AMUSEMENTS.

COOK'S.

The clever Spooner Company has scored an unexpected hit at the Cook Opera House during the past week and by their clean, bright, presentation of an extensive repertoire of standard comedies have won hundreds of admirers from among the theatre-going element in this city. Edna May and Cecil Spooner are exceptional clever and versatile young ladies and they are surrounded by a company of thorough artists. See repertoire in another column.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

By special arrangement the management of the Academy of Music are able to announce a magnificent spectacular production of the patriotic naval drama, "Old Glory." The play is one of thrilling interest, especially as this country is on the verge of war with Spain, the scenes being laid on the island of Cuba during the present insurgent struggle with the Spanish. The first act takes place in and about New York city. The second shows the United States Consulate, Matanzas, Cuba. Among the other realistic scenes that may be mentioned are the arrival of a United States man-of-war, the prison at Matanzas, Lighthouse on the Coast of Cuba; The Struggle at the Light-house; Deck of a Privateer, and the great naval battle in which the Stars and Stripes are victorious. The stage settings will be magnificent, showing the harbor of Havana, Morro Castle in the distance, and the United States consulate. No pains or expense will be spared to make this an artistic and realistic success.

WONDERLAND THEATRE.

As an example of what enterprises and earnest efforts to please the people, will do Manager Moore comes to the front at his theatre this week and offers a set of biograph pictures taken in Cuba the past two weeks, and the people of Rochester will have the chance to see them before any other city in the world. Scarcely before they had been secured he had secured a contract with the American Biograph Company to show them at Wonderland the week of April 18th, and according to agreement they will be presented with all their vivid life-like detail the coming week, and as this is the last week of the Biograph, enormous crowds will be the rule every afternoon and evening. The vaudeville part of the programme is also the best and includes, Gillingwater and Heron, the comedy stars; Grace Emmett, the little German girl, who made such a hit here before; Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, the funny famers; E. J. Boyle, musical wonder, Mack and Elliott, a pair of comedy sketch artists, and Joe Goetz, king of the revolving globe. At the afternoon performance every lady will be presented with a pretty Cuban flag and with all these good things offered at 10 and 20c admission you should not miss it.

PICKINGS FOR THE GOOD OF THE C. M. B. A.

BY J. J. H.

CHAPTER IV.

There are men, first class risks, in your parish, that have not been, as yet, approached to join the C. M. B. A. Why? Because some members do not like to solicit. I wish those to consider that if some good member had not solicited they would not be members themselves. Don't say you are not well enough acquainted with our constitution. Perhaps you are too modest. Poor excuse. The association is yours. Just try it. We will risk the injury to your modesty. It isn't as though you did not have anything to talk about, because you have. Just look up our last report and minutes of the convention of September 1st, '97, which you should have, as they were produced with great care and at much expense, and all branches have been supplied with copies to be distributed among their members. Also read up our laws a little regarding benefits, etc., and exemplify the work a little, and you will begin to realize. You may not succeed in getting a member the first time, but the more you try the more inspiration you will get. Don't take "no" for an answer. I assure you the growth of the C. M. B. A., while it may not be as rapid in the future as it has been in the past, will always be in the front rank of the fraternal army. There is some rivalry, and competition has the same effect upon society organizations that it has upon business; and besides this, more care is taken, and the moral character and standing of the applicants are more closely scrutinized than in the past. The different fraternal organizations springing up in every section of the country with insurance features has, in a measure, slackened the number of applications, but as yet the C. M. B. A. has not been materially affected and continues to lead the column in its onward march and will continue on the road to prosperity, for our banner is now planted on the ramparts of many cities and borne aloft, bearing the inscription and emblem of our noble association for a watchword. The universe can be assured that the C. M. B. A. will rapidly move onward and upward to greater fields of usefulness and receiving the plaudits of the good and true, for we will always be at the front of the army of fraternity.

Hibernian Rifles.

The drill on Tuesday evening was well attended. There were an exceptional few that did not respond to roll call, but they made an appearance later. The following general order was issued and placed on the bulletin and given the respective officers:

HEADQUARTERS HIBERNIAN RIFLES, General Order No. 2.

The members of Company A, Hibernian Rifles, are hereby ordered to be present at headquarters, city building, on April 20th, at 7 p. m. sharp, in full uniform, to form an escort for Mr. Daly, and report to orderlies not later than 7.15 p. m. on the above date.

M. QUILLMAN, Captain.

The company decided to form at the city building and march from there through Market street to State, to East Main, to East avenue, and counter-march to Livingston hotel to form the escort to Fitzhugh hall. The 54th Regiment band will lead, and all desiring to take part in the escort can do so by notifying the captain on April 19th at headquarters. All members of divisions and others wishing to take part in the escort must be ready at 7 o'clock, as the company will move at 7.15 from headquarters and at 7.45 from Livingston hotel to the hall.

After the meeting the members called on Bro. Dunnaton, where a very enjoyable time was had, and the boys passed some good jokes on the captain and vice-president on their ability as parliamentarians, the captain having presided at two meetings as chief civil executive in the absence of the president, who, it seems, has forgotten meeting night twice in succession, and also the attendance prize.

Comrade Hugh Mulleney, having decided to go to Lockport to accept a position, turned in his equipments, but said he hoped it was only temporary. However, the boys are, one and all, sorry to see him have to do this, as he was a faithful and diligent comrade, a patriotic Hibernian and practical Catholic who was ready at all times to work for the interests of the organization, both in attending, and working to increase its well being, and for that reason we wish him success in the new field to which he has been called.

The current issue of The Bulletin contains an excellent picture of Joseph C. Ritz, president of Council 66, who has been appointed one of the deputies for Monroe county.

Council 23, C. R. & B. A., held an enjoyable party at their rooms Wednesday evening.
