Elmira.

Miss Mary F. E. Garroll of West Water street is home from a visit of several weeks with Meadville friends. Mrs. Thomas Maloney and Miss Maloney of Pittston, were guests at the residence of J. D. Horgan, on John street, during the week. Mrs. Frank Dennis and sister Miss Katharine Sennott of Binghamton, have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Shannon of Davis street. Mrs. B. T. Fitzgerald went to New York Sunday. Edward Horgan attended the Stanton-Kennedy wedding at Buffalo, Wednesday, leaving that city Thursday for a month's western trip, during which time he will visit Chicago, Minneapolis and Omaha. Dan P. Murphy left for Buffalo Sunday to enter the Medical Department of Buffalo University. Miss Helen Curtin of West Clinton street went to Toronto Monday, where she will attend school at "The Abbey". Miss May Rutledge of Saranac, is visiting friends in town. The tragic death of young William Lucy, an elevator boy at the Langwell, last Sunday evening was an overwhelming shock to the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lucy of East Market street, and to friends throughout the city. The young life thus crushed out without a moment's warning, caused expressions of deepest sorrow on all sides, and the popularity of the young lad was evinced by the immense gathering of friends who assembled at St. Peter and Paul's church on Tuesday morning, when the funeral services were held, Rev. Father Long officiating. The remains were encased in a delicate casket and borne by six companions of the deceased. Beautifully appropriate music was rendered by the choir, Martin L. Milan presiding at the organ, and singing an effective solo during the mass. The interment was in St. Peter and Paul's cemetery. The John B. Stanfield Club of this city will journey to the Syracuse Convention Sept. 27th, in a special train, accompanied by the famous Alliance Band. The enthusiastic and thrilling scenes enacted in this city on the evening of May 1st, when the gallant 30th Separate Company (Company L-Third Regiment) marched forth in response to the nation's call were in a part repeated last Tuesday morning, beginning with the early dawn, when our soldier boys were welcomed back home, with such substantial ardor as has seldom if ever, been witnessed in this city. The entire Third Regiment "laid over" in Elmira, for about two hours, and for the first time since '65, Elmira was privileged to enjoy the sight of a "whole regiment of soldiers" marching through its streets. The various companies composing the regiment arrived in different sections, the first reaching Elmira shortly after seven o'clock, and despite the fact that a heavy fog prevailed, and the atmosphere was decidedly wintry, large crowds of people assembled at the Union Station, to greet the returning soldiers, and by the time "Company L" reached the station, a solid mass of humanity walled the railroad tracks, and stopped traffic on Railroad avenue from the depot to Second street. The justly famous Alliance Band of Corning once more came to the front, and donated its service for the occasion, while the 30th Separate Co., acted as escort to the Regiment. Arrangements were made to feed the men and besides of kindly disposed ladies provided a nourishing breakfast for the hungry soldiers. The Regiment complete formed for parade north of the Union Station, and under the command of Elmira's own Colonel Hoffman, marched through the principal streets of the city, to the armory on East church street. The line of March was gorgeously decorated with American flags and bunting, while "day fireworks" were sent up at different points; the big bell on the Central fire station tolled out its sonorous sounds, while factory whistles shrieked for joy, all telling the glad tidings that our boys were home again. To the music of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" the soldiers wended their way through the human avenues, all returning to the station, where the companies were dismissed and assigned to the various trains which carried them to their homes. After the last company had departed the Elmira company were returned to the armory and relieved of their equipments. The heartrending scenes prevalent at the time of the boys' departure were quite overshadowed by the glad and joyous happenings which took place on Tuesday morning last; each vied with the other to do homage to the gallant soldiers, and while our 30th boys had not seen actual service, all were as proud of them as if Santiago had been theirs. To the throngs at the station, thousands of pieces of hardtack was distributed by the soldiers, and "Please sign your name" was the cry on all sides, as the men good naturedly affixed their autographs to the much coveted pieces of "tack" which left the soldiers hands with no reluctance. All honor and glory to men, who, when duty called them, went forth, knowing not who would return, forsaking wives, mothers and sweethearts, their business and all, responding to the call "To arms" ready and eager to fight for the honor of our glorious country. "Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just, And this be our motto, "In God is our trust." And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Two interesting and admirably acted performances of the drama, "The Irish Patriot" were given at St. Mary's beautiful new auditorium on Monday and Tuesday evenings, large and splendid audiences witnessing the well-directed efforts of several Elmira Amateurs. The production was noticeable for its absence of the customary drawbacks of amateur effort, and the professional artists who coached the cast, Mr. and Mrs. Peary of Chicago, are to be congratulated upon the success of the performances. The cast was made up of the following young ladies and gentlemen: Misses Isabelle Ross, May Lundy, Rose Berry, Misses George Rickwede, C. E. Maloney, Thomas Reynolds, Gilbert Devine, Fredrick Berry and George Sanbury. St. Peter and Paul's new organist and choir director, Martin L. Milan, presided at last Sunday's services, acquitting himself in a praiseworthy manner. Mr. Milan treated the congregation at the 10.30 service to two organs, solo, displaying unusual skill for the kind of instrument. St. Mary's church was the scene of a service on Wednesday morning, when the Rev. Father O'Dwyer united in marriage Miss Nellie Barnett of Fulton street and John H. Sullivan, the well known merchant tailor. Miss Mary Barnett, the bride's sister was maid of honor, while Charles Sullivan, a brother of the groom acted as best man. The sweet young bride was gowned in cadet blue, while her maid wore a costume of darker color. Both wore hats. After the church ceremony a wedding dinner was served to relatives of the newly wedded pair. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left at noon for an eastern tour, and will subsequently reside at 10-8 Fulton street. A delightful company was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Milan of Lake street, Tuesday evening, the guests of honor being Miss Nellie Keane of Binghamton and Miss Maude Buckley of Syracuse. Music and dancing were the principal features of entertainment. Miss Genevieve Kennedy of Binghamton, is spending several weeks in town. The popular Father Matthew Society will shortly inaugurate the winter social season with one of their dancing parties, which have heretofore proved so enjoyable. The Agnes Herndon Company are attracting large audiences nightly at the Lyceum. The season was opened at the Globe Theatre Thursday evening, when a goodly sized audience witnessed the rural play, "Back on the Farm". After some postponement the long anticipated installation of Williamsport Council, Knights of Columbus, occurred last Sunday. The ceremony was the Pennsylvania Railroad carried the Elmira Knights, arriving at the "Lumber City" shortly after noon. The degree work was carried on during the afternoon and evening, at the conclusion of which the new council entertained their visiting brethren at a banquet at the Park Hotel. Williamsport council starts off with a membership of 85 and prospects are brilliant for a useful and elevating organization in that city. Delegations of Knights were present from Philadelphia, Washington, Wilkes-Barre, Hornellsville, Corning, Geneva, Waverly, Penn Yan, Watkins and Elmira. Elmira officers participated in the degree work and the music was in charge of Edward Horgan, organist of that council. The Elmira Knights and visitors from this section returned to this city about midnight.

Corning. Misses Mary German and Rosella Whitbeck visited at the residence of T. J. Sullivan last week. More than three hundred people went to Elmira, on Saturday last with the Red Men. John Valley, a glass cutter, and estimable young man, left last week for Toledo, O., where he will work in Libbey's glass works. Very successful our new parochial school seems destined to become. The school house is crowded to overflowing and new rooms are being hastily fitted up to accommodate the young Catholics. There are nine rooms and the registered number of pupils is something over 500. This is gratifying and as it should be. It makes life brighter to reflect that this school is going to educate and send into the world groups of young people who will not only be right in their lives and the faith but will be able to reason and convince others in the common sense, the beauty, the loftiness of their convictions. To generously support such a school is to set the past of a true philanthropist. A very pretty wedding occurred on Wednesday the 7th inst, when Charles J. Carroll and Mary Valley were united in matrimony. A rapturous high mass was celebrated by Rev. J. M. Bustin and was largely attended by friends of the young couple. Mr. John Valley was best man and Miss Doris Richards was bridesmaid. After the ceremony an elegant wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and the happy young couple then left on a trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Both young people are well known here and have hosts of friends who extend heartfelt congratulations. Miss Belle Leddy of Rochester, has been visiting friends in the city. Joseph McAlpine who has been in Boston for about a year has returned to the city and his friends are pleased to know that he is to remain. Joe did well while in the city of culture but decided to come back to the city of crystal. He has accepted a position with E. H. Gray. A very sad death occurred on Saturday night when Mrs. William Kelly of this city passed away. While her death was not unexpected as she has been in poor health for some time it comes nevertheless, as a shock to her numerous friends who have known her sufficiently well to appreciate her many excellent qualities and the beauty of her character. She was formerly Miss Mary Looney of Elmira, and was about twenty-eight years of age. She leaves besides her husband, a father two sisters and a brother to mourn her loss.

Hornellsville. Messrs W. R. Cullen and E. M. Bonas started Monday for a drive through the country to Canton, Pa. Company K, Third New York Regiment, of this city, were given a grand reception on their arrival home from camp Tuesday. The train bearing the company arrived about noon and was met at the depot by about the whole population of the city and surrounding towns, and a parade formed on Lloyd street headed by the Hornell band, Mayor Rathbone and reception committee, the G. A. R., 147th Separate company, Hornellsville fire department and students of the High school, marched through the principal streets to the armory, where dinner was served by the ladies. The business places along the line of march were decorated, and a large banner extended across Main street represented the Maple City as the figure of Columbus crowning the members of Co. A with a laurel wreath. A large crowd of people followed the parade to the armory, all anxious to meet the boys, and a great many sad faces could be seen among the number, not finding the one they were looking for, as some thirty had been left behind sick in the different hospitals. Co. K, although not seeing any battle (which was not their fault) is composed of some of Hornellsville's best young men, and the people of the Maple City are proud of them.

The marriage of John M. Lally of Detroit and Miss Mary Cecelia Cameron, daughter of our well known townsman, Joseph Cameron, was celebrated Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The ceremony with solemn high mass performed in St. Ann's church with Father Barlow as celebrant, Father Darcy of Addison, deacon and Father Farrell sub-deacon. Steinway, Ivers & Pond, Sterling, Crown and Other High Grade

PIANOS

The Old House Established 1860. J. W. Martin & Bro.

Do Not Experiment

With new named Pianos that are unknown and equally uncertain qualities—the dealer who does his trade will suffer the consequences. Somebody's got to pay for mistakes.

When we offer you Steinway, Ivers & Pond, Crown, Sterling, Kurtzman, Stultz & Bauer Pianos, famous all over this country, at prices you cannot match, what more do you want?

The best Piano business in Rochester is ours. Why? Because we sell reliable Pianos.

We are the only Music House in Rochester that does not sell Stenciled Pianos. The line of Pianos we represent and our unparalleled success has no doubt worried other dealers. It has come to a denial that some persons think we are connected with another firm of similar name. We desire to most emphatically deny it and to ask the public not to confound the old firm with the one next door to us. See that the sign reads J. W. MARTIN & BRO. Look for the drum above the door.

The shrewd buyer who is willing to profit by a sensible suggestion will buy Pianos that bear time honored names. Better buy a slightly used Piano of a reliable make than a cheap Stenciled Piano made to sell at a low price.

Bargains for This Week.

Table listing piano models and prices: Weber Grand, good as new, perfect condition $450; D. S. Fry & Co. $140; Sohmer Grand, perfect condition, taken in exchange for Crown Orchestral Piano $400; Chickering Square $25; Stulz & Bauer $175; Emerson Square $20; Haines Bros $150; 5 good High-Top Organs, from $15 to $30; Aeolians, to close them out, little more than half-price.
