

OUR IRISH LETTER.

NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES OF IRELAND.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Various Items From Every Section of the Emerald Isle.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

Capt. Hugh Murphy, described as Barnum's Irish giant, crossed by the Larne and Stranraer steamer last week. Capt. Murphy's parents were natives of Carnlough, and neither of them were more than five feet in height, although Capt. Murphy is over seven feet and a half.

A meeting of the Henry Joy McCracken club was held in their rooms, New Lodge road, Belfast, on Sunday. Mr. Thomas McMahon presiding. There was a very large attendance among those present being James Kenny, George McLaverty, Patrick Mullan, Joseph McDonnell, John Riley, James Duffy, Edward McMahon, Daniel McGeown, James Magee, Edward Magee, John Watson, William Cairns, Michael Burns, John McCafferty, Henry Magill, Fred. Reid, John Smith, Dominick Banner, William Hamilton, John McGeown, Patrick McCann and James Keenan. The club is in a most satisfactory condition, numerically and financially.

ARMAGH.

A conference of the clergy of the Deanery of Armagh was held last week in St. Patrick's cathedral. Cardinal Logue presided, and there were present Very Rev. Canon Coyne, Keady; Very Rev. Canon Byrne, Purgatory; Very Rev. Father Lavery, Tandragee; Rev. Michael Loughran, Mullavilly; Rev. Thomas Donnelly, Loughgilly; Rev. Peter Kriely, Cullyhanna; Rev. Patrick McRoy, Middleton; Rev. Michael O'Brien, Loughgall; Rev. Patrick Vallely, Keady; Rev. Father Devine, ditto; Rev. Anthony McDonnell, Middleton; Rev. Thomas McDonald, Loughgilly; Rev. Peter Moore, ditto; Rev. Henry Callan, Ballymacnabb; Rev. Father McParland, ditto; Rev. Michael O'Brien, Kilmore; Rev. Patrick Kenny, Loughgall; Rev. Bernard O'Connor, Portadown; Rev. Michael McNamee, Markethill; Rev. Father Gormill, Poyntzpass; Rev. Felix McNally, Armagh; Rev. Patrick Fagan, ditto; and Rev. Michael Quinn, ditto. The Lord Chancellor has appointed Mr. John Fleming, T. C., Brooklynn house, Lurgan, a magistrate for that county, and Mr. Fleming was duly sworn in before Mr. William Liddell, J. P., at the Petty Sessions office in Lurgan.

CAVAN.

George de la Ber Beresford, of Killyhandra, is mentioned as being a Deputy Lieutenant for the county. On a former occasion he was High Sheriff.

The Hon. Barry Maxwell, eldest son of Lord Farnham, died in Castle Sanderson, Farnham, from a bicycle accident. Deceased was aged 21 years.

DERRY.

Mr. James O'Doherty, J. P., of White house, Ballymagroarty, died on Sunday, September 19, after a brief illness. He was the only surviving brother of the Most Rev. Dr. O'Doherty, bishop of Derry. He was a county justice and one of the governors of Derry Lunatic Asylum board.

On September 18, the remains of the late Mrs. McNally, wife of Mr. James McNally, Belfast Bar, Bridge street Coleraine, were removed for interment in Aghahill Catholic burying ground. Mrs. McNally had endeared herself to all who knew her by her loving and charitable disposition. At the funeral the chief mourners were Mr. James McNally, husband; Masters Andrew and Jim McNally, sons; Mr. Andrew Doyle, Kells, County Meath, brother; Mrs. O'Rawe, Ballymena, sister; Mr. Patrick O'Rawe, brother-in-law; Miss McNally, Cullybackey, sister-in-law; Messrs. Andrew and Alphonse O'Rawe, nephews, and Miss O'Rawe, niece. Among those present at the funeral were Rev. John Carroll, St. Malachy's, Coleraine; Messrs. Andrew Clarke, manager Coleraine Distillery; Robert Forrie, R. Moorehead, W. H. Caldwell, R. Nolan, John Ferrell, William Hay, Richard O'Doherty, Joseph O'Kane, John McWilliams, J. McWilliamson, J. A. Williams, J. McLaughlin, H. McGrath, P. J. Moody, John O'Kane, R. McDermott.

DONEGAL.

Sunday, September 19, Cardinal Logue, speaking in Donegal in reply to an address, described the present method of government in Ireland. "We are ruled," he said, "not by the Queen of England, not by the Ministry of England, but by a small clique in a corner of the North of Ireland, who rejoice in the name of the Royal Association of Orangemen." No matter how fair the promises, no matter how honest the intention of the governors of Ireland, "one tap of the Orange drum" can make them lay aside their good will and follow the behests of an ignorant and intolerant secret society.

DOWN.

Following is an abstract of the business to be dealt with by the revising barristers at the approaching revision of the Parliamentary list of voters for the four divisions of Down. In South Down, where the greatest amount of interest centres, the sessions will open at Newry, and close at Castlewellan. Amongst furnishes 27 claims and 15 objections; Castlewellan, 38 and 29; Cloughskelt, 85 and 79; Fourmillesh use, 40 and 5; Hilltown 28 and 40; Killybeg, 47 and 19; Letallion, 18 and 27; Mayobridge, 27 and 2; Newcastle, 34 and 49; Newry, 18; Rathfriland, 89 and 106; Roostrevor, 35 and 43; Warrenpoint, 15 and 7; total, 484 ordinary claims, 12 lodger claims and 421 objections. In North Down proceedings will commence at Holywood and finish at Comber. Ballyblack furnishes 34 claims; Bangor, 19; Comber, 11; Donaghadee, 18; Dundonald, 8; Holywood, 32; Knock, 1; Newtownards, 78; Portstewart, 4; Six Road Ends, 8; total, 226 ordinary claims and 12 lodger claims. In West Down at Banbridge, finishing at Moira. Banbridge furnishes 1 claim; Dromara, 8; Gifford, 54; Hillsborough, 71 claims and 38 objections; total, 115 ordinary claims, 17 lodger claims and 38 objections. In East Down business commences at Ballyfield and terminates at Seaford. Ballynahinch furnishes 1 claim; Crossgar, 1; Downpatrick, 2; Killinohy, 11; Killyleagh, 18; Kilmegan, 8 and 8 objections; Lisburn, 89 claims; Seaford 1 claim and 2 objections; total, 77 ordinary claims, 4 lodger claims and 10 objections.

FERMANAGH.

A meeting of Unionists of North Fermanagh was held in the Protestant hall, Enniskillen, recently for the selecting a candidate to contest the constituency in the event of a vacancy. Mr. Edward Archdale presided, and there was a large attendance. The names of six gentlemen were before the delegates, viz: Mr. Corbett, London; Mr. Goulding, Cork; Mr. W. R. Cooney, Enniskillen; Dr. Thompson, Omagh; Dr. Leeper, Ederney, and Mr. Wilson from England. Each was asked to address the delegates. The result of the first poll was: Cooney, 13; Corbett, 12; Goulding, 12; Leeper 1. A vote was taken between Corbett and Goulding with the following result: Corbett, 21; Goulding 15. The final voting was as follows: Corbett, 31; Cooney, 15. Mr. Corbett was therefore elected candidate, and Mr. Cooney congratulated Mr. Corbett on his success. It is stated that the official Unionists canvassed hard for Goulding, and when they realized at the convention that he would not be selected, they threw their weight against Cooney, thereby putting in Corbett. The friends of Mr. Cooney state that there is no doubt whatever but that for officialism he would have beaten any of the others hands down, as he is a local man. It is stated that Dr. Thompson, Omagh, will contest the seat as an Independent Unionist.

MONAGHAN.

Workmen are engaged, under the superintendence of Mr. John Doran, in clearing ground for the new Catholic chapel at Monaghan. A number of stonecutters, under the direction of Mr. John Delaney, are dressing Dunganon sandstone for the facade, and will shortly be preparing stone from Mr. Delaney's quarries for the main part of the building. Mr. Hague, architect, and the Most Rev. Dr. Owens, Bishop of Clogher, visited the place during the week.

TYRONE.

The revision of the Parliamentary voters' list for the Castlecaulfield polling district, South Tyrone Division, was opened in Castlecaulfield on Saturday. The Unionists were represented by Mr. Edward V. J. Hamilton, solicitor, Aughnacloy, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Adderley and others. The Nationalists were not represented, but their interests were looked after by James Corcoran and Daniel Kerr. No claims were made or objections served by the Nationalists party. The total number of names to be dealt with is 2,329, including on the claimant list 782.

On Sunday John McNally of Cookstown was driving through Tullyhogue, when he was set upon by drunken rowdies. They were yelling and shouting, cursing the Pope and Home Rule, and indulging in party expressions. Fortunately Mr. McNally made his escape before he received serious injuries. The attention of the police authorities needs to be drawn to this place. Formerly a patrol had to be stationed there on Saturday evening to protect Catholics returning from Cookstown market, as several had been set upon and savagely beaten.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.

On September 18 the election of medical officer for the Kilrush Union, vacant by the resignation of Dr. Foley, took place. There was a full attendance of Guardians. Mr. Mesall presided. Dr. Randall Counihan and Dr. Thomas Flinnican were proposed and seconded. Mr. O'Meehan, solicitor, who represented Dr. Flinnican, objected to the votes of three members on the grounds of lack of qualification, etc., and submitted that they were not legally entitled to take part in the election. Mr. Kelly, solicitor for Dr. Counihan, said this was an unusual procedure. These gentlemen were put on the list by the Guardians and approved by the Local Government Board. Did he want them to undo what they did themselves? It was irregular. The chairman declared Dr. Counihan elected, and said the objections could be decided by the Local Government Board. Dr. Counihan returned thanks. The position carries a salary of £120.

CORK.

The friends of Miss Mary Daly principal teacher of Ballygarvan National school, will be glad to learn that she has been promoted to the first division of first class for "highly efficient service" during seven years. Miss Daly well deserves this reward, as she is one of the most successful teachers in Munster, having secured the much coveted Carlisle and Blake premium. She has been long in receipt of "good service" salary.

John Hayes of Cloakilly was found drowned in the river Lee last week.

Recent deaths in Cork, Spence, September 16 at 26 Grattan street, Ellen, mother of Rev. W. Spence, O. P. O'Mahoney, September 16 at Tower, Eliza O'Mahoney, Moscrow Bandon. Lucey, on September 14, at Ovens, Patrick Lucey, postmaster. Geary, on September 12, at 15 Chapel street, Daniel Geary, boilermaker.

The death of the Very Rev. Father Beechindrum, P. P., Newtownshandrum is announced. For more than fifty years he had been an earnest and edifying priest in a diocese. He had attained a patriarchal age, and, though for a considerable time was unable to discharge the duties with former energy, yet even in his increasing infirmity his daily life was the admiration of all. His death removes one of the oldest priests of Cloyne.

KERRY.

In the Concert hall, Tralee, a glove contest took place between Jack O'Mahoney, Tralee, and Jack Hickey, of Dublin, ex-champion of Ireland, for six rounds. Exhibition contests were first given by Bill Murphy and Dan Grant and Fred Wren and Jack Leary. O'Mahoney and Hickey entered the ring at 9:30, and were loudly cheered by the spectators. O'Mahoney was in the pink of condition, while Hickey seemed very much out of form. It was declared a draw.

Rev. M. McCarthy, P. P., Causeway, was named notified by the Commissioners of National Education that they awarded a first held prize of £20 to Jeremiah Lawlor, a monitor in the Killury National school, Causeway, for excellence of answering at special examination on the 18th and 14th of August last. This is the fifth of these valuable prizes won by the Killury school, four of which were of the first degree. The present winner is third son of Mr. Michael Lawlor, principal of the school, and the former winners were his sons, Mr. Dennis Lawlor, now engaged with the Very Rev. Canon Conolly in St. Kerin's Senior school, Dublin, and Mr. William Lawlor with Very Rev. Canon McLaughlin, in the National schools, Roscommon.

LIMERICK.

Richard Dowling, from Newcastle West, was drowned recently in Ballylunion while bathing.

The death of Mr. Michael Macdonagh, which took place at St. John's Hospital, Limerick, was deeply regretted. Deceased was a great favorite with the young men. He was for a number of years connected with the dramatic and callisthenic classes of St. John's Temperance Society, and often his histrionic and musical abilities were heard in the local dance and temperance halls. Much sympathy is felt for his afflicted mother and sisters in their unexpected bereavement, more especially as deceased was the bread-winner of the family.

TIPPERARY.

A conference of co-operative agricultural and dairy societies was held at the Town Hall, Newagh last week under the presidency of the Rev. John Gleeson of Ballaghmore. Mr. Horace Plunkett, M. P., president of the Irish Agricultural Organization Society; Mr. R. A. Anderson, secretary of the same; Mr. Poole Wilson, B. Sc., Government Dairy Inspector; Mr. R. P. Gill, C. E., organizer in connection with the agricultural movement, and other members of the society were present. The societies represented were Ballywilliam, Silvermines, Latteragh, Clonisk, Ballaghmore and Lower Ormond. The reverend chairman said that, busy as he had been as a priest, he took up the spirit of the organization in his parish some time ago, and was happy to say that, in a couple of years, the parish had benefitted to the extent of £300 by the working of an agricultural bank.

Members of the Drangan Creamery Company met last week. Rev. M. McGrath, P. P., presided. Among those present were Rev. C. Ryan, Messrs. Michael Phelan, Michael Tobin, John St. John, John Dwyer, Matthew Bradshaw, John Phelan, W. Bradshaw, M. Smyth, John Morris, Thomas Cahill, Knocknagh, J. Dunne, John St. John, Patrick Bourke, P. Gleeson, J. Vaughan, M. Cusack, honorable secretary. The reverend chairman read a letter from Mr. M. Coffey, Fethard, who had a creamery at Drangan, offering to sell the same on certain terms. After some discussion the following resolution was, on the motion of Rev. C. Ryan, unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That a vote of those who applied for shares be taken on Sunday, September 26, to decide whether they shall accept the offer to sell his house and machinery by Mr. Coffey." Sixty more shares were applied for at committee meetings of the 9th and 12th. A vote of thanks to the reverend chairman brought the meeting to a close. Adjourned to September 26 at 12:30 p. m.

Mr. John Carroll, Mile Tree, died recently at the early age of 25 years. He was a general favorite, and his funeral, passing through Clonmel to Powerstown, testified to the esteem in which he was held. Deceased had been ailing for some months. The chief mourners were Patrick and William Carroll, brothers. Among those present were Dr. Carroll, P. J. Carroll, Miltown; Luke Hally, Graigue; Michael O'Brien, Lawletstown; James O'Brien, Lawletstown; Patrick Walsh, Kilsheelan; William Hanrahan, E. J. Hanrahan, P. Hanrahan, P. Carroll and brother, Tannersrath; D. Hanrahan, Mile Tree; William Moroney, Kincor; James Flaherty, Killusty; John Flaherty, Killusty; Maurice Power, Thomas Fitzgibbon, John Magner, T. C., John Russell, Ahrill; Thomas Power, Prior Park; John Mulcahy, Gladstone street; T. Russell, T. C.; Edward Dillon, Patrick Condon, Thomas Morrissey, Joseph Shortias, Thomas Clarry, J. F. Skally, James Delaney, sr., Clonmel; Patrick Burke, Ardsheeha; D. Daniel and Richard Carew, Graigue.

WATERFORD.

Died, on September 13, at Ston row, Ferrybank, Coleman Patrick Nolan in his 96th year.

Michael Barry of O'Connell street, Dungarvan, died very suddenly Saturday. He was in his usual good health when, on Saturday evening, he was seized with a pain internally. Medical aid was procured, but death ensued in a few minutes.

A man named Fleming, from Annes-town, was killed accidentally in Millford, Wexley, last week. He had been in the employ of the Great Western Railway Company during the past forty years.

John Power, Ballybrunook, known commonly as "Johnny of Glen," died recently at the age of 90 years. His remains were interred in Dunhill, Rev.

Maurice Keating officiated at the interment.

LEINSTER.

CARLOW.

The Rev. John O'Gorman, Hacketstown, studied at Blackrock College previous to his ordination, where he distinguished himself in a marked degree. He will proceed to the United States to prosecute his sacred mission.

DUBLIN.

The musical world will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Thomas Grattan Kelly at Beechwood road, Dublin. He was 66 years of age, and gifted with one of the finest and best cultured bass voices of the time. His boyhood was passed in the choir of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, where the foundation of his musical knowledge was laid, and afterwards trained by Dr. F. Coblinson, Mr. Blanchard and Sig. Rouel in Italy. Balfé wrote the music of "Satarella" specially for him. For three years he was leading basso of the Pyne and Harrison Opera company. He filled the post of organist and choirmaster for some years in Newcastle-on-Tyne, and in 1866 he returned to his native city, where he was welcomed to the choir both of St. Patrick's and Christ Church Cathedrals. Mr. Kelly sang at the leading Dublin concerts, and for several years he was an active worker in the famous Dublin Glee and Madrigal Union.

On September 14, at the Dominican convent, Ion hill, Blackrock, Miss Anne M. Stone, B. A., in religion Sister Mary Peter Gonzales, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Stone, ex-First Class Supervisor of Inland Revenue, Dublin, and sister of Dr. H. E. Stone of Blux-wich, England, made her solemn profession, and received the black veil of the Order of St. Dominick.

Mother Mary Gabriel (Duffy) of the Carmelite convent, Fernose, Tal-laght, died lately, having devoted fifty-seven years of life to the service of God in the religious order. She was 50 years of age. Her birth took place in Dublin, Sept. 7, 1818. Deceased had three brothers, two entered the Jesuit Order, and of her three sisters two became members of the order in which she lived and died.

The feast of the Seven Dolours of the ever Blessed Virgin Mary was observed with special religious ceremonial in the Church of the Seven Dolours, Dolphin's Barn. High mass was sung by Father Egan, Goldenbridge; deacon Father Kennedy, Parochial Church, James street, sub-deacon, Father Brennan, St. Andrew's, Westland row, and Father Hoey, Dolphin's Barn, master of ceremonies.

Recent deaths in Dublin, Beary, September 18, at the Meath hospital, of typhoid fever, Michael Beary, Brickfield, County Limerick, aged 24 years, late 42 E. D. M. P., and brother to the reverend chairman brought the meeting to a close. Adjourned to September 26 at 12:30 p. m.

Mr. John Carroll, Mile Tree, died recently at the early age of 25 years. He was a general favorite, and his funeral, passing through Clonmel to Powerstown, testified to the esteem in which he was held. Deceased had been ailing for some months. The chief mourners were Patrick and William Carroll, brothers. Among those present were Dr. Carroll, P. J. Carroll, Miltown; Luke Hally, Graigue; Michael O'Brien, Lawletstown; James O'Brien, Lawletstown; Patrick Walsh, Kilsheelan; William Hanrahan, E. J. Hanrahan, P. Hanrahan, P. Carroll and brother, Tannersrath; D. Hanrahan, Mile Tree; William Moroney, Kincor; James Flaherty, Killusty; John Flaherty, Killusty; Maurice Power, Thomas Fitzgibbon, John Magner, T. C., John Russell, Ahrill; Thomas Power, Prior Park; John Mulcahy, Gladstone street; T. Russell, T. C.; Edward Dillon, Patrick Condon, Thomas Morrissey, Joseph Shortias, Thomas Clarry, J. F. Skally, James Delaney, sr., Clonmel; Patrick Burke, Ardsheeha; D. Daniel and Richard Carew, Graigue.

KILDARE.

The Barrow flooded all the low-lying districts in its course from Monasterevan to Athy, and the hay, potatoes, corn crops and pasture lands of hundreds of farmers completely destroyed. Turf has also been injured. The people of Cloney and Derryoughta have experienced great loss, and around Killberry the entire hay crop has been ruined. The districts are p... at all times, but how the people are going to get through this winter is a question that is being asked on all sides.

KILKENNY.

The Carlow Nationalist of September 18 has this item about Castle-comer: "The tide of emigration, though stemmed for a time, has got loose again in this part of the country, and this week witnessed the departure of six young ladies for the United States."

MEATH.

Died—At 42 Summer street, Dublin, Eliza Montgomery, formerly of Bally-nare.

Most Rev. Dr. McNulty, accompanied by Rev. Wm. Rooney, Mullingar, who was on a visit to Vichey, France, has, after a few weeks' absence returned. He is staying at Navan.

QUEEN'S.

The death of Mr. William Brennan, brother of Mr. Denis Brennan, Mount-rath, occurred in Bray lately. Mr. Brennan passed away at the comparatively early age of 39. One sister is a member of the Community of George street convent, Dublin, and another a nun of the Order of Charity at Fox-ford, County Mayo.

The football match between the teams of Brawra and Knock for the county championship was played lately, and resulted in a win for the first mentioned by one goal and seven points to three points. T. Dea was referee.

Died—September 9, at Southfield, Joseph Byrne, August 26, at Mill-journ avenue, Upper Drumcondra, John May, son of the late William May, late of Castle Trench.

WESTMEATH.

The world-renowned baritone, Mr. William Ludwig, now on a provincial tour through Ireland, accompanied by the foremost vocalists on the boards will visit Mullingar, when an operatic and ballad concert will be held in the Parochial hall. As a singer of Irish ballads Mr. Ludwig is best known, and to hear him once is an event in the life of an individual.

Mrs. Margaret Mooney, Austin Friars, Mullingar, died recently, widely regretted. She was aged 50 years.

The funeral of Mr. Christopher McCormack of Greville street, Mullingar, took place last week. Interment was in Churchtown cemetery. Mr. McCormack had reached the good old age of 86 years.

CONNAUT.

GALWAY.

On Sunday, at Eyre, Galway city, Ellen Boughy died.

The interment of Miss Sally Browne, sister of Mrs. Ivers of Taylor's Hill, Galway city, took place at the Galway cemetery.

LEITRIM.

The death of Mrs. T. McLaughlin of Stuck, occurred on September 9, at the early age of 25 years.

The marriage of Mr. Harte of Carrick-on-Shannon, and Miss O'Dowd was celebrated on Tuesday.

MAYO.

On Tuesday five nuns of the Order of St. Louis arrived in Keltimagh, Monaghan, for the purpose of establishing a convent. A large crowd, composing the members of the various religious sodalities, awaited the arrival of the train, and expressed their appreciation of the mission of the good sisters by repeated outbursts of hearty cheering. The nuns were then escorted to the church by the clergy of the district, accompanied by the Most Rev. Dr. Lyster, who delivered a very eloquent address. In the town and neighboring districts bonfires were lighted, and Keltimagh presented a very lively appearance. From the enthusiastic spirit displayed by the inhabitants, the erection of a convent in Keltimagh will soon be an accomplished fact.

On Saturday, September 18, Mr. William Jennings, The Neale, who for fifty years was known and respected throughout South Mayo as a sterling Nationalist, died.

ROSCOMMGN.

Mr. Bartley Neary, Slatta, Kilglass, died rather suddenly lately, deeply and widely regretted.

SLIGO.

On September 14, at the Convent of Mercy, Sligo, died Bridget (in religion Sister Mary St. Michael), third daughter of John Kelly, Ballinaneen, Roscommon, in the 33rd year of her age, and sixth of her religious life.

The death of Mr. Thomas P. Fawcett, George's street, Sligo, happened on September 11 at the early age of 25 years.
