Interesting Budget of Happenings Gathered by Our City Reporters

ST BRIDGET'S

Rev. John Salter of New York spent a few days at the rectory. He was a classmate of Father Hendrick.

An anniversary requiem mass was celebrated last Monday for the repose of the soul of Father Stewart.

M. D. Saury, brother-in-law of Mrs. K. J. Dowling, died at Otter Creek, Pa., his death occurring one week from the death of his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murray of North St. Paul street have been called upon by the hand of death to part with their little daughter Camilla, aged two years.

Corporal Wm. Lennon, son of Bernard Lennon, is spending the time of his furlough with his parents. He is a member of the 65th regiment of Buffalo. The regiment expects to be mustered out of service soon.

Miss Clara Connell has returned from an extended visit to New York and presided at the organ last Sunday.

Sister Leander has recovered from her serious illness and has assumed her duties at the school.

L. L. Grombacher of Chicago, representing the Drapato Statuary company of that city, was in town this week. He received an order from Father Hendrick for some handsome brass candlesticks for St. Anthony's shrine. Our beautiful statue of St. Anthony was purchased from this firm.

The confessional on the east side of the church has been removed near the front entrance, leaving another niche to be supplied with an altar and a statue. Who will start the good work in honor of St. Joseph?

Rev. Wm. Riley of Brooklyn, classmate of Father Bresnahan, paid a visit to the rectory this week.

Miss Margaret Rauber is a pupil of the Sacred Heart convent this year.

Mrs. M. Scanlin of Prince street has gone to St. Paul, Minn., to visit her sister, Mrs. J. Lipe.

The school opened with 423 pupils in attendance. Sister Euphrasia, we are pleased to say, is again in charge.

The devout Children of Mary will compassionate with her on the feast of her Seven Dolors, which occurs next Sunday.

Frederick Rauber will return to Cornell this week to continue his study in law.

Mrs. K. J. Dowling, president of the Cardinal Newman Reading circle, has been invited to lecture before the Columbian Reading circle during the coming winter.

An exquisite antependium of white billiard cloth is being embroidered by the Sisters of the Visitation at Wilmington, Del., through the kindness of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart, a gift to Father Hendrick.

The sympathy of the congregation is extended to Miss Fanny Moran, leader of the choir, in her bereavement, the death of her father.

The interior decorations of the church were commenced this week. New arches will be built over the side altars by John Heveron, with skylights containing handsomely painted glass windows. The color scheme is terra cotta, and this branch of the work will be done by Leon Lempert. The scene of the crucifixion will be painted above the high altar. The church will probably be lighted with electricity. It is expected the work will be completed by Oct. 1st. Mass, on week days, will be celebrated in the little chapel on the west side of the church, while the improvements are in progress.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Miss Carrie Ward, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Ward of No. 245 Adams street, and John McHugh were married in this church Monday morning. Rev. William Gleason performed the ceremony. Only a few of the immediate friends of the couple were present. The bride wore gray silk trimmed with white silk braid, with hat to match. The bridesmaid was Miss Fannie Callahan, who wore white silk. Alderman William Ward was best man. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McHugh left on a trip to the Adirondacks, Boston and New York. They will reside at No. 137 1/2 Reynolds street.

Our parochial school re-opened on Monday morning, over 900 pupils being registered.

Miss Adelaide O'Brien of Mason street has returned to the Brockport Normal school.

Miss Grace McKitterick of Gregg street is continuing her studies at the Albany Normal college.

Miss Kate Mulryan of Plymouth avenue returned this week to the Genesee Normal school.

Misses Helen Reilly of Tremont street and Gertrude Hughes of Adams street will return to Loretto Abbey, Canada.

Miss Elizabeth Ford of Glasgow street will attend La Salle Academy near Boston, this year.

The patriotism of the members of this congregation is well demonstrated in the fact that no Catholic church in the city was as well represented in the late war, eighteen of her members being enrolled either in the infantry or naval departments. During the past week a few were welcomed back, some are yet in service, and one life was sacrificed—that of George Mills, whose pathetic death called forth much heartfelt sympathy. The young men are: Corporal S. F. Reddington, privates Sullivan, J. Mills, O'Laughlin, Tumilty, Partland, Neidert, McSweeney, Shearer, Sweeney, H. Major, A. Major, Shea, Hughes, Ford, Hennessey.

This parish is well represented in both of our seminaries. Messrs. John Doran and Herbert Caring grace St. Bernard's, while in St. Andrew's are Messrs. George Jones, Robert Henry, Angelo Newman, William Connaughton, George Fox, Thomas Sullivan, William McPadden and James Hawken. The last five are members of the class of '98. Fathers Hughes, Gommenginger and Connors are also immaculate boys.

HOLY ROSARY

John Carey died on Friday, Sept. 9th. The funeral took place from his late residence, 288 Fulton avenue, and from the church Monday at 9.30 a. m. WILLIAM MORAN DEAD.

William Moran, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Rochester, died at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at St. Mary's hospital, whither he was taken from his residence in Ambrose street a few weeks ago for surgical treatment of a complication of organic diseases which eventuated fatally.

Mr. Moran was born in the city of Dublin, Ireland, 72 years ago, and came when an infant to New York with his parents who soon afterward removed to Rochester where he had resided since, over sixty years. When a young man he was engaged with the old firm, long since passed away, of Cheney, Hunter & Rowe, stove dealers and tin and copper smiths in Exchange street. He followed that business afterward through life on his own account, first in State and then in West Main street. He was a modest, unassuming, genial gentleman—a friend of everybody and everybody his friend. Aside from his business calling he was enthusiastically devoted to music, and fifty years ago was instrumental in inducing the late Prof. Holloway of Boston to come to Rochester and engage in music teaching, and incidentally organize what was very popular in its day, "Holloway's Band," of which he was a member. He was for many years leader of the choir in St. Patrick's church, and afterward of St. Mary's church, when the finest music of the masters was rendered by the best local talent, and president of the old St. Cecilia society, a musical organization that gave many public entertainments for charitable and religious objects, as well as affording its members opportunity for culture. The death of William Moran will be sincerely mourned by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Deceased leaves a widow and five children—William J. Moran of New York, Mrs. George R. English of Chicago, and Mrs. Charles E. Cunningham and Misses Frances A. and Catherine G. Moran of this city, and ten grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the family residence, No. 115 Ambrose street at 8.30 o'clock Thursday morning and services were held at St. Patrick's cathedral at 9 o'clock. The attendance was very large showing the high esteem in which Mr. Moran was one of the oldest residents and business men in the city was held.

Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, pastor, of the cathedral was celebrant of the mass, with Rev. A. A. Hughes as deacon, and Rev. George V. Burns as sub-deacon. Rt. Rev. H. De Regge was master of ceremonies and gave the last absolution. The following were in the sanctuary: Revs. T. A. Hendrick, J. W. Hendrick, E. J. Hanna, D. D., J. J. Brennan, J. J. Hartley, J. P. Kiernan. The choir under the leadership of Prof. Eugene Bonn sang the music of the mass. The honorary bearers were: A. B. Hone, T. J. Devine, R. Whalen, F. Hickey, T. J. Keeler, George J. Oaks, Jas. Fee, Inc. Fahy, W. C. Barry, Dr. J. W. Casey. The active bearers were Joseph McLean, Pierre Purcell, John C. Fee, J. C. Connolly, John Connors and C. J. Malloy.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

The tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Lee was celebrated at their home, 8 Warehouse street, on Saturday evening last. The several societies to which Mr. and Mrs. Lee belong responded in a noble manner to show the esteem in which they were held. Beautiful and serviceable presents were given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Red Men being especially in evidence, and in turn Mr. and Mrs. Lee did not forget them in their elaborate decorations, the centre piece of the table being a raised embankment of flowers bearing the letters "A. O. H.," and the corners in red, white and blue astors and roses, each corner with "C. M. B. A." and "I. O. R. M.," and encircling the canopy, in bold letters, with electric effects, "Company A, Hibernian Rifles." Each of those organizations had delegations present to offer congratulations to their comrade and brother: Mr. and Mrs. John Attridge from the I. O. R. M.; Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Brawler and Mr. and Mrs. Miller from the A. O. H.; Messrs. Daniel Slattery, T. Frowley and John Pardue from Company A, Hibernian Rifles, J. L. McGinnis, Sergeant M. J. Connors, Corporal W. O'Brien and Charles Shatzel. Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bisig, Miss Alice Kelly and M. Thos. Binamon. The presents were numerous, the reception room presenting the appearance of a tin shop, with a good mixture of silver, each bearing its motto, one of which is worthy of reproduction:

"I wish, where'er you both dwell,
May happiness be your lot;
And may friendship, like joy,
Encircle your cot."

With many more equally good. The assembled guests, to the number of fifty couple, enjoyed themselves in dancing and merry making till a late hour to the strains of a full orchestra, after which they departed, all hoping to be present to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Lee's golden wedding, expressing the old adage—

"May those that are married
True happiness find;
And those that are single
Find wives to their mind."
