

OUR IRISH LETTER.

NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES OF IRELAND.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Various Items From Every Section of the Emerald Isle.

ULSTER.

On Sunday the foundation stone of the new church of the recently founded parish of Knockbrea was solemnly laid in the presence of a numerous assembly...

The monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Orphan Society of Down and Connor was held in the Orphanage, Crumlin road, during the week, and was attended by Most Rev. Dr. Henry (in the chair).

An important meeting, attended by members of the various bodies in sympathy with the '88 centenary movement, was held in the rooms, 12 Howland street, Belfast, on Sunday, Mr. P. Russell presided.

The quarterly meeting of the members of the Armagh Catholic Reading Room was held last week, Rev. John Quinn presiding. The statement of accounts was read, showing a substantial balance to credit.

William Kelly, of Mongullagh, near Crossmaglen, was drowned in a bog-hole on Sunday in an attempt to save his brother, who fell in.

John Kearns, who has lived in Armagh for many years, met his death under sad circumstances recently. He was walking down the street when he slipped and fell, cutting his head severely.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury, all of very trifling character.

Very Rev. Henry Canon McNeve was parish priest of Magherafelt in 1884, and his assistant was Rev. T. McWilliams. Postal address is Magherafelt, County Derry, Ireland.

rick McQuirk, Tranquilla House, Monaghan, took place in Latturean cemetery. Cortège long and representative of all creeds and classes.

TYRONE.

Bernard McCann, working in a quarry in Millix, last week was killed by an overhanging bank of earth falling upon him.

The interment of the late Rev. Bernard Murphy, Carrickmore, took place on July 14, in the churchyard of his church.

MUNSTER.

Potato blight of a pronounced type has appeared in many of the gardens in West Clare. The early varieties are most seriously affected.

CORK.

On Wednesday, in the quiet little churchyard of Shanagary, near Clonsilla, there was laid to rest John Fitzgibbon, 29 years of age.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

deying home to Newcastle West, where his wife and family reside. Deceased was 38 years of age.

A beautiful monument, with statue of the Eccleser standing over a light high, has been erected by the Community of the Sisters of Mercy, Tipperary, in memory of the late Rev. Mother Mary Catherine McNamara.

The interment of the late Rev. Bernard Murphy, Carrickmore, took place on July 14, in the churchyard of his church.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

At the Summer Assizes in Cavan last week only thirteen grand jurors were in attendance. But few cases went before the grand jury.

City Hall, Dublin, for the purpose of counting the ballot papers received for the election of the executive council.

RECENT DEATHS IN DUBLIN. McNamara—July 8, at the Hospice for the Dying, Haroldscross.

WESTMEATH. A rabid dog ran through Mullaga one day last week, and in his wild course bit 20 other dogs.

WEXFORD. New Ross Branch of the "98" Centenary Association met last week. A most encouraging report was read.

WICKLOW. Tenants are having the exorbitant rents which were heretofore exacted from them by heartless landlords cut down.

CONNAUGHT. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

GALWAY. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

KING'S. A band will soon be held in St. Michael's church, Portlinton, on three successive days to raise funds for purchasing a new organ.

LONGFORD. The Gaelic clubs of Longford recently forwarded £18 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

LOUTH. Rev. T. Murray, of Collon parish, recently forwarded £15 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

RECENT DEATHS IN DUBLIN. McNamara—July 8, at the Hospice for the Dying, Haroldscross.

WESTMEATH. A rabid dog ran through Mullaga one day last week, and in his wild course bit 20 other dogs.

WEXFORD. New Ross Branch of the "98" Centenary Association met last week. A most encouraging report was read.

WICKLOW. Tenants are having the exorbitant rents which were heretofore exacted from them by heartless landlords cut down.

CONNAUGHT. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

GALWAY. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

KING'S. A band will soon be held in St. Michael's church, Portlinton, on three successive days to raise funds for purchasing a new organ.

LONGFORD. The Gaelic clubs of Longford recently forwarded £18 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

LOUTH. Rev. T. Murray, of Collon parish, recently forwarded £15 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

RECENT DEATHS IN DUBLIN. McNamara—July 8, at the Hospice for the Dying, Haroldscross.

WESTMEATH. A rabid dog ran through Mullaga one day last week, and in his wild course bit 20 other dogs.

WEXFORD. New Ross Branch of the "98" Centenary Association met last week. A most encouraging report was read.

WICKLOW. Tenants are having the exorbitant rents which were heretofore exacted from them by heartless landlords cut down.

CONNAUGHT. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

GALWAY. Rev. Daniel Coghlan, parish priest of Aughrin, is about to appeal to the Irish people for funds to enable him to erect a Celtic cross.

KING'S. A band will soon be held in St. Michael's church, Portlinton, on three successive days to raise funds for purchasing a new organ.

LONGFORD. The Gaelic clubs of Longford recently forwarded £18 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

LOUTH. Rev. T. Murray, of Collon parish, recently forwarded £15 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

LOUTH. Rev. T. Murray, of Collon parish, recently forwarded £15 to the trustees of the Evicted Tenants' Fund.

Vertical text in the right margin, partially cut off, containing various small notices and fragments of articles.