What Our Friends in the Surrounding Parishes are Doing.

From Our Special Correspondents. (Continued from 7th page.)

OUR AGENT,

Mr. A. Herman, will call on all subscribers in Fairport, Palmyra, Newark, Lyons, Clyde, Port Byron, Weedsport and Auburn, and will be pleased to take their order for the bishop's picture. This is the only opportunity they will have of securing the picture, as we have a new premium next year. He will also call on subscribers who are in arrears.

Auburn.

A. Herman, the JOURNAL's traveling representative, arrived in Auburn Wednesday morning, prepared to canvass the city. Mr. Herman says he will be amongst us for some time as he intends calling on every Catholic family in the city. As an inducement to new subscribers the magnificent portrait of the Right Reverend Bishop is something that would be hard to equal. This is a picture which should occupy a prominent place in the household of every Catholic family in the diocese.

Dr. Thomas J. Arundel of Youngstown, Ohio, was in the city for a short stay this week. Dr. Arundel is a former Auburn boy and his father, frequent visits to M. D. became attached to his name, are always welcome. The doctor was "raised" in Auburn and for several years was the Auburn Bulletin's society reporter. He left the employ of that paper to study medicine and upon receiving his diploma went to Youngstown where he has since resided, building up a deserved practice. Dr. Arundel paid his respects to many of Auburn's Knights of Columbus. It seems that he became one of the charter members of the Youngstown council, by the way, the first council instituted in Ohio, soon after locating there. The doctor looks as healthy and good natured as ever.

Labor Day promises to be an eventful one in Auburn, judging from the bustling manner in which the various labor organizations have been striving to make the occasion one that it should be. A mammoth parade, athletic and bicycle, appropriate literary and musical exercises will fill up the day's program and each promises to be full and complete in itself. The popular Michael R. McCarlin, has been chosen as grand marshal of the parade and his conduct of that leading feature will surely be of the best.

The improvements to the Holy Family church are fast nearing completion. The towers on either side of the edifice have been erected to their proper height, and the large vaulted choir built on the rear of the church. A deal of work in the shape of painting and smaller repairs is yet to be done.

St. Mary's church property has been beautified to a considerable extent the past summer and now the vast repairs are about completed. For weeks painters have been busy about the property repainting every particle of woodwork and other portions which required attention. A vast amount of scaffolding had to be built to reach all portions particularly the immense stained glass windows on the west side of the building. It will be remembered the terrific hail storm of last July played havoc with the unprotected windows in this part of the church and days of labor were required to repair this damage. A new glass protection was placed outside of the stained glass itself and outside of these outer glass windows a fine wire screen has been placed as an extra precaution. The school house has also been entirely repainted a shade of buff which makes the large building look more prominent and noticeable. The interior sanitary arrangements of the school have undergone a decided change. New appliances and drainage have been placed in the building making it from a sanitary point of view, one of the best school buildings in the city.

Many dollars have been expended on these repairs and improvements but the people of St. Mary's feel that the expenditures was a needed and judicious one.

The neighbors came to the rescue and upon entering the building found Mrs. Devlin lying on the floor of her bedroom in a helpless condition. They carried her out, when it was discovered that she was dead, having been suffocated by the smoke. The origin of the fire is a mystery which no one seems able to solve. Mrs. Devlin was alone in the home, her son Matthew and his wife, with whom she lived, being in Waterloo at the time of the fire. Her age was 62 years and she is survived by five sons and two daughters. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church Saturday at 9 o'clock, the Rev. Father Dwyer officiating.

The Misses M. Agnes and Louise Murphy gave a very delightful dance at their home on West Clinton street last evening.

Last Sunday was a proud and memorable day for Rev. Father O'Dwyer, the beloved pastor of St. Mary's and his faithful congregation as well, it being the "Dedication day" of the new convent and school recently completed. At the 10.30 mass the Bishop delivered an eloquent sermon. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the mass palms and flowers of all varieties adorning the altar and sanctuary, while a temporary throne was erected, for the distinguished prelate. At 3.30 p. m. the blessing of the buildings took place, which ceremony was witnessed by a vast multitude of people. After the Bishop had visited each of the buildings, accompanied by the city clergy, he delivered a discourse in the church, talking for his subject, "Catholic Schools, of the Proper Education and Instruction of Catholic Children." The ceremonies concluded with Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament.

Special music was rendered at both morning and afternoon services, the choir of St. Mary's being augmented by singers from the other churches. The beautiful new buildings which form a part of St. Mary's church property, are of the most modern style of architecture, complete in all details, and take rank among the many fine educational structures for which our city is justly famous. The Sisters of St. Joseph will have charge of the school, starting in with a corps of ten, and a most successful school year is anticipated.

Hereafter, commencing to-morrow, early mass, which was held at 7 o'clock, will be at the usual hour, 7.30 o'clock. On Thursday evening last at 7 o'clock occurred the sad death of Roger Hawkins, oldest son of Thomas Hawkins, aged about 15 years. Little Roger's death is unusually sad, and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved parent, who seems to be suffering from more than his share of trouble. Less than six short weeks ago death claimed his loving and affectionate wife, and now he is called upon to mourn the loss of his son. Roger was a young man who was highly respected by hosts of friends in Geneva and throughout and his death will be mourned by numerous people outside the family circle. Of a kind and affectionate disposition, he won friends wherever he went who sympathized with the bereaved parent in his sad affliction. Besides his father he leaves one brother and five sisters to mourn their loss. His floral contributions were pretty, and consisted of many pieces and bouquets, especially a handsome pillow from H. A. Tobrest with the word "Roger" on it. Funeral services were held from St. Francis de Sales church on Saturday morning at nine o'clock, Rev. Fr. McDonald officiating, and were very largely attended. The following acted as bearers and pall bearers: Fred Brushes, John Grodon, William Hickey, Stephen Sweeney, Howard Sweeney, Tom Bowne, James Murray, John Rowe, Charles Kelly, John McDonald, Stephen Bergman and Matthew Higgins.
