Throw Away Your Truss.

Trusses are more dangerous than ruptures. Egg-shaped pads and severe trusses pressure fill 25,000 graves yearly in America alone. The unusual pressure of the truss obstructs circulation and respiration, causes tumors, abscesses, spinal, nervous, brain, uterine and other serious or fatal diseases.

It is rarely the fault of children, they can't help it, because they are too young to exercise the will power of a grown person to arise out of a sleep when troubled with Irritable Bladder or weak Kidneys. Parents can help and prevent it, so they tell us in their letters, because it can be

How the Japanese Sleep. When night comes, beds are prepared. Bedding is brought out from the closets, where it has been put away during the day. One or two large thick futons, or cushions are spread directly on the mats of bed-rooms, and coverings which look like enormous kimono or clothes are spread over them. Every traveler has told of the pillow made of a wooden box, with a little cylindrical cushion on the top, but this kind of pillow is going out of fashion. Softer cylindrical pillows, made by stuffing a cloth bag with seeds of buckwheat, are now more commonly used. In the summer it is necessary to have mosquito nets, which generally inclose the whole room. As a rule Japanese families retire early. Ten o'clock is about the average time. A function that begins at nine or ten and lasts till the small hours of the morning fairly staggers the Japanese. "Why," they say, "even ghosts, who are some fifteen feet high, retire by that hour."

Questions For the Curious. Why shouldn't a rope learn something when it is taut? Why isn't a girl's figure her fortune instead of her face? Why isn't the false bang on a lady's forehead a dead-lock? Why does the college year have its commencement at the end? Why is the average doctor seldom inclined to leave well enough alone? Why do they say streams run dry when everybody knows they run wet when they do run?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has pronounced catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

No Map of the United States.

"The school children of the Bermudas know nothing of American history," says a New York woman who has just returned from Hamilton. "One day I stopped and talked with a bright little colored boy on the street. The Bermuda negro, you know, is superior in intelligence to the Southern negro of this country. He has neither the thick lips nor the flat nose of our American negro. His superiority is accounted for by the fact that he has in his veins the blood of the Indians captured in King Philip's war and taken as slaves to the Bermudas." "Do you go to school?" I asked the boy. "Yes'em." "Who owns these islands?" "England." "Who rules England?" "Queen Victoria." "Where are the United States?" "South of Canada." "And do you know who is President of the United States?" "Yes'em; George Washington." "When I had visited one of the little schools at Hamilton I did not wonder that Washington was the only American President the boy had heard of. On the walls were maps of every important country in the world but our own, and I found that the teachers said a little of the United States as they went."
