the value of things by what is paid for them. Who is there that can measure the value of all our fathers gave up in the days of persecution in order that they might convey to their children the sacred heritage of faith they had received. This faith has been given into our custody, and it is our duty to see that it is preserved. How is it that many who make a kept the faith through the days of persecution seem likely to lose it the moment the sun of prosperity strikes them? You know that there are many who have freed themselves from all restraint of faith. Prosperity, history teaches us, is a real and true danger.—Rev. Father P. C. Yorke.

EXCURSIONISTS KILLED.

Party In a Tally-Ho Struck by a Train. Five Lives Lost.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Five young people were killed and others were injured in an accident which occurred at Valley Stream, L. I.

A tally-ho with a party of 22 excursionists from the Green Avenue Baptist church, Brooklyn, which started out for a day's outing through Long Island, was struck by a train on the Long Island railroad at Merrick boulevard crossing.

The double team of the tally-ho had crossed the track and had the front wheels of the coach upon the rails when the pilot of the engine was seen by the driver. He gave the horses a cut with the whip, but it was too late and a moment later the crash came. The heavy engine, driven forward by the momentum, raised the coach and its load of persons from the ground and hurled it forward.

The shock threw some of the passengers into the air and they landed on the rails and in the gutters which run on either side of the track. Others went down under the coach, which was pushed along the rails by the train for some distance.

Of the 24 persons who had been on the coach not one escaped injury.

ALBANY, June 3.—An extremely singular accident here caused the instantaneous death of two horses by electricity. While a wagon of the National Express company, drawn by two horses, was turning a corner near the Delaware and Hudson depot an electric light pole fell, landing between the horses and not touching them. The live wires, however, fell across the horses' neck and killed them instantly. One horse remained in a standing position, his head high in the air, until the current was shut off. The other horse sank to his knees and remained in a rigid state also until the current ceased.

They were found unconscious at their home in Wilson, four miles from here. The skulls of both are fractured, and it is believed that both will die. They were otherwise terribly injured. One theory is that robbers attacked them, another that Mrs. Wilson attempted to murder her husband, who had been feeble for some time, and that she received the injuries from him in defense of his life.
