Mr. William Carvill, a well known and respected resident of Belfast, died last week. For several years he was foremost in the fight for Irish liberty in Belfast. His death is deeply regretted.

ARMAGH.

The jubiles mutton in Armagh called forth the following letter from the patriotic Administrator of the city to the Town Clerk:

Dear Mr. Peel: I received your letter of yesterday offering twenty of the Austrialian sheep to the Catholic poor of this town, and asking me to arrange for their distribution. In reply I write to say that we have an organiza' in of Catholic laymen in Armagh tor the distribution of charity. As you eaked for a roply "not later than day morning" I had a special meeting of this society called together to-day, the lehalf of the Catholic poor hey tegused to accept the Australian sheep. or o have anything to do with hem reasons were.

First. As the Catholics of the town took no part in the recent jubilee celebration they think it would be unvecoming for them to accept this jubited

Second. Fears are entertained that the mest may be unsound, and therefore dangerous to life.

Third, It appears that frozen meat should-be-carefully defrosen before it is cooked, and as the poor have no ex-perinece of the defrecting process it is believed that much of it would go o waste. Therefore, I cannot accept the twenty sheep or take any part in their distribution.

If I might offer a suggestion I would say that the Town Commissioners should distribute the meat, saking the recipient poor no questions, as o whe'her they are Turk, Jew or athelet. I am, dear Mr. Tool, faithfully yours, JUHN OTTINN, Adm.

DERRY.

The twenty-fifth annual excursion of the Derry Friendly and Benevolent Society, composed of Derry Nationalists, took place on Sunday. The outing was Derry to Dublin by two special trains. Eight hundred members visited the capitol, and arrived in Dublin on Sunday morning.

The annual distribution of the prizes to students attending the Diocesan College of Saint Columbs in Derry City, took place June 29, in presence of the Most Rev. Dr. O'Doher, v and many clergy of the city and itsdrict. After a highly meritorious musical programme by the college students, Most Rev. Dr. O'Doherty de-"livered an address, referring to the success which attended the recent Co-Jumba centenary celebrations in Derry and Donegal.

The might before the jubilee day a dagoole with a Unton Jack was holsted over the public slaughter house, Derry, and created considerable excitement. The building is situated in the heart of the Nationalists quarter at the-head of the Bodside, and nearly Murphy. all the butchers are Catholics and Nationalists. The caretaker is a coustabulary pensioner appointed by he Corporation. After a brief futter he Union Jack mysteriously disapped ed and a green flag took its place. The R. L. At the last moment Nansen added Bentzen to the original crew of twelve: "It was 8:80 o'clock when he came on board to speak to me, and at 10 o'clock the Fram set sail." These dhirteen men, after an absence of three years, all returned safely, to their homes in perfect health. Some curious coincidences are recorded with respect to this fateful number: "I inspected Kirk's pups in the atternoon. Pasre were thirteen, a curious coincidence—thirteen, pups on December 13, 1893, for thirteen men." Further, Nansen arrived at Vardo in Norway on Attguist 13, 1886, and on the self-surre day the Eran emerged from her long drift on the ice into the open seam a Notes and Queries.

od the magnete. The the most forgetful man on earth, sir." Then I will try you, but bear in mind that the milute you remember anything your usefulness to us ceases." -New York Journal.

Kansas Tornado. Here is an example of what a Kansas tornado can do, or what a Kansas liar can de, when forced to it: A farmer had a large crib filled with ear corn, and there was a knot hole in the south and of the crib. It was struck by a sormed and R is claimed that the suction was so great that cob after cob was drawn through the hele and the fermer was left with a crib of shelled
