Father Schied, recently ordained at St. Bernard's seminary, is appointed assistant to Rev. Dr. Sinclair at St. Peter and Paul's church.

Rev. James P. Kiernan celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of his ordination at the cathedral Friday morning. Solemn high mass was celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. J. P. Kiernan assisted by Rev. Father Hughes as deacon and Rev. Father Brophy as sub-deacon. After mass Father Kiernan advanced to the altar rail and thanked all that had interested themselves in the celebration of his anniversary. The choir under the direction of Prof. Bonn, sang the mass of the Sacred Heart, by Gounod. The services concluded with the singing of "Holy God, we praise Thy name."

Prof. Eugene Bonn, organist at the Cathedral, has composed and published in book form several antiphones to the Blessed Virgin Mary. The work is dedicated to Rev. James P. Kiernan as a souvenir of his ordination to the Holy Priesthood.

Knights of Columbus.

A new council of the Knights of Columbus will be instituted in Hornellsville July 18th. Rochester council will have charge of the institution. Delegations will be present from Buffalo, Elmira, Syracuse, Oswego, and Cortland.

Utica council will be instituted tomorrow afternoon. The council will organize with sixty members.

Rochester council received fourteen applications at their last meeting.

Hibernian Rifles.

On July 5th the Company went to Le Roy and had a glorious time. Notwithstanding the intense heat the boys stood the march well, and everything in the power of the committee was done to add to their comfort and enjoyment. Words here cannot say enough for the kindness of the officers and members of Division 2 of Le Roy to the company. In the sports the boys were not behind and no one was so delighted at their success as their veteran commander, Capt. M. Quinn. In the fat man's race Corporal Kennelly carried off the honors as also did several other of the boys in other contests. Private C. J. Dolan has received a very nice souvenir of the day and vote of thanks for his oration on the occasion. The sender of the badge would confer a favor by sending his name.

During the week we are reminded of the sad accident that happened to Comrade James Lee, he having had an anniversary Mass for his two boys who died a year ago. Comrade you have our sympathy. Since—

They are gone.—They are gone, but in white God will dress them. And bathe them in light of a golden display. They are gone but e'er in our hearts we shall bless them. The soul of your children that has passed away.

It seems not like death but a glorious transition. From the burdens of earth to the glory above. When they passed to their Father of infinite love.

During our stay in LeRoy the ladies were well seen to by Comrades Connors and O'Brien. Some of the boys ask if they are dancing yet.

Private J. Minnehan, the new member, was the neatest appearing man in line in LeRoy.

OFFICIAL SCALES NAMED.

Mayor Appoints People to Weigh Coal Under the New Law.

Mayor Warner has appointed a number of persons to weigh coal under the recent enactment of the legislature. The law states that any person desiring to do so may have the coal he buys weighed at any scale designated by the proper authority, at an expense to himself 15 cents per ton, the proceeds to go to the person weighing the coal. If you buy your coal of L. C. Langie you will not have to take it to an official weigher. He gives you full weight every time. Try an order.

Catholic Societies.

Mayor Strong of New York occupied a seat on the platform of the Grand Central palace in that city at the meeting held for the benefit of the Catholic boys' clubs, when he expressed the most enthusiastic interest in the schools and educational activities of the Catholic church. He said:

"In looking into the educational interests connected with your church I have found that the children of the streets are better cared for by the Catholic societies of the city than by the Protestant societies or any other, unless it be the Jewish. I do not think there is much difference between the Jews and the Catholics in regard to taking care of their own among the poor."

Love as Excuse For Silliness.

Love, very often a synonym of the emptiest and shallowest kind of wit, is deemed a sufficient excuse for the silliness which characterizes too many matrimonial adventures. — Catholic University.

ABLE MEN WILL MEET

PROGRAMME FOR THE SESSION OF THE CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

Eminent Divines Who Will Take Part. Terms Will Be Two Weeks Longer Than Usual—Excellence of This Year's Lecture Course.

The Catholic Summer school will convene for its fifth annual session at Cliff Haven, Plattsburg, N. Y., on July 11 and last until Aug. 29, the term having been extended two weeks longer than before.

The most important improvement will be the newly erected New York cottage. This is the handsomest house on the grounds and was built by patrons of the school who live in New York city. The site was donated by Mrs. George V. Becker and family. Twelve new bathing houses have been erected, the bathhouse has been changed to a more convenient location, and all banks and roads have been graded and made hard. A bicycle path has been laid out, and four tennis courts and a baseball field are being prepared.

Rev. John Talbot Smith, the well known author, has undertaken the formation of a camping party of young men. He proposes to give them all the pleasure that it is possible to get out of life at the school and the educational advantages of such a place for a minimum of cost.

The lecture course this year will be up to past standards and will be in all probability even more popular than before owing to the fact that the afternoon lectures have been abolished and four evenings in each week will be left open for special pleasure. The chairman of the board of directors, Rev. Thomas McMillan of the Paulist fathers, has received definite answers from a great number of leading men and women concerning lectures and is now able to state definitely that courses will be given by Dr. James F. Laughlin, chancellor of Philadelphia, who is a specialist on church history; Rev. Joseph H. McMahon of the cathedral in New York, a well informed authority on the liturgy of the church, and Rev. Dr. Edward A. Pace of the Catholic university, who will discuss the phases of mental development.

A lecturer who will attract no little attention will be Rev. Dr. Edmund T. Shanahan, the brilliant young graduate of Boston college, who won his D. D. from Rome with such high honors a few years ago and who is now a prominent professor at the Catholic university. He has made an exhaustive study of Pope Leo's encyclical on scholastic philosophy and will discuss the same. Henry Austin Adams, A. M., Boston's recent acquisition, will point out some recent developments of the Oxford movement and give a summary of the important decision of Pope Leo XIII regarding Anglican orders.

Other speakers who will attract more than a general interest will be Rev. James A. Doonan, S. J., of St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, formerly a professor at Boston college; Rev. Mortimer E. Twomey of Malden and M. J. Dwyer, the superintendent of the Marcella street home, Roxbury, Mass.

Other prominent speakers will be Rev. Francis W. Howard, of "Social Science;" Rev. Hugh T. Henry of St. Charles seminary, Overbrook, Pa., on "English Literature;" Dr. O. O'Leary of Manhattan college, New York; Hon. John O. McGuire of Brooklyn; Hon. John T. McDonough of Albany; William T. Carr of Brooklyn, Brother Potomian of De La Salle institute, New York; Rev. James H. Mitchell, chancellor of Brooklyn, and Rev. Thomas F. McLaughlin, S. T. L., of New York.

Considerable time will be given to conferences in the practical work of the Sunday school, under the direction of Dr. McMahon. Special dates will be assigned for meetings of college journalists, members of alumni associations, reading circles and others interested in various lines of charitable and educational work.

One of the notable events will be the reception to the rector of the Catholic university, Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Conaty, formerly president of the summer school. — Boston Globe.

Old Church to Be Abandoned.

A report is current that the diocesan authorities are about to establish a new parish on the west side in New York city, to embrace the territory lying between Forty-second and Fifty-sixth or Fifty-seventh streets, and from Tenth or Eleventh avenue to the North river.

According to the best information obtainable in the matter, the establishment of the new parish will mean the abandonment of one of the oldest of the downtown churches, St. Andrew's, at City Hall place and Duane street, which for years has been a landmark in the lower part of the town. This is one of the most venerable of Roman Catholic churches on Manhattan island, and in its early history was one of the most successful. In late years, however, the members of its congregation, with their families, have removed from the neighborhood in large numbers, crowded out by business houses.

It has been estimated that the property of St. Andrew's church is worth about $500,000. If it can be sold at that figure, the proceeds will be more than sufficient to erect the new church building up town and furnish all the facilities required in modern church work. — New York Times.

The Eucharistic Congress.

Cardinal Perraud wrote to the holy father informing him that it was proposed to hold the next eucharistic congress at Paray-le-Monial, where our Lord appeared to the blessed Margaret Mary Alcouque. His holiness replied that, after Jerusalem, a place could not be chosen better suited than Paray-le-Monial for the holding of a eucharistic congress. The congress will convene on Sept. 30.
