

OUR IRISH LETTER

NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES OF IRELAND.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Various Items From Every Section of the Emerald Isle.

CONNAUGHT.

GALWAY.

At a meeting held at Loughrea on Monday the question of raising funds for the evicted tenants was introduced. Mr. T. Smyth said that if 20 parishes in the diocese subscribed a sum of £20—which would mean a comparatively small amount to each individual—a sum of £400 would be realized and this would be a great boon to the wounded soldiers of the land war.

With most sincere regret we chronicle the death of Mrs. Catherine McManus, Lettergeeh, Lettertrack, wife of Mr. John McManus, N. T., and mother of Patrick J. McManus, now of Philadelphia. Deceased was only 46 years of age and leaves a large family to mourn her. Mr. P. J. McManus and the family have our sympathy. Like all Irish women, Mrs. McManus was an exemplary Catholic. After a connection with Galway city of half a century, during the greater part of which he was president of Queen's college, Sir Thomas Moffett has taken his departure for Dublin. Though for so many years in the anomalous position of a Protestant at the head of a college intended to serve the higher educational wants of the people of the most Catholic province in Ireland, he was rather popular, and his leaving is regretted.

On Saturday, died, at Frenchgrove, Hollymount, Mr. James Waters, national teacher, deeply regretted. He was a native of County Monaghan, and after a short period of falling health was prematurely cut off in his 40th year.

LEITRIM.

Last week Michael Lavin, a herd of Mr. W. Boyd's of Springfield was found dead on the avenue leading from the Boyle road to Springfield house. The deceased was between 50 and 60 years of age, and married.

On Thursday a marriage was celebrated in St. Mary's, Carrick on Shannon, by Rev. B. Geraghty, the happy couple being Mr. Matthew Moffat, of Coothball, and Miss Bedelia Farrington, of Leitrim.

An old and respected inhabitant of Clooneagh, two miles from Dromod, died on Tuesday. The funeral on Sunday to the family burial place at Annaduff was numerously attended.

MAYO.

Died—On Monday, Jan. 17, at Post Office, Achill Sound, Charles Robins, postmaster, aged 79 years.

ROSCOMMON.

At last meeting of the board of guardians of Castlerea union, Mr. Kenny brought under the notice of the board where one family, consisting of six persons, were in a starving condition, and on he (Mr. Kenny), asking the man of the house why he did not apply for relief, he said he would rather die than apply for it.

A meeting of the Boyle Co-operative Dairy and Agricultural society was held in Boyle court house last week. H. Shaw, Clooneen, Ballymote, presided.

The remains of Miss Jane McDermott, Boyle, were removed from her residence, Crescent, on Friday evening to St. Joseph's church, and the funeral which took place on Saturday, was one of the largest and most respectable seen in this locality for a long time.

SLIGO.

At their last meeting on Jan. 25, the Sligo corporation adopted the following resolution: "That we, the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgesses of Sligo, demand such a change in the system of collegiate and university as will place those who entertain conscientious objections on a footing of equality with the rest of their fellow-countrymen as regards colleges, university honors and emoluments, university examination, government and representation."

A public meeting in favor of the demand for a system of Catholic university education was held in the Town hall, Sligo, Feb. 3. The proceedings were very enthusiastic.

The bazaar in aid of the Greenvagh church has been postponed to March 17. It is expected to be a great success. The popular and patriotic spirit is being generously shown in his efforts to get the church re-erected.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.

A man named John Liddy, who resided at Fortanne, within two miles of Tulla, was accidentally killed on Jan. 31. He had been in the employment of General Gore for some years past. He was about sixty years of age and leaves a wife and family to deplore his loss.

CORK.

Mr. J. C. Slynne, who has been stationed at Salsbreen for over five years, has been transferred, on promotion, to Navan, County Meath.

A triduum in honor of the translation of St. Thomas of Aquin was begun in St. Mary's church on February 28, and is being conducted by the Rev. Father Lyons, Galway.

The death of the wife of Mr. James Butler-Ievers, J. P., which occurred on Feb. 1, brought deep sorrow to the family and household at Glanduff Castle. The funeral cortege was the largest and most representative ever seen in the locality.

KERRY.

The steamship Lord O'Neill, trading between Dublin and Baltimore, was wrecked on Jan. 27, off the Blasket Islands on the Kerry coast. The Lord O'Neill was manned by a crew of 82 hands. Dublin and Belfast men, who, after 14 hours in boats in the open sea, were rescued by the Kinvara, of the Limerick Steamship Company, and brought to Limerick.

LIMERICK.

Mr. J. W. Thayne, who was recently appointed Governor of the Limerick District Male Prison, has been promoted to the Governorship of Kilmalham jail by the Irish Prisons' board.

Mr. O'Sullivan, Governor of Waterford prison, succeeds Mr. Thayne.

Father Cooney, O. C., native of St. Mary's parish, left town on Jan. 21, en route for Australia, where he goes on a mission in that country. St. Mary's band and a large number of friends saw him off.

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Roger Kennedy, Cappa, which took place on Jan. 27 at the residence of her son, Mr. Roger Kennedy. The deceased reached the age of 85 years and had a vivid recollection of the many notable events which occurred in West Limerick during the past 70 years, among them being the execution of the three men on the summit of Cappa Hill, in the year 1822, the innocence of whom was afterward conclusively proved; likewise the burial of the two men in the Croppy Hole, Rathkale. The interment took place on Saturday last.

TIPPERARY.

The funeral of Mrs. M. Hunt, which took place on Jan. 28 from the residence of her husband, Lavally, to the family burying ground at Gammonsfield, was the largest and most representative that passed through Clonmel for a long time and testified in a marked degree the esteem in which the deceased lady and her family are held.

On Jan. 27 the remains of Mr. Michael Duggan, who for over thirty years was the principal teacher of the Burncourt National school, near Clonheen, were conveyed from his late residence to the old parish churchyard of Ballysheehan, near Shanbally castle, in the demesne of Lord Lismore, for interment.

Mrs. O'Donnell, Shauballyard, Clonmel, died on January 28. She was a woman of the most exemplary habits, the idol of her happy home and a fervent and devout member of the Catholic church. She reared a large and respectable family, two of whom took to mercantile pursuits in Clonmel, where they have justly prospered. One is Mr. William O'Donnell, merchant, Cashel street, and the other is Mr. John O'Donnell, T. C., merchant, Irishtown.

The weekly meeting of the '98 centenary association was held Jan. 23 in the Workmen's club and was one of the largest yet held. The president, Mr. W. Kennedy, presided.

WATERFORD.

The valuation of Old Waterford was £2,784, and the population was under 20,800. The valuation of the new city under the recent corporation bill is £47,224, and the population 26,200.

We are pleased to state that the Rev. Martin Cody, of Faugheen, Carrick-on-Suir, was ordained at Liverpool on the 16th inst. The reverend gentleman studied at St. John's college, Waterford, and is cousin to the Rev. P. Heffernan, of this town, who is laboring in the vineyard of the Lord in America.

Mrs. Beresford, Coolnagour, died on January 26, at her residence, after a brief illness. The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. Walsh, Coolnagour, and sister of Dr. Walsh, Aglish, and of Sister Legoria of the Mercy convent, Dungarvan. The funeral took place on Friday.

It is with regret we announce the death of Mr. Matthew Magrath, which took place at his residence, Ballyduff, on January 28. He had attained the fine old age of eighty-four years. In no part of the country was there a man who was held in higher esteem, and this was fully borne out by the vast number who followed the remains to their last resting place in Arklow cemetery on Tuesday. He had the happiness during his lifetime of seeing two of his sons become members of the priesthood, one of them being at present secretary to the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh, archbishop of Dublin.

LEINSTER.

CARLOW.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, a representative meeting was held in the town hall, Carlow, in reference to the Catholic University claim. The theatre of the town hall was densely crowded. The Rev. John Cullen, Adm., presided and addressed the meeting in eloquent terms. Mr. Hammond, M. P., also spoke, and concluded by moving the following resolution: "That this meeting endorse the recent declaration of Irish Catholic laymen on the subject of University education." Dr. W. H. O'Meara, J. P., proposed a resolution calling on the Irish members of Parliament to use every effort to press forward this urgent and important question in the House of Commons. Mr. Michael O'Reilly, T. C., seconded the resolution, which was supported by Mr. P. J. Conlan, Carlow Nationalist, and unanimously passed.

Most Rev. Dr. Foley, Bishop of Kildare and Leighlin, has appointed the Rev. George Byrne, C. C., Naas, to succeed the late Rev. Daniel Byrne as parish priest of Carlow Graigue.

Died—Feb. 1, at Montgomery street, Carlow, Mr. Patrick Noonan, aged 89 years.

DUBLIN.

Feb. 8 occurred the death of a very worthy and esteemed citizen, Mr. Patrick Cummins, pawnbroker and ex-Town Councillor.

Dublin castle authorities are becoming uneasy in the centenary year of the heroic effort to shake off the yoke of England on Ireland. We are informed that an armed guard continually parades the roof of the chief secretary's residence in the castle. To make sure of the watcher's watchfulness the guard is relieved every two hours. Are they afraid the castle will be blown down instead of up?

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. Daniel Croly, M. A., after a prolonged illness. The deceased was well known in educational and social circles in Dublin and had done excellent work for Catholic education. He was for many years a professor in University College, St. Stephen's green, and on the foundation of the Drumcondra Training College was appointed professor of English and Latin.

On Feb. 8 Mr. John E. Redmond, M. P., arrived in Dublin after his visit to the United States. A public reception was organized and took the form of a torchlight procession, which escorted Mr. Redmond from the Kingsbridge to the National club, where he delivered an address. He said: "This centenary of '98 ought to be a memorable one in Ireland, if only the people of Ireland did their duty—that is, if they banish from the movement every trace of party or sectional feeling, and if they put down with a strong hand any man—he cared not whether he be Parnellite or Anti-Parnellite—who endeavored to make party capital of this celebration. He had no desire to interfere with the arrangement, and all he asked was (not as a member of Parliament or a public man, but as an Irishman) that he might be allowed to join with his fellow Irishmen in doing honor to the men of '98 and in giving a fitting reception to their fellow-countrymen from abroad. Referring to the Stephen's Green election, he said he had read with pride of the gallant fight that had been made.

Recent deaths in Dublin.—Maher—Feb. 2, at 7 Whitworth road, Drumcondra, Mr. James Maher, formerly of Galway, aged 52 years. O'Brien—Feb. 2, at 4 Echin street buildings, James street, Bridget O'Brien. O'Connell—Feb. 3, at 12 St. Mary's place, Julia O'Connell, aged 15 years, youngest daughter of Margaret and Patrick O'Connell. O'Farrell—Feb. 2, at Cambridge House, Dalkey, Anne O'Farrell. Ralph—Feb. 3, suddenly, at Leeson Park lodge, Margaret Ralph. Rice—Feb. 2, at 4 Carriton terrace, Upper Rathmines, Catherine Rice. Cummins—Feb. 3, at St. Mary's, Terenure, of pneumonia, Patrick Cummins.

Dowling—Feb. 2, at 38 Cross avenue, Kingstown, James Dowling, son of the late Edward Dowling, Kingstown.

Keane—Feb. 2, at 2 Alpine Villa, Inchicore, Margaret O. Keane (Tilly), aged 24 years, daughter of John Keane, 81 James street Bigger.

Feb. 3, at 10 Hollyband road, Margaret Emily Bigger. Delaney—Feb. 4, at 3 Whitworth row, Seville place John Delaney. Dwyer—Feb. 8, at 1 St. Mary's terrace, Richmond Hill, John Dwyer. Nugent—Feb. 3, Maryanne Nugent. Interment from 6 Castle street. O'Connell—Feb. 3, at 12 St. Mary's place, Julia O'Connell, aged 15 years, youngest daughter of Margaret and Patrick O'Connell.

Smith—Feb. 3, at 11 Dorset row, Lower Dorset street, Henry Smith, aged 19 years. Toner—Feb. 4, at 3 Pembroke terrace, Merion, Teresa Toner, aged 46 years. Hillard—Feb. 4, at Clara house, Dundrum, county Dublin, Mary Hillard. Kelly—Jan. 4, at 120 Lower George's street, Kingstown, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, relict of the late Joseph Kelly, Glashuath.

We regret to have to record the death of Mr. Peter Healy, Poor Law Guardian for the Downings division, which sad event occurred on January 24, at his residence, after a long and painful illness. Previous to his falling into delicate health, the deceased gentleman was an energetic member of the Naas poor law board, and his death is much regretted by all his colleagues, as well as by a large circle of acquaintances and friends. The funeral, on Wednesday, to Dowling's churchyard, was followed by a large and respectable cortege.

Last week a meeting of the committee having charge of the arrangements for the recent concert in aid of the orphanage was held in the Catholic Young Men's society hall, Navas. Present: Rev. Father Flynn, F. Sheridan, H. J. Cullen, J. Finucane, J. Spicer, P. Sheridan, J. Deedy, Luke Smith, W. Curry and Eugene Geislan. The result of the entertainment was a matter for general congratulation, £220 being at the disposal of the committee for handing over to the institution.

KILDARE.

On January 29 a large and representative meeting was held in the chapel yard of Naas in support of the demand for the establishment of an Irish Catholic university. Mr. J. C. Murphy, Oberstown, presided.

An enthusiastic meeting of all sections of the inhabitants of Clane and district was held on Sunday. Mr. J. Healy in the chair. Proposed by Mr. P. McKittrick, seconded by Mr. James Archer: "That notwithstanding the fact that so many clubs had already taken the name of Wolfe Tone, still on account of the close vicinity of Bodenstown to Clane it was not presumptuous on their part to call their branch by the honored name of Wolfe Tone also." After some discussion this was agreed to.

KILKENNY.

Most Rev. Dr. Brownrigg, bishop of Ossory, has made the following changes and promotions. The Rev. John Carroll, late P. P., Danelort, to be P. P. Gowran; the Rev. James Dunphy, late Adm., Glenmore, to be P. P. Danelort; the Rev. Peter Patrick Canon Phelan, late P. P., Windgap, to be P. P., Slieverue; the Rev. Peter Doyle, late C. C., Thomaston, to be P. P. Windgap; the Rev. Patrick Meany, late of Borris-on-Ossory, to be P. P., Glenmore; Rev. James Dillon, late Adm., St. Mary's, to be Adm., Borris-on-Ossory; the Rev. John Walsh, late C. C., Ballycallan, to be C. C., Thomaston; the Rev. Michael Delaney, late C. C., Whitegate, to be C. C., Ballycallan; the Rev. Martin Crotty, late C. C., St. Canice's, to be C. C., Whitegate; the Rev. Walter Walsh, late C. C., Ferry, to be C. C., St. Canice's; the Rev. Michael Rowe, late C. C., Bennettsbridge, to be C. C., Ballyragge; the Rev. Kieran Fitzpatrick, late C. C., Ballyfoyle, to be C. C., Bennettsbridge; the Rev. Thomas Grant, late C. C., Mooncoin, to be C. C., Ballyfoyle; the Rev. Edward O'Keefe, late C. C., Hugginstown, to be C. C., Mooncoin; the Rev. Edward Doody, late C. C., Ballyragget, to be C. C., Hugginstown.

KING'S.

Bessie Monaghan, housekeeper at the Presbytery, Clara, died Feb. 3, deeply regretted.

LONGFORD.

A practical effort is being made in Granard to have the deeds of a century ago honored. A centenary committee has been formed and is about to be affiliated with the central branch. A meeting was held at the town hall last week, Mr. Francis Reilly presiding.

LONGFORD.

The secretary, Mr. Hugh Kelly, town clerk, is working indefatigably to make the movement a success. James Beirney, a sheriff's bailiff, tells a dreadful story of abuses to which he was recently subjected while serving a warrant. A few days ago he was dispatched to Aughaoreagh, near Ballinalee, to make a seizure on the holding of Hugh Carty. While making the seizure Beirney was attacked by Carty and his son, who knocked down the bailiff and relieved him of his revolver, which he had drawn. Young Carty produced a knife and stabbed Beirney in the finger, cutting through the nail. The two Cartys were arrested by Sergeant Boylan, constable Jenkins and constable McNabola. The prisoners have been remanded.

Died—Feb. 3, at Longford, Mrs. Anne Langan, formerly of Lenamore. Langan, mother of Rev. Dr. Langan, Adm., St. Mary's Athlone, aged 77 years. Office and high mass in the cathedral. Interment in Abbeystarule.

ULSTER.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

At the cathedral on Jan. 27, Miss Maggie Murphy, daughter of Mr. John Murphy, Fee's terrace, Longford, and formerly of Ballinoolig, county Cork, was married to Mr. Michael McEvoy, national teacher, Glenora, a native of Sonagh, county Longford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Dolan, administrator.

The remains of Mr. William Corrigan, whose death occurred on Jan. 29, were removed on Monday from his late residence, Lord street, Mountpottinger, for interment in Frair's Bush. The deceased who was 72 years of age was well known and highly respected in the city.

On Friday, Jan. 29, the remains of Thomas Murphy were removed from his late residence in Greenacastle, and interred in the graveyard attached to the old church of St. Mary's, Greenacastle. Deceased was born in the parish of Clonfeacle, county Armagh, in 1798. He was able to walk about almost up to the day of his death, which took place on the 26th, while his memory remained unimpaired. Although only a boy at Emmet's rising, he was able to relate many thrilling episodes of that "rising," and of '98 and other troublous times. He took great pride in relating his presence at the celebration of mass on the "Hill of Tara" previous to emancipation and in telling how, after mass, the great liberator, Daniel O'Connell, addressed the assemblage, assuring them that he would compel the British Government to wipe out their accursed act and give to Irish Catholics freedom and religious liberty. Deceased, who lived for the past 70 years in Greenacastle, was highly respected. The cortege was largely attended. The funeral service was performed by Father McKay.

The remains of the late Mr. John McAtamney, whose death took place at his residence, Mill street, on the 21st, after a somewhat lingering illness, were removed for interment in the family burying ground at Greenlough on Monday. The remains were first taken to the Church of All Saints, where requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. R. O'Rawe, C. C.

A meeting of the Belfast Centenary Association was held in the lecture hall, National club, Sunday evening, Jan. 30.

On Friday evening Mr. Frank Hugh O'Donnell, M. A., arrived in Armagh and was met by some prominent members of the Lord Edward '98 Centenary club. He lectured on "From the Boyne to Vinegar Hill" to a crowded audience in the Tontine buildings, the hall being appropriately decorated. Mr. W. J. McKiernan, president of the club, occupied the chair.

The remains of Mr. Javanna McConnell, T. C., late of Scotch street, Armagh, whose death took place under such sad circumstances on Jan. 28, were removed on Sunday for interment in the family burying ground in the new cemetery adjoining St. Patrick's cathedral.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

On Saturday, January 29, a meeting in furtherance of the movement for the removal of the unjust financial burdens that have been proved to exist and press so grievously on Ireland was held in Cavan. The gathering was attended by large numbers of representative Protestants and Catholics and the unanimity and enthusiasm of the proceedings were all that the most ardent friend of Ireland could desire.

Donnell citizens was held in St. Columba's hall under the auspices of the Henry Joy McCracken branch. The large assembly room was packed to the doors. Mr. William O'Doherty, solicitor, presided, and the meeting was addressed by Mr. Frank Hugh O'Donnell, Miss Alice Milligan and Mr. Stannards, Dublin. The reception of Mr. O'Donnell was enthusiastic and he delivered an able and stirring address. Resolutions were passed expressing sympathy with the '98 movement and pledging the best effort to support it. The movement is rapidly taking root all over this district and popular zeal in the cause is everywhere manifest.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On Friday she passed peacefully away, comforted by the ministrations of Rev. J. Dorrain, C. C., and fortified by the last rites of Mother Church. Deceased was a general favorite, and during her school life at St. Catherine's Convent of Meroy, Ballyshannon, earned for herself the love and friendship of her schoolmates and the admiration of her teachers.

BENEGAL.

The monthly fair in Ballintra was held on the 24th and was well stocked with cattle of every description. The weather was fine and there was a large attendance.

On Sunday, Jan. 28, the remains of Miss Kathleen Teresa McGawley, third daughter of Mr. James McGawley, late R. I. C., were removed from her father's residence, College street, Ballyshannon, for interment in Abbey Assaroo. On