Hornellville.
The illustrated lecture by Rev. J. J. Hamel of Olean, given for the benefit of the Young Ladies Sodality at the Shattuck Opera House Thursday evening was largely attended. One hundred and thirty very fine stereoscopic views of points of interest in the Holy Land, Egypt and the Orient were presented. The lecture by the reverend Father was a very interesting one and showed that he was familiar with his subject having made several trips there. The singing by Fred Cameron, and the music furnished by Merriman's orchestra was as usual of the highest order.

Perhaps the largest crowd that ever assembled at the Erie railroad station at one time in this city, was the crowd that was there last Sunday evening to see our gallant 47th Company off for duty. Large delegations from Wayland, Canastota, and points on the Allegany division were present. Hornellville turned out en masse to do honor to the occasion and show the young men of the company the esteem in which they are held by the citizens. May they all soon return.

Auburn.
It has been years since Auburn turned out as she did Sunday night to give the members of the Second Separate company a rousing send-off on their departure for Hempstead Plains. The N. Y. C depot and the surrounding streets were literally packed with probably the noisiest yet the most good natured crowd that ever attended any kind of an event in Auburn. The boys were cheered and cheered. Bands, drum corps, fireworks, and in fact, every possible demonstration of patriotic approval was made, and which certainly must have swelled the hearts of the departing heroes with pride. Tears filled many eyes, for the occasion was saddening for many an aching heart, yet, all in all, the parting was borne with a resignation that showed a sincere patriotism.

A mass meeting was held in the Curtis Opera House Saturday evening, prior to the departure of the citizen soldiers to the front, and expressions, resolutions, etc., were adopted looking to a permanent organization of 15 of Auburn's representative men, whose duty it will be to receive subscriptions, and with such funds care for the wives and families of the boys who are away from home. Thus, from a financial point, the families of the boys will be well cared for.

On Friday afternoon last occurred the death of Ella A. O'Neill, wife of Dennis Sweeney and a daughter of ex Alderman O'Neill. The deceased had been in poor health for a number of months, and had borne her severe illness with a resignation and Christian fortitude that bespoke the amiable qualities she possessed. A particularly sad incident in connection with Mrs. Sweeney's death is the critical condition of her baby boy, who is lying in the city hospital, having undergone a severe operation, which made it impossible for the mother to have her child with her in her struggle with life. Mrs. Sweeney leaves also one brother and two sisters, who will have the sympathy of the community in their loss. The funeral was held from the Holy Family church Monday morning, and the burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The opening of the month of May was observed in a befitting manner at St. Mary's church Sunday night. A procession formed in the chapel in the basement of the church and proceeded around to the front of the edifice entering the main door, and with appropriate music and hymns marched through the brilliantly illuminated and decorated interior. First came 50 altar boys acting as an escort to Rev. J. Gibbons, who conducted the ceremonies, and then came the Children of Mary and Young Ladies' Sodality, 600 strong, dressed in white and wearing white veils, all of which made a pleasing and inspiring sight. Father Gibbons delivered a sermon on the occasion, and the observance was concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Geneva.
Sunday May 1, 1897, will ever be remembered as the greatest day in the history of Geneva, for at 7:30 p. m. 84 of our brave citizens left for Hempstead L. I., promptly answering their country's call. Combine the celebrations of all the holidays of the year into one vast demonstration and you will understand the magnitude of the send-off given to the gallant Thirty Fourth. At 10 o'clock the soldiers gathered at the armory for inspection and drill probably the last some of them will take part in. At 11 o'clock the bugles sounded the assembly. The final "good-byes and God bless you" were given, and the soldiers taking their knapsacks and rifles, fell in rear of the large parade as it passed the armory. No doubt the school children and firemen and other companies in line presented a fine appearance, but few noticed them, for all eyes were straining to catch a last glimpse of the soldiers as they passed by.
At the depot fully 10,000 people were packed in the smallest possible space. Everyone crowded around the cars, trying to shake hands with the brave lads before they left. At 7:30 sharp the train began to move out and a final cheer was given as it pulled out. Cannon roared, whistles tooted and fireworks illuminated the sky as the train disappeared.

At the Opera House, in the afternoon, a large crowd listened to patriotic addresses and at the close of the meeting unanimously adopted the following resolution.
Whereas, It is stated that some of our citizen soldiers, who have so promptly answered their country's call, are leaving dependent families.
Resolved, That a committee of twelve citizens shall be appointed by the president of this meeting, charged with the duty of informing themselves of those left dependent, and of providing requisite assistance to all such as may need it.

Resolved, That in parting with our citizen soldiers, they carry with them the pledge of this meeting of citizens to care for those loved ones who are left behind.

The following gentlemen constitute the committee of twelve: Charles N. Hemmip, David M. Henry, William J. Moore, D. W. Hallebeck, Stephen Hopkins, L. W. Keyes, Daniel E. Moore, A. L. Chew, William Smith, H. C. Schroeder, Frank C. Hoffman and Thomas A. Kane.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless this inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for anyone of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
