QUEEN'S COUNTY.

Mr. Valentine J. Corcoran, Birr. King's County, was elected clerk of the Board of Guardians of Maryborough last week.

The thirteenth centenary of ful church dedicated to his name at belongs to the parish of Tullamore. occupies a commanding eminence near the ruins of the famous monastic establishment founded by the great saint in the middle of the sixth century. Portion of the ancient abbey is in great preservation, and situated in Durrow Court demense, the owner of which Mr Hector Robert Graham Toler, and his agent, Mr. Toler R. Garvey, have years. Rev. Father Healy, celebrant; done much to preserve the storted ruins from desecration or injury, and deacon, Rev. J. Martin, Ballintubber; both afford every facility to visitors having a taste for religious or antiquarian research. The abbey founded by St Columba, after experiencing many vicissitudes during Danish and Norman invasions, was plundered, and the monks expelled, in the reign of Henry VIII. It was one of the favorite retreats of the great saint and missionary, as his writings attest, and it was there he compiled the famous Book of Durrow, still preserved, and is recognized as one of the greatest ecclesiastical and historical records of the time. St Columba founded a great school at Durrow, which, like the contemporaneous establishments at Clonard and Clonmacnoise, continued to send forth light, and learning until hordes of foreign invaders drove the pious teachers from their home, and appropriated the property. Close by the rulhs of the anclent Abbey is a great Celtic cross, brought by St. Columbkill from Clonmagnoise, still in a fair state of preservation, and continues to excite the wonder of the curious and the plety of the faithful. A short distance away is St. Columba's well, the waters of which are credited with remarkable properties. On a nest slab over the well is the inscription composed by the saint:

"Here angels shall enjoy my sacred cell. My sice, my nut, mine apple, and my

SLIGO.

The tenants in the town of Ballymote, almost all under Sir Henry Gore Booth, and whose leases were life leases, have been requested to pay an Increased rent. Rev. Mr. Percival. 'emplehouse, on whose life their leases lepended, died lately. The most brutal part of the business is, that they are asked to pay rent on improvements they made in buildings and on the lands. This is in Victoria's great jubilee veat

"Members of Socey Branch of the Irish National Rederation at last meeting passed unanimously the following resolution: "That we, members of the Boose Branch, Irish National Federation, policy while the present brutal misgovernment of freland in persisted in that the plain duty of the Irish people is to take no part in the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, as we look with contempt at such celebfations of British rule, which has devented the homes of the light people. Hrish National representatives in Parliament , voice the sentiments of the Irish people by taking no part in such celebrations while Ireland is deprived of her rights, and the Irish political prisoners pining away their lives in living hells, the British dungeons; and further, we regard the coming celebration as the gloating glorification of John Bull over the persecution and financial robbery of Ireland. We urge upon our National M. P's. the great necessity of their united opposition to the present system of Irish misrule, as we place no confidence in the promised reforms of Salisbury. Balfour & Co., all their former promises toward the rights of Ireland having been as treacherously violated as were the treaty rights of Limerick by their predecessors in the bldm diva John McLoughlin and Thomas Kelly, honorable secretaries of Allesbury road, Patrick Joseph Kirwin ton, who and lately returned from In- the association.
